U. S. BARS ALIEN WHO REFUSES TO FIGHT IF NEEDED

Supreme Court Rules Out Macintosh.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—Foreigners seeking American citizenship can [illegible] about taking up arms for [illegible] opted [illegible] in time of war, the United States Supreme court ruled today in an opinion which divided its membership [illegible] to four.

JUSTICE GEORGE SUTHERLAND. (Harris & Ewing Photo.)

The decision [illegible] denied the [illegible] of naturalization to Douglas C. Macintosh, professor of theology at the Yale divinity school, and to Miss Marie Averil Bland, both of whom are Canadians, both of whom saw wartime service in France, the former as chaplain and Y. M. C. A. secretary, the latter as nurse, and both of whom refused to take the oath of allegiance without explaining their obligations to bear arms.

Congress to Pass on Exemption.

Applying in effect to advocates who have argued that an oath to bear arms should not be required of applicants for citizenship when native born citizens might properly entertain such scruples, Judge Sutherland's opinion explained that a citizen's right to exercise his scruples in war time and so win exemption from military service was dependent, not upon an inherent constitutional right to do so, but upon the will of congress to let him do it.

Chief Justice Hughes admitted the war power of congress and the right of congress to require an unqualified oath to fight in time of war, but held that no such express requirement was contained in the naturalization statute and that to construe the statute as containing such a requirement was opposed to the American spirit and the history of congressional legislation in past emergencies. He pointed out that the oath of allegiance required of an applicant for citizenship was identical with that taken by federal employes when entering office.

How Ruling Originated.

Prof. Macintosh was denied naturalization by the federal district court for Connecticut on the ground that he "would not promise in advance to bear arms in defense of the United States unless he believed the war to be morally justified, he not being attached to the principles of the constitution."

Justice Sutherland held that the [illegible] came within the principle laid down in the case of Rosika Schwimmer, pacifist leader, who was denied citizenship on virtually the same grounds.

He declared the broad omnipotent war power granted congress by the constitution, saying: "From its very nature, the war power, when necessity arises for its exercise, tolerates no limitations or limitations unless found in the constitution or in applicable principles of international law."

Answers "Conscience" Plea.

"The conscientious objector," Justice Sutherland added, "is relieved from his obligation to bear arms in obedience to no constitutional provision, express or implied; but because, and only because, it has accorded with the policy of congress thus to relieve him. . . . When he [Macintosh] speaks of making his allegiance to the will of congress as his allegiance to the government, it is evident, in the light of his entire statement, that he means to make his own interpretation of the will of congress the decisive test which shall control the government and stay its hand. We are a Christian people, according to one another the equal right of religious freedom, and acknowledging with reverence the duty of obedience to the will of God. But, we are a nation with the duty to survive, a nation whose constitution contemplates war as well as peace. The government must go forward upon the assumption, and safely can proceed upon no other, that unqualified allegiance to the nation and submission and obedience to the laws of the land, so well to those made for war as to those made for peace, are not inconsistent with the will of God."

The case of Miss Bland was disposed of in a separate opinion, but under the same rulings, both as to majority and dissenting opinion.

PARTY LEADERS ARGUE HOTLY ON REVENUE LAWS

Finally Unload Job on Legislators.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Democratic county central committee failed to take affirmative action yesterday on Mayor Cermak's specific request for indorsement of house bill No. 28—described as "the only hope of getting money to pay the teachers, nurses, policemen, firemen and other public employes."

T. J. O'GRADY.

So much opposition was manifested against bill No. 28, which would consolidate the county's tax assessing machinery, that a roll call was not asked. To let the mayor down easy, after considerable wise cracking and sharp shooting at his advisory commission, the Democrats in secret and noisy session at the Hotel Sherman appointed two committees "to handle the situation," as one leader phrased it. This was at the suggestion of State Representative Thomas J. O'Grady [4th district], who is also a city alderman.

Revision Is Proposed.

O'Grady suggested that Minority Leader Michael Igoe [5th district] of the house and Minority Leader Thomas J. Courtney [11th district] of the senate appoint committees to revise house bill No. 28 and also to prepare another bill which will "put teeth in the personal property tax law."

Igoe appointed as his committee: Representatives Thomas J. O'Brien, James P. Boyle of Chicago, and Michael F. Hennebry of Wilmington. Courtney selected Senators R. V. Graham, John Broderick, and Patrick J. Carroll, all of Chicago. This double quartet with Mayor Cermak and Corporation Counsel Busch started work yesterday afternoon.

House bill No. 28 seeks to abolish the elective board of assessors and board of review and the 30 town assessors, and substitute a board of assessment and revision of three members appointed by the county board.

Committees Take Action.

The two committees appointed at the conference met later and voted to indorse the program of the central committee. They favored legislation to abolish town collectors, also to strengthen the personal property tax law, by requiring a schedule to be filed by every owner under oath, with a severe penalty for perjury.

With that program, unless some new ideas are developed later, they will present their plan to the state legislature. Judging from the speeches made at the Democratic county committee meeting, many of the 50 ward leaders will not be aggressively working for the program.

After Cermak had made his speech, Corporation Counsel Busch followed with an explanation of the taxing machinery which the mayor's advisory commission had recommended.

Moran Opens Fire.

Ald. Terence F. Moran was among the first to get the floor.

"You are relying upon the bankers," said Moran to the mayor. "That does not mean anything to me. When the reassessment was in progress we were told that it would add $100,000,000 to the tax valuations. Instead of that prediction coming true, $100,000,000 was cut off the valuations. These bankers would make Jesse James blush."

State Representative Raymond T. O'Keefe asserted that the passage of house bill No. 28 would not relieve the situation.

"Do the bankers promise to supply you with the money the city needs if No. 28 passes?" asked O'Keefe of Busch.

"No, they have not promised how much money they will supply," replied Busch, "but how are you going to get any money unless house bill No. 28 passes?"

Clark Voices Criticism.

A strong attack on Mayor Cermak's program came from Ald. John S. Clark [20th], chairman of the city council finance committee.

"If the gentlemen" (apparently referring to the mayor's advisory com-

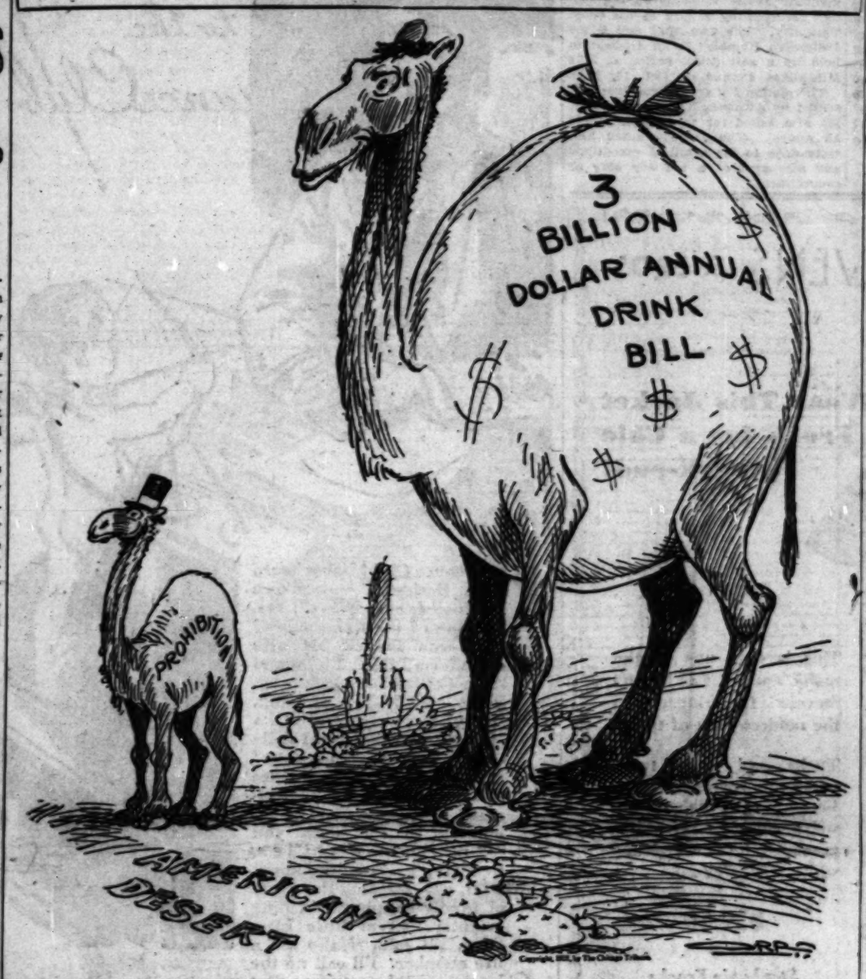
THE CAMEL'S OFFSPRING



NAVY WILL OMIT HOLYSTONING DECK TO SAVE WARSHIPS

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams, in line with the administration's economy program, today issued the following general order to the admirals:

"The use of holystones wears down the decks so rapidly that their repair or replacement has become an item of expense which can not be met under limited appropriations.

"The wooden decks of the new 10,000 ton cruisers are so light that they may be made unserviceable very rapidly by the use of holystones."

A much uniformed and braided line office was heard to mutter that the order would win the votes of the enlisted men if the navy men, who have polished decks with holystones since time immemorial had a vote. And he hummed something which sounded like:

"When I was a lad I served a term
As office boy for an attorney's firm.
I shined the windows and I swept the floor,
And I polished up the handle of the big front door.

I polished up the handle so carefulee,
That now I am ruler of the queen's navee."

But he did not hum it until out of secretarial earshot.

Issues Bench Warrant.

Tonight a bench warrant was issued for Miss Lee's arrest, following complaint by St. John and Reed.

Although Miss Lee has offered no explanation for her invasion of the party, Reed lays it to his refusal to let her accompany him on an outing with their two children. Reed has lived at the home of St. John, play broker and writer, since he and Miss Lee separated.

Under the terms of Miss Lee's interlocutory divorce decree Reed was to see the couple's two children, Celeste, 3, and Dana, 2, each week. Last Sunday he visited Miss Lee's home and requested her to let him take the children on an outing. Miss Lee insisted on accompanying them.

Reed told the city prosecutor that because of his attorney's instructions not to renew friendship with the actress he declined Miss Lee's company and returned to St. John's home alone.

Demands to See Reed.

Ten minutes later, Reed said, Miss Lee appeared on St. John's lawn with the children and shouted a demand to see Reed, who declined to talk to her but again transmitted a request to have the children for an outing.

St. John said, "I tried to calm her and she scratched my face. I hastened inside and she began cracking all of my sixteen French windows with the heel of her slipper."

Police were called and finally persuaded the actress to return home, but only after she is said to have berated Reed, St. John, and other dinner guests.

The guests included Maj. Royes Turner, Mrs. Edith Comer, widow of the racing driver, and her 6 year old son, Fred Comer.

Attorneys for Miss Lee said she would be in court when the case is called.

Walter Howard, 22 years old, 217 South California avenue, arrived at his home at 6 o'clock this morning with three bullet wounds in his back. Police were notified and he was taken to the Bridewell hospital, where it was said he probably would die.

Five hours before a young man had entered Otto's restaurant, 1940 West Madison street, sidled up to the cash register and stole $40. As the robber rushed out Gus Evangelo fired four shots at him, and he left a trail of blood behind. Police said they were confident the robber was young Howard, and Evangelo was sent for in an attempt to identify him.

Beat, Kidnap Guard; Burn Big Dance Hall

Gangsters early this morning kidnaped a caretaker of the Fox Dance pavilion on the east bank of the Fox river, just outside of McHenry, Ill., and beat him up and burned the resort to the ground. Thomas Aylward, the caretaker, was blindfolded and driven to River road and Irving Park boulevard, where he was dumped out. He made his way to the office of Chief of Police Leo Grosch of Schiller Park, where he told his story.

He said that shortly after 2 o'clock two automobiles, each containing four men, all armed, appeared at the dance hall, which was closed. Four of them forced their way into the place, slugged him and beat him up with their guns, blindfolded him with a sheet, tossed him into their machine and speeded away.

Meantime the four men in the other car apparently fired the dance hall, which was owned by Clarence Nelsen. He told Sheriff Edinger of Woodstock that he was confident he knew the identity of the men, but would ascribe no motive for the outrage. Sheriff Edinger believed it was due to rivalry among resort owners in the vicinity.

The dance pavilion, one of the largest and finest in the Fox lake region, was opened only a week ago.

The loss was estimated at $25,000.

Bank Client Errs; Trap 3 as Forgers

Because Ray Furr, 34 years old, of the Hawthorne Arms hotel, 3434 Broadway, forgot that Ontario and Ohio streets are parallel he and two other men, alleged to form one of the most successful forgery combinations in the United States, are locked up at the detective bureau.

J. J. McGARVEY.

According to A. R. Lipitz, chief investigator for the Burns International Detective agency, this trio has victimized ten Chicago banks of more than $50,000 through worthless checks in the last five months. The other two under arrest are J. J. McGarvey, 58 years old, allegedly the accomplished penman of the ring, and William Walker, 39 years old, 6241 Ingleside avenue.

Charges of operating a confidence game, of forgery, and of conspiracy are to be placed against them.

Gets His Streets Mixed.

Lapitz said that Furr went into the Lake Shore Trust and Savings bank on Saturday and opened a small account, using the name Roy Ryan. In filling out a card for the bank's record he stated that he was a salesman and lived at Ontario and Ohio streets. As the bankers knew quite well that Ohio street, which runs along one side of their building, never meets Ontario street, they were justifiably suspicious of "Mr. Ryan."

They asked the Burns agency to investigate, and Lapitz, accompanied by Detective Sergeants Arthur Katt and Ed Waller, took up their vigil at the bank yesterday. Walker appeared with a check for $200, signed with the name Ryan. The teller delayed payment and Walker, crushing the check, tossed it away and left the institution. Lapitz and the detectives followed to Rush and Ohio streets, where they found McGarvey and Furr sitting in an automobile.

Forged Checks Deposited.

Some weeks ago, it is asserted, McGarvey went to the Continental Illinois bank and opened an account under the name of James Norton. Fairly large amounts were deposited and withdrawn at various times. Then "Norton's" account was swelled by checks for $1,800, $1,100, and $1,250, all signed with the name of Harold J. Wise, a retired broker living at one of the Windermere hotels, but at the time in Hololulu.

The signatures were excellent reproductions of Mr. Wise's, and by the time his account was investigated the money had all been taken out of the Norton account. Mr. Wise's friends asserted he had not written such checks and he advised by cable from Hawaii that they were forgeries.

DEFENSE HINTS BRIDE AT PARTY BEAT UP ARLENE

State Demands Chair for Gary Youth.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Valparaiso, Ind., May 25.—[Special.]—Meeting the state's demand that Virgil Kirkland be sent to the electric chair for the rape and murder of Arlene Draves, attorneys for the young defendant, in closing arguments to the jury today, attacked the sincerity of the prosecutor and the reputations of two young women who had testified against Kirkland.

MRS. BERNICE ELSER.

The case is expected to be given to the jury late tomorrow afternoon.

During three hours of oratory on Kirkland's behalf, Attorneys Oscar P. Thiel and John Crumpacker ripped into the story told under oath last week by Mrs. Bernice Elser, who swore she had seen Arlene lying naked and unconscious in the back of a car on that cold night last November when Kirkland and four other young men brought her back to a Gary house party from a trip to a barbecue stand.

Thiel Is Sarcastic.

"They offer you the story of this Mrs. Elser—this wonderfully virtuous young woman, who also claims to have been sober that night," said Thiel, his voice sharp with sarcasm. "She comes to you with the tale of having seen the body of a nude girl in the car on a night as cold as that night was. She admits, mark you, that she had seen her own husband and a co-defendant of Kirkland's, Henry Shirk, around that car.

"And yet, as she says herself, she did nothing—went home quietly without saying a word to any one. The nature of this story convinces me that there's something wrong with Mrs. Elser."

A Dramatic Coup.

Suddenly the lawyer turned from the jury and directed his words straight at the young wife.

"The state produced photographs of bruises on the jaw of the dead Arlene," he recalled. "They would have you believe that Kirkland socked her with his fist. I want the jury to bear in mind that the marks of those bruises correspond almost exactly with the position of the rings Mrs. Elser testified she had on her fingers that night."

Mr. Thiel paused to permit the inference to sink in. Judge Crumpacker, who had been resting his chin on his gavel with eyes closed, looked up sharply. Deputy Prosecutor John Underwood, chief of the state's counsel, continued chewing savagely on a quid of chicle.

Kirkland, in a trim suit of the hue of peach ice cream, straightened bolt upright in his chair, his eyes roving from one juror to another with the intensity of a hypnotist.

Jurymen Drowse On.

Whether the defendant's thought waves reached the jury box seemed doubtful. One juror studied the toes of his shoes. Another studied the chubby cupids on the ceiling, and a third sat with his eyes closed, munching reflectively on a quid of tobacco. None looked in Kirkland's direction.

Having disposed of Mrs. Elser, Thiel landed on another state witness, the waitress, Victoria Leonard, who had testified she saw Kirkland raise a bloody fist in the barbecue stand and remark to his companions, "Boy, I gave her [Arlene] a good one that time."

"I'm not going to accuse the prosecution of dishonorable conduct," he began. "But I do say this testimony has been framed—by whom I don't know. I hardly think you jurors will believe the story of a woman who, by her own statement, is the mother of an illegitimate child and a consort of murderers."

The foundation for this, Mr. Underwood explained later, lay in the fact that the waitress, while still a minor, had been raped by one of her own relatives and, going to Chicago to give birth to her child in seclusion, had lived in a boarding house where a gang of robbers also dwelt.

Mr. Thiel felt it necessary, he told the jury, to explain why Kirkland, when on the witness stand last Friday, had sworn to many intimacies with Arlene and had given details, including an account of a strip poker party in which, he said, Arlene, himself and another couple had taken part about three weeks before the girl's death.

"Time and again," he announced, "you have heard people ask: 'Why blacken the name of the dead?' That was not our purpose in this instance, neither Kirkland's purpose nor the purpose of any of his lawyers."

Didn't Need to Use Force.

"You men know that no human being will take by force what he can get without force." He went on. "And so we had to show you the truth of Kirkland's statement to the police, when, being accused of raping the girl, he said: 'I didn't have to fight her; I knew her for a long time.'"

In dealing with the testimony of Shirk, who turned state's evidence and described a specific act of rape on Kirkland's part during the automobile ride to the barbecue stand, Thiel said that the witness had only testified to a long embrace between the defendant and Arlene.

"If the state is going to claim proof of rape on that kind of evidence," he continued, "they could have prosecuted Strangler Lewis for rape a dozen times in the last few years."

Opening for the defense this morning, Mr. Crumpacker, the son of the presiding judge, consumed an hour and a half of the six hours allotted each side. While his argument seemed more restrained than Mr. Thiel's, he minced no words in discussing the dead girl's character.

Her Will Not Forced.

"She went to the party of her own volition, drank of her own volition, fell of her own volition and died of her own volition," the lawyer asserted. "If Kirkland was a rapist, would she have gone with him for months? Witnesses saw the pair lying on the davenport. Would she have been there against her will? No, gentlemen, she was there because she wanted to be.

"For the alleged rape on the porch," he continued, "I want you to bear in mind that if anything was done against her will all she had to do was holler. There were a dozen people just inside the door."

Mr. Crumpacker here interjected a statement that he "felt sorry for the Draves family and bore them no malice," then he took up the strip poker party of which Kirkland had testified.

"This boy testified that John Churchill and Dorothy Holmes, both witnesses for the state, were the other couple at the party," Mr. Crumpacker said. "I want the state to explain to you why they failed to recall Churchill to the stand to deny participating in that party—if he could.

Offers Own Explanation.

"They can't explain it, but I will," he continued. "Churchill was called in the first place to say he heard Virgil make threats that if Arlene didn't meet his wishes he would beat hell out of her.' He told one lie then, but he refused to tell a second. His conscience bothered him."

Closing the day's arguments this evening, Special Deputy Prosecutor Freund came to the defense of Arlene and Mrs. Elser.

"The defense has tried to make out that poor dead girl a prostitute," he shouted. "They would place the blame on that fine young woman sitting over there beside her husband, Earl Elser."

Turning then to Arlene's father, Charles Draves, who was sitting at the prosecution table, Mr. Freund dropped his voice.

"Let me assure you, Mr. Draves, that this jury will never believe these base charges which the defense flung at your daughter," he said. "I believe I can say for them that they are convinced she died in a heroic struggle to retain her virtue."

JUDGES REFUSE NEW TRIALS TO 3 POLICE KILLERS

White, Public Enemy, Asks Freedom on Bond.

Three slayers of policemen, including William J. [Three Fingered Jack] White, public enemy and labor racketeer, were denied new trials in the Criminal court yesterday. Judge Joseph Sabath overruled a motion for a new trial in behalf of White, who was convicted of the murder of Policeman Edward Pfiaume of Forest Park, and Judge Charles A. Williams refused a new trial to John Senew and Walter [Doc] Evenow, found guilty of the murder of Policeman William Rumbler.

White appeared in court, an untidy figure, with his vest unbuttoned and his tie askew. He appeared worried as his attorneys, W. W. O'Brien, Everett Jennings, and W. W. Smith, made their motion to set aside the verdict of a jury which on March 14 set White's punishment at 14 years in the penitentiary. When the motion was denied they asked that White be released on bond pending an appeal to the Supreme court, which three years ago reversed a verdict calling for life imprisonment, which was returned soon after the shooting of Policeman Pfiaume on Dec. 13, 1925.

Judge Sabath granted another hearing on the motion for bail. In denying the new trial the judge declared that the rules of court were followed and the rights of the defendant were amply protected so that no serious error was committed to his prejudice. The judge formally sentenced White to 14 years at Joliet.

Sentenced to Sixty Years.

Senew and Evenow were formally sentenced to sixty years' imprisonment by Judge Williams on the verdict returned by a jury in his court Thursday. The two shot and killed Policeman Rumbler in an attempt to hold up a soft drink parlor at 3174 Milwaukee avenue on Oct. 12, 1930.

The motion for a new trial was presented by Attorney Thaddeus Toudor. He also asked for permission to file an appeal. The judge granted him sixty days to file a bill of exceptions and also granted a ten day stay of commitment.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Victor Nerazz, rape, sentenced to 1 year in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph B. David.

ALIBIS TUMBLE; 3 FACE TRIAL FOR $2,800,000 RAID

Sent Back to Nebraska After Hearing Here.

Three of the six gangsters captured on May 8 in a spectacular raid on their East St. Louis hideout lost their fight yesterday to avoid extradition to Lincoln, Neb. They are wanted there on a charge of taking part in the $2,800,000 robbery of the First National Bank and Trust company of Lincoln on Sept. 17, 1930. The prisoners, John P. Britt, Thomas P. Connors, and Howard Lee, heavily guarded, were on their way to Nebraska last evening in a special car attached to a Burlington train.

The three appeared before Judge Charles A. Williams in the Criminal court before whom they sought freedom on writs of habeas corpus. All three presented alibis, but they were identified as having participated in the bank robbery by D. S. Wolfenberger, a Lincoln merchant, who was menaced by the bandits during the holdup.

After the judge's decision against the three captives they were turned over to County Attorney Max Towle of Lincoln. A guard of Lincoln authorities, Illinois state police, and Sergt. Roy Steffens of the state's attorney's office accompanied them back to Nebraska. They will be arraigned in Lincoln some time today.

VATICAN CHARGES FASCISTS SEIZE POPE PIUS' MAIL

VATICAN CITY, May 25.—(AP)—Vatican authorities are considerably exercised over what they describe as an attack upon a Vatican City mail van by Fascist youths as it crossed a square before Palazzo Venezia, Premier Mussolini's headquarters, yesterday.

The Vatican version of the incident is that the van, which was carrying some of the pope's own mail, was held up by Fascists who were going in the opposite direction. As the young blackshirts passed the mail van, which carried a Vatican City number plate and the papal arms, one of them is said to have leaped from his automobile and to have struck the driver with a stick.

At the same time a Fascist militia officer came to the other side of the van and is said to have struck the helper, also causing injuries. He released the driver and took over the van while the injured men reported to Vatican authorities.

CIVIL SERVICE CALLED WEAPON TO DEFEAT CRIME

G. E. Q. Johnson Tells of Effect on Police.

Plea for the extension of civil service to county and sanitary district employés and for its honest administration in the city government were voiced last night at a merit service dinner at the Congress hotel under the auspices of the Woman's City club. The importance of the city civil service commission in relation to the suppression of crime was told by United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson.

"Police work is now more important than ever before in our history," Mr. Johnson said. "The police of every large city, and the prosecutors as well, have been bewildered by a new type of crime, a type of crime that is able to control millions of dollars that has a secret service of its own that is intelligently directed and has its own methods of enforcing its decrees.

Death for Betrayers.

"It decrees death for those who betray it. Large sums are used to corrupt police and public officials. It has speedy transportation and the weapons of war, including machine guns and bombs.

"The keystone to the arch is the civil service commission. A police captain recently in the federal court said he was prevented from doing his duty by political interference. I asked him if the civil service would not back him up if he did his duty and he replied by naming several men who, he said, were discharged from the force wrongfully.

"A new Chicago is arising and new history will be made in the next few years. No longer should the majority of honest and God fearing citizens of Chicago permit a few criminal minded persons to besmirch the good name of a city.

"I am not of the same political party as the new mayor, Mr. Cermak, but if he continues as he has begun, he will make his name illustrious. I offer him my cooperation."

Bench Speaks for Mayor.

Mayor Cermak was represented by Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch, who read a statement by the mayor. This called attention to Cermak's previous record in favor of civil service and his advocacy of the pending civil service bills in the legislature.

Thomas E. Campbell, president of the United States civil service commission and formerly governor of Arizona, spoke on the employment of 80,000 civil service employés in the federal service.

E. O. Griffenhagen, president of the Civil Service Association of Chicago, and Miss Sophonisba P. Breckinridge of the University of Chicago were other speakers.

BANDITS TIE UP THREE IN BANK; GET $8,000 LOOT

Two armed bandits invaded the Oak Glen Trust and Savings bank at Oak Glen, midway between Lansing and Thornton, yesterday afternoon and escaped with $8,000 after binding three employés with adhesive tape. Two hours earlier five bandits looted the offices of the Local Loan company, 1 North Crawford avenue, of $2,500. One was captured after a chase by a traffic policeman.

The two bandits entered the Oak Glen bank at 2:20 o'clock. Without warning one vaulted over a railing and leaped on William Maurer, cashier. The other drew a revolver and ordered Walter W. Schultz, a bookkeeper, and Nicholas L. Dyskstia, assistant cashier, to the floor. All three were taped hands and feet. The bandits seized the cash and fled in an auto.

The five bandits entered the loan company's office at noon. They compelled Arthur Sala, office manager, to open the safe, from which they took $2,500, holding two dozen employés and customers in a line at the point of revolvers. As they were leaving one customer called to Policeman Martin Joyce, stationed at Madison street and Crawford avenue. He captured Carl Pyfrom, 19 years old, 264 North Crawford avenue, at West End and Springfield avenues. He would not reveal the identity of his companions.

Well Known Screen Couple Expect September Stork

Hollywood, Cal., May 25.—[Special.]—Ben Lyon said tonight that he and Mrs. Lyon [Bebe Daniels] expect birth of a child in September.

ROBBERY SUSPECT SHOT IN CROWD AT "L" STATION

An alleged pickpocket was shot and captured and his companion was also seized when they pocketed a victim between them on the elevated platform at Adams street and Wabash avenue last night. More than a score of men and women witnessed the gun play.

The wounded suspect is Joseph Clark, 41 years old, who gave his address as 915 Addison street. His alleged accomplice is Frank Roberts, 46 years old, whose address was given as 4518 North Racine avenue.

An unusual feature of the capture was that Clark suffered four wounds from one bullet. Two were in each thigh above the knee. According to Dr. T. L. Willman of the Bridewell hospital, the bullet entered the left thigh, passed completely through, and then pierced the right thigh, also passing completely through.

The shooting occurred when Clark and Robert pocketed Walter M. Gibbs of 3644 North Hermitage avenue between them as he was about to board a north bound train. Gibbs, employed in the Straus building, broke away from them and shouted for aid. A few feet away stood Charles Mead, a retired police sergeant, employed as a special detective on the platform. He called on Clark and Roberts to halt.

The men fled down the stairway and Mead fired one shot. Clark fell and Roberts ran into the arms of Detectives Tom Foley and Steve Leddy. Gibbs reported that his wallet containing $30 had disappeared. It was not found on either of the suspects.

BANDIT ROBS LAUNDRY.

A bandit entered the Woodlawn laundry 1037 East 55d street, yesterday morning and robbed Miss Hilda James, 23 years old, 6338 Ellis avenue, of $30.

OWNERS PREPARE FOR BATTLE TO RUN DOG TRACKS

Ex-Judge Olson to Direct Legal Attack.

Attorney Harry Olson, who was chief justice of the Municipal court from the time it was founded until last year, when he was defeated by the present chief justice, John J. Sonsteby, will conduct a legal fight on behalf of the dog track racing interests, which expect to open up several tracks this week. Attorney Olson disclosed yesterday that a fight is to be made on the constitutionality of the horse racing act in so far as it excludes running of the greyhounds.

Olson has conferred repeatedly recently with State's Attorney Swanson. The latter, however, is firm in his stand that dog track racing is illegal in Illinois and yesterday he issued the following statement:

"No dog track will be permitted to operate five minutes in Cook county. Pat Roche will raid any place that attempts to go. The Appellate court's decision a year ago is the answer to the dog track operators' contention that pari-mutuels are as legal for dogs as horses."

Two New Groups Chartered.

Attorney Olson said that two new organizations were chartered during the last week in Springfield. They are to take over the old Al Capone-Jack Guzik-O'Hare track in Cicero, which operated under the name of the Hawthorne Kennel club, and the track at Thornton, which was previously under the control of Homer Ellis, Chicago Heights slot machine syndicate head. The Cicero track will be known as the Business Men's Racing and Amusement association and the Thornton track as the Thornton Coursing club.

Olson said he could not give the names of the incorporators or stockholders.

Plan Battle in Courts.

It is said to be the plan of the dog track owners to open up the tracks and allow the state's attorney's detectives to raid them. An injunction will be asked in the courts, and if it is denied an attack will be made on the constitutionality of the horse racing act and it will be carried to the state Supreme court, thus jeopardizing the horse racing act if the dogs are not allowed the same privileges as horses.

The new plan of attack by the dog track interests will allow the fight to be taken to the United States Supreme court, it is said.

ROSENWALD BID STIRS UP A FUSS AMONG DENTISTS

Some Fear Competition of Low Price Clinic.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Internal dissension was disclosed yesterday in the Chicago Dental society as well as in the Chicago Medical society. Friction among the physicians over two slates of future officials of their society will not be settled until their election June 16. The dentists, on the other hand, will do their oral wrestling tonight on the problem of approving or condemning the establishment with the help of the Rosenwald Foundation of a dental clinic which will treat patients at cost.

The issue among the dentists over the prospective low priced clinic is similar to that of the medical society in its objections to the Public Health institute. Many dentists, in opposing the proposed clinic, are echoing the objections of physicians against the health institute, that such institutions cut into the field of the private practitioner and deprive him of patients by charging them lower fees than he can afford to charge.

Argue For New Clinic.

Dr. Benjamin S. Partridge, chairman of the public service committee, and Dr. Howard C. Miller, secretary of the dental society, are the leaders of a group which will advocate the acceptance of the clinic plan of the Rosenwald Foundation at the meeting tonight at the Medical and Dental Arts building at 185 North Wabash avenue.

"This is to be an experimental clinic," Dr. Miller pointed out yesterday, "and many of us believe it will herald a future phase of dental service. Those of us who favor it believe that those people who can afford their own dentist will still patronize the private practioner, and that only a few of them will take advantage of a cost price clinic.

"Thus it would be good for all of us by increasing the number of patients who habitually visit the dentist when they should go, and not merely when they have a toothache.

"Unless we vote to adopt the plan it is probable that the Public Health institute, which has recently broadened its scope, may take up the practise of dentistry."

Proposal Is Outlined.

As presented to the Chicago Dental society last January at its annual meeting at the Stevens hotel by Dr. M. M. Davis, director of medical services for the Rosenwald fund, the plan provides for a ten chair dental clinic to be established in some central location. Funds would be advanced by the Rosenwald fund for the operation of the institution during the first two years, after which it is believed it will become self-supporting.

Prominent members of the dental society who have voiced objections to the venture and will probably take issue with the plan tonight include Dr. Gail Hambledon, one of the directors, and Dr. Franklin Porter, whose objections are based on the contention that it would be illegal for a corporation to practise dentistry.

Dr. Kretschmer Talks.

As the arguments were waxing hot among the dentists Dr. Herman L. Kretschmer, who has been placed in nomination for head of the Chicago Medical society through a petition signed by hundreds of members, returned to Chicago yesterday from Memphis and discussed his race with the nominee approved by the society's council, which usually picks the sole nominee. Dr. Kretschmer, a noted urologist, said the reason for accepting the nomination was a desire to promote the welfare of the medical society, especially of the general practitioners, and it has not affected in any way his friendship for his opponent, Dr. Edward H. Ochsner.

Approached by Billings.

"Dr. Frank Billings, most altruistic of men, was the first to approach me on the subject of running," Dr. Kretschmer said. "He urged that I could accelerate interest in the organization by promoting better programs and by raising the scientific standards. He believed I could help out the general practitioner, who is having a hard time these days with competition from free clinics and large corporations who are practising medicine.

"Frankly, the nomination of Dr. Ochsner was made without opportunity for others to be heard from the floor and the nominations were declared closed. So my friends circulated the petition for my nomination. I believe I have the support of some of the best doctors in Chicago, including Dr. Billings, Dr. James B. Herrick, Dr. William Allen Pusey, and others.

"The clique that is backing Dr. Ochsner is one that has been running the society for some twenty years, and doing a pretty good job of it at that. But I think I can contribute something for the good of the organization and its progress."

DECREE IS GRANTED TO MRS. BRUNKER IN RENO DIVORCE COURT

Mrs. Margaret Gaylord Brunker was awarded a divorce in Reno yesterday from Albert R. Brunker, millionaire reformer, on charges of desertion. An agreement was announced under which there will be no alimony or solicitors' fees. The decree provides that Mr. Brunker shall have their children eight months this year, nine months next year and that the custody shall be divided equally thereafter.

Mrs. Brunker left for Reno on April 1. She brought her suit under the new six weeks' residence law of Nevada on Saturday and appeared in court yesterday morning for her decree. She left immediately for Pasadena, Cal.

Mrs. Brunker's first move to go to Reno, on March 15, was halted by a Highland Park policeman as she left the family home in Lake Forest with the two children, Barbara, 5 years old, and Robert, 2 years old. Mr. Brunker was in New York at the time. A number of conferences followed and an agreement was reached. Mrs. Brunker was not accompanied to Reno by her children.

YOU GET TICKET IN LOOP TODAY; IT CAN BE FIXED

Every driver of a vehicle, whether motor or horse drawn, entering the central business district today between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m. will receive a ticket. The ticket will not be a summons to court, but will be a record of the vehicle's movements into and out of the loop area.

Policemen will be stationed at every entrance and exit to the district south of the main branch of the river, east of the south branch and north of Harrison street. They will hand to each driver a colored card, and these will be taken up when the vehicle leaves the district.

From these cards when filled out with the time of entry into the district, time of departure, and number of passengers, Leslie J. Sorenson, city traffic engineer, and Acting Police Commissioner Alcock says they will get an accurate picture of traffic conditions in the loop.

CHAPLIN DENIES HE PLANS TO WED MYSTERY GIRL

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

NICE, May 25.—Charlie Chaplin denied today that he was contemplating another venture in matrimony. Residents at Juanles-Pins, near here, where he is working on the scenario of his next film, have reported his engagement to Miss Mary Reeves, with whom he is seen daily. Miss Reeves is a brunette about 25 years old, tall and slender, and comes from Czecho-Slovakia. Nothing is known about her here.

WOMAN ATTACKED BY PET BULLDOG; SEVERELY HURT

Mrs. Mary Watson, 48 years old, was reading last evening in her flat at 7328 Champlain avenue when her English bulldog, a pet of long standing, attacked her savagly. She was unable to repel the animal and it hurled her to the floor, biting her on the arms and legs.

The screams of Mrs. Watson attracted the attention of neighbors and the police were called. When Policeman William Connors arrived Mrs. Watson was still battling with the dog. Connors killed the beast. Mrs. Watson was taken to the Jackson Park hospital.

...for Glowing Health!

HOW much more pleasant and sensible to keep good health than try to win it back! Welch's is one of Nature's most efficacious aids to normal bodily vigor. That is why increasing thousands make this delicious, wholesome fruit juice a daily habit throughout the year.

Housewives, and mothers especially, esteem the juice of sun-ripened Concord grapes because they are so rich in mineral salts, neutralizing acids and fruit proteins which supply quick tonic energy. These are just the vitalizing elements needed most by children.

Give the Welch's method of health control a month's trial. Drink it any time of the day, but particularly serve it as a breakfast fruit. You'll find it wonderfully appetizing. Add one-third to one-half water, if you like, for Welch's is concentrated goodness, yet it does not add an undesired ounce to one's weight. Then note how fit you feel and how your appearance has improved.

The best plan is to keep a supply of Welch's in the pantry ... always. There is no better form of health insurance. Ask for it by name. Only thus can you be sure of purest pasteurized grape juice bottled under rigid laboratory control.

Senator Glenn Heads His Battery of Lawyers.

Surrounded by United States Senator Otis F. Glenn and three other lawyers from the senator's firm, Jake the Barber Factor, master swindler, yesterday went through further preliminaries in his extradition case before United States Commissioner Walker. When the hearing adjourned the former Halsted street scalp doctor again retired to his loop hotel suite, with only a deputy marshal to infringe upon his liberty.

SENATOR GLENN.

Attorney G. Gale Gilbert of Factor's counsel asked that the order remanding his client to the marshal's custody stand throughout the extradition hearings or that he be admitted to bail. The commissioner reserved a ruling on the question of bail or jail, but declared that the marshal's custody could not go on very long.

Seeks Dismissal of Warrant.

Before Attorney Franklin Overman, representing the British crown, which is demanding Factor, could proceed with the reading of depositions showing how the swindler is alleged to have obtained millions of dollars from English investors, Attorney Gilbert sought to have the warrant dismissed.

"The warrant charges that Factor obtained at various dates in 1930 sums of 15,000 pounds, 70,000 pounds, 131,000 pounds, and 242,000 pounds from the Broad Street Press, Ltd., knowing the same to have been fraudulently obtained," said Attorney Gilbert.

"The treaty for extraditions between the United States and Great Britain, entered into in 1842, enumerates certain extraditable crimes. There is also the provision that an offense, to be extraditable, must constitute a crime in the state where the defendant is found.

Not Crime in Illinois.

"There is no law in Illinois making it a crime to receive money from any one, knowing the same to have been fraudulently obtained. The Supreme court has held that the offense alleged must be a crime in the state of jurisdiction before extradition."

A ruling on this motion deferred, the defense attorney launched into an attack on the "high-handed, unconstitutional manner in which this extradition case is being handled." He referred to a civil suit filed in the federal District court seeking to tie up Factor's trust fund and declared that the whole case was an attempt by Great Britain to use the United States as a collection agency.

Depositions Are Read.

A deposition from Cyril Thomas Newman, a British official who examines brokerage houses, set forth that the Broad Street Press, Ltd., was capitalized in 1928 at only 5,000 pounds, and that the shares were divided between Albert Simmons, Joseph Osborne and Albert Paris, employed by J. Walker, alias Factor, as directors.

Osborne and Paris stated that they knew nothing of the company's operations and their duties consisted in signing checks, the deposition said. The examiner set forth that the bank accounts of the company showed that a total of $2,274,000 had been withdrawn in Factor's favor and had disappeared.

Civil Suit Reveals Funds.

The civil suit against Factor and the First Union Trust and Savings bank was filed on behalf of the Rev. Arthur Travis Faber, rector of a church at Hurworth-on-Tees, Durham, by Attorney John H. S. Lee. Faber and his wife, Millicent, won a damage suit for $55,000 against Factor, and it was presumed that the suit seeks to collect on this judgment.

Factor admitted that he had a trust fund in the bank named and another in the Foreman-State National bank to which the deponent Young said he sent 5,000 pounds' worth of English war bonds at Factor's request.

STATE TO FIGHT FOR PUBLIC RIGHT TO SMALL LAKES

A. V. SMITH.

State's Attorney A. V. Smith of Lake county yesterday announced he will file a quo warranto suit at Waukegan to keep small lakes of the county open to the public. The action will contest the claims of August Frohlich and Mrs. Margaret Pearce to ownership of most of the bed of Lake Zurich.

Frohlich and Mrs. Pearce, who claim the right to bar the public from the lake, recently won a decision on this issue in the court of Judge Edward D. Shurtleff in a suit brought against them by owners of summer homes. State's Attorney Smith is to name others, who own portions of the lake bed, as defendants. He contends the federal swamp land act, on which the lake claimants base their title, does not apply to Lake Zurich and 52 other lakes in the county. Mr. Smith contends the basic law of the nation gives the states control over the navigable waters in their boundaries.

OHIO PROFESSOR, MILITARY DRILL FOE, IS DROPPED

Columbus, O., May 25.—[Special.]—The first reaction coming from the military-drill dissension at the Ohio State university came today when the university officials failed to renew the contract of Prof. Herbert A. Miller of the sociology department.

Officials refused to comment on the dismissal. Prof. Miller, except to confirm the action, refused to discuss the situation. It is understood further dismissals will follow.

The action of the board of trustees came immediately after the row over optional military training. Prof. Miller was one of the leaders of the opponents on the faculty.

Following the dismissal came indications of a fight to the finish between the board and various "liberal" campus figures. Members of the "liberal" bloc were planning a definite protest against the board's action, including the attempt to further a general resignation of professors from the university. According to members an appeal to the American Association of University Professors has been drafted and will be ready for submission immediately.

Prof. Miller was educated at the University of Chicago, where he also taught, and he holds degrees from Dartmouth and Harvard. He is a native of Tuftonboro, N. H.

FASCIST CHAMBER MUSSOLINI'S PET; IT 'YESSES' HIM

Il Duce Enjoys Hearing Long Winded Oratory.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ROME, Italy, May 25.—One of the frequently observed anomalies of Premier Mussolini's Fascist régime, the organs of which are constantly condemning parliamentarism as the curse of modern society, is the singular attraction which the Fascist chamber of deputies in Montecitorio has for Il Duce.

Mussolini apparently sets great store on his chamber. He attends it regularly and punctually. While rarely speaking himself, he follows the talk more or less attentively from his place on the ministerial benches.

Like Chorus Girls.

Nothing very important to the state ever happens in this chamber, which is made up only of men whose loyalty to Fascism is proved and tried. Deputies approve in florid rhetoric what has been done, but they never seriously criticize. To a foreign observer the chamber would appear more as a theater in which important government projects are announced, with the deputies in the rôle of an approving chorus.

From the galleries one cannot help but think that Mussolini must be greatly bored sitting through the long laudatory speeches which he hears without a word of enlightening criticism.

Timid complaint has been raised that this sort of thing should be stopped. Deputies, it was said, would have to be a little more critical in their remarks.

Long Winded Oratory.

During this session the discourses on the corporative and syndical system, which is called the basis of the Fascist state, have set a record for long winded oratory.

Patience had apparently been sorely tried by the orators, for the Popolo di Roma, one of the morning papers here, became highly irritated and remarked:

"It has nowadays become too easy to talk in the chamber. Some deputies seem to mistake it for a debating society or a rural school. Many go to the rostrum without having anything to say and deliver excellent reviews of what has already been printed in the newspapers.

"The certainty that no one will get up to contradict, to interrupt, or give any sign of disapproval; the hope of obtaining a round of applause, the certainty that, at the worst, the only protest will consist of every one in the chamber going out to the halls for a long walk, gives encouragement to these long winded orators, and if they have nothing else to say they read long documents."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DINARD, France, May 25.—The rigid schedule of the American mayors' junket through France, for whose enforcement young François Orlando, manager of the tour, has been fighting valiantly in the face of open and noisy rebellion by his wards, has completely broken down.

It became evident tonight that the twenty-one city executives probably will not arrive in Paris until late tomorrow, some hours after the ceremony opening the American building at the French Colonial exposition, one of the chief reasons for their coming to France.

The cumulative delays, caused by photographers and sound film operators, have been aided by the mayors' eagerness to pose and make speeches for the benefit of the old home town. Then again, the daily abundance of champagne, red and white wines, cocktails, liqueurs, whisky and sodas, and beers strewn in their path have retarded their progress. This afternoon the delays were climaxed when all three of the party's buses broke down, first one and then another.

Mayor George L. Baker of Portland, Ore., leader of the delegation, who distinguished himself on the first day in France by getting married to his wife over again by the mayor of Havre as a gesture of Franco-American amity, pulled another fast piece of good will today by adopting an orphan boy, Andre Merett, aged six.

Andre is a diminutive bass drummer in the orphanage band, which happened to pass the restaurant where the mayors were eating.

2 BOYS DROWNED IN HOLE ON NEW SCHOOL GROUNDS

Two small children were drowned yesterday afternoon when they slipped into a water filled hole on the grounds where the Gage Park school is being constructed at 5620 South Rockwell street. They were Robert Lundy, 4 years old, 1429 West 58th street, and Harry Laning, 5 years old, 5810 South Fairfield avenue.

A watchman told the police he had seen the children playing in the basement of the building and told them to go home. Later the body of the Lundy boy was seen in the water, which was six feet deep. A call was made for an inhalator squad and then a cap was noticed floating on the surface and the second body was removed. The rescue squads worked over the two little forms until all hope was gone.

2 KILLED, 7 HURT AS STREET CAR AND TRUCK CRASH

Policeman and a Deputy Marshal in Collision.

Two men, one an Oak Park resident, were killed and seven other persons were injured in a head on collision between a Chicago-Hammond street car and a motor truck trailer in Hammond last night. The dead and injured were passengers on the trolley.

Those killed were John L. Sahm, 54 years old, of 428 South Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park, and Daniel George, 47 years old, of 1726 East 119th street, Whiting, Ind. The injured are Mrs. Eva Sredcinski, 25 years old, her husband, Leo, and their child, Leon, one month old, all of 4512 Towle street, Hammond; Mrs. Anna Vathji, 16 Marengo street, Forest Park; John Vathji, 2822 Jarvis avenue, and Frank Ostmers, 249 North California avenue, both of Chicago, and Joseph Lanoti of Hammond. Mrs. Sredcinski and her child were seriously hurt.

The accident occurred when Ray Felps of Indianapolis, driving a truck and trailer in Sheffield avenue, Hammond, veered to avoid an automobile. The trailer was thrown in front of the Chicago bound street car, the front of which was crushed in, and the truck and trailer were badly damaged.

Motorcycle Policeman Killed.

Passing a speeder cost the life of Motorcycle Policeman Michael J. McGinnis, 37 years old, of 6354 South Winchester avenue, married and father of two children. Yesterday afternoon he passed the speeder north in State street. At 35th street McGinnis crashed into the rear of a truck and trailer. He was taken to the Chicago Memorial hospital, where he died early this morning. Frank Sigman, 30 years old, 1028 Newberry avenue, driver of the truck, was arrested.

Sergt. John Symboski, member of the state preserve police, and William Lenos of 4840 Bernard street, whom he had arrested for petty theft, were killed yesterday when the motorcycle on which they were riding collided with a car containing Deputy United States Marshal Harold E. Goodwin and Theodore Pillewitz, 3532 Grenshaw street. The accident occurred in Waukegan road, Morton Grove.

The death of McGinnis and two others increased the Cook county motor toll to 69 since Jan. 1. The other victims:

Frank Sears, 3 years old, 927 North Keeler avenue. Died of injuries incurred last week when he was struck near his home by a truck driven by Wilson A. Von Buford, 25 East 35th street.

Mrs. Mary L. Williams, 39 years old, colored, 4843 Prairie avenue. Died of injuries suffered on Thursday when hit by a truck in Indiana avenue.

CHIEFS SIDESTEP CERMAK TAX PLEA IN WARM SESSION

Democrats Name Group for New Revision.

mission), said Ald. Clark, "had worked out a plan to tax intangibles, they would have been doing something worth while. The bankers supported the reassessment. Instead of costing $8,000,000 or $9,000,000, as usually represented, it has heaped a burden of $50,000,000 upon the property owners.

"Some time ago we sold $15,000,000 in tax anticipation warrants in New York, then the Chicago bankers prevented us from selling any more. Call money in New York is going a-begging at less than 2 per cent, yet we cannot sell tax warrants—with the best security in the world behind them—at 6 per cent."

"The schools wanted $8,000,000 and the bankers force the school board to sell $20,000,000 of tax warrants in order to get the $8,000,000," broke in County Treasurer McDonough.

"Yes," replied Clark, "except that the bankers forced the board to borrow $40,000,000 instead of $20,000,000 in order to get the $8,000,000 they needed."

Plea for Home Owner.

"If we are going to do anything," said County Treasurer McDonough when he got the floor, "let's give a hand to the small home owner. It has been represented—and I believe it is approximately true—that real estate represents about 25 per cent of the wealth of the county; but it is compelled to pay 85 per cent of the taxes. Why not do something for the small property owner?

"The big fellows take care of themselves. They holler about corruption among public officials. Who corrupts them? It is not the hod carrier or the laborer who owns a small cottage or a bungalow.

"To find out for myself what the bankers stand for in this crisis, I called in 15 leading bankers. Their spokesman did not urge the passage of house bill No. 28. They did not offer any plan. I am willing to help any legitimate interest in the city, but why not start with the most needy?"

County Assessor John H. Conroy made an attack upon Harry S. Cutmore, the expert who had charge of the reassessment. The job of Conroy, as well as that of two other Democrats and two Republicans on the board of assessors, will be wiped out if house bill No. 28 becomes a law.

What to Do? Asks Cermak.

At the finish of the speech making Mayor Cermak said:

"Some of the criticisms you have made of the bankers are true. I have told them so to their faces. But what are you going to do about it? If bill 28 is not passed where are we going to get money to pay the teachers, policemen and firemen and all of the other employés of all the local governments? Deny them their salaries, if you will.

"You selected me for mayor. I have appointed an advisory commission. It has made its recommendation and I have accepted it as the only feasible way out. If you have another way out, or a better way, adopt it. You are members of the legislature."

INCOME TAX FIGHT ON

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—Revenue questions are headliners this week in the legislature. Income tax comes up tomorrow in the house on the question of amendments with prospects of a battle. Indications are that the administration looks askance at the bill as a new tax.

Efforts are to be made to put through an offset amendment, allowing taxpayers to deduct property tax from income tax. Aagainst this arugment is raised the fact that Wisconsin tried an offset of personal property tax and the result was such a slim return from income tax that the offset was later repealed. This, it is argued, would be likely to be repeated in Illinois if an income tax with offset were enacted, and the result would be another new tax, falling hardest on citizens of small means, who now carry a load of indirect taxes in rents and grocery bills.

The outlook is for a tense struggle, with a possibility that an effort may be made to strike out the enacting clause, forcing a showdown.

Some senators who voted for the Lantz income tax measure are saying they supported it on the theory that it would be in lieu of other taxes and not a new tax.

Republican leaders are protesting that an impost on incomes would prove another political "coffin nail." In its possible effect at the polls in the 1932 elections they link it up with the veto of the prohibition repealer and the senate vote to repeal presidential primaries and direct election of national delegates. They count these as three wallops at the ordinary folks of Illinois.

Tobacco Tax to Fall.

As to the proposed smokers' tax, senate leaders are preparing to blow it off the calendar with a gale of laughter. Its proponents dolefully say it's sunk. For two weeks it has been receiving the celebrated senatorial raspberry from leaders.

The women's 8 hour bill, which has passed the senate, comes up in house committee hearing tomorrow. Both sides are to be heard. It looks like another fight.

The lack of action so far on the problem of revenue and taxation has resulted in a deep seated belief among the legislators that a special session will be called by Gov. Emmerson on this subject unless the next four weeks produce something. Senator Earl B. Searcy [Rep., Springfield] tonight declared a small group of tax experts and lawmakers ought to get into conference when the legislature adjourns and take up the whole question with a view of having a definite program ready for an extraordinary session.

"We legislators ought to spend the remaining days in serious, sober, and grave consideration of the state's plight," said Senator Searcy, who was head of the subcommittee which held hearings in the Chicago city hall.

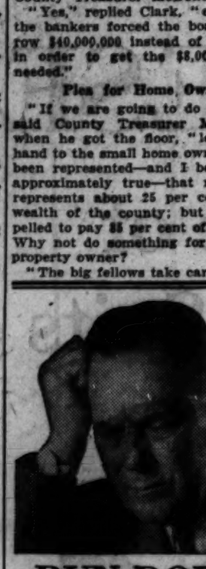
"Cities, counties, and the state, as such, face disaster. The situation in Cook county is pitiful. Soon it will be just as bad downstate. When these units reach their crisis, then the state is through.

"It seems to me that the legislature ought to repeal every statute it can which heaps upon political units burdens which their present rates will not stand. Then we will have an intelligent starting point whence to figure out the rest of the dilemma, with no one worse hurt, in the meantime."

CHICAGO FORCES PREPARE.

Chicago representatives left for Springfield yesterday prepared for a hard fought battle in the house today when the Lantz state income tax bill comes up on second reading as a special order of business. Today's action will determine whether the bill shall be advanced to third reading, the passage stage.

Representatives of several Chicago organizations opposing the bill are expected to be on hand to listen to the debating today. Among them will be a delegation headed by H. H. Haylett from the Chicago Real Estate board, which is sponsoring amendments calling for an offset of state income tax by property taxes.



RUN-DOWN TIRED FOLKS

Find New Way to End Poisons

"Kidney Laxative" Discovery Ends Use of Needless Drugs and Habit-Forming Cathartics

MILLIONS who now suffer from weakening poisons in the blood—people who are run-down and tired, who suffer with bad skins and dull eyes—are amazed at a new health discovery which is restoring health and good looks. Doctors are now prescribing what they call a "kidney laxative"—a wonderful discovery which reaches the deep-seated poisons in the blood. Ordinary drugs, laxatives or cathartics cannot reach these poisons. The poisonous acid wastes must be driven out through the kidneys.

And this kidney laxative, which is known as Sleepy Water, neutralizes and dissolves these poisons. It gently activates the kidneys and speeds the elimination of wastes. Not only people who have suffered from fatigue and low vitality, but victims of 29 common serious ailments, including diabetes, high blood pressure and arthritis report remarkable improvements in health.

Sleepy Water can be obtained only from two springs in the Arkansas hills. Peculiar natural forces here cause Sleepy Water to contain certain minerals, combined into certain compounds. No other water contains this exact balance of vital minerals. Tear out the coupon and mail it in to find out about the amazing thirty-minute test which will demonstrate how Sleepy Water acts. Let us tell you how you can make this test. If you prefer, simply phone Kedzie 1278, The Chewaukla Mineral Springs Company, 3330 West Jackson Boulevard, Chicago.

Tune in WMAQ every Monday at 9:45 p. m. for Sleepy Water Program.

SEASON POT-ROAST WITH SUGAR AS WELL AS SALT

Combined Flavors of Sugar and Salt Blend Deliciously with Meat

These are days when there are always bargains on the meat counter. A lady who bought a chuck-roast for 45 cents—made a tasteful discovery by cooking it as follows:

Sear and brown both sides of the meat in an iron or pot-roast kettle containing two or three tablespoonfuls of fat. Then sprinkle top surface of the meat with sugar as well as salt. Add about a cupful of water, then cover the kettle and cook for an hour. Turn the meat and sprinkle newly exposed side with sugar and salt. Continue cooking until the meat is tender, adding just enough water to keep the meat from burning. Serve with the gravy which remains in the kettle, thickened with flour if you wish. You'll be surprised at the unusual, full-bodied flavor in the meat as well as in the gravy.

Cheap cuts of lamb respond to this seasoning if you prefer that meat to beef. Vegetables also are more tasteful when a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is added. Most foods are more delicious with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

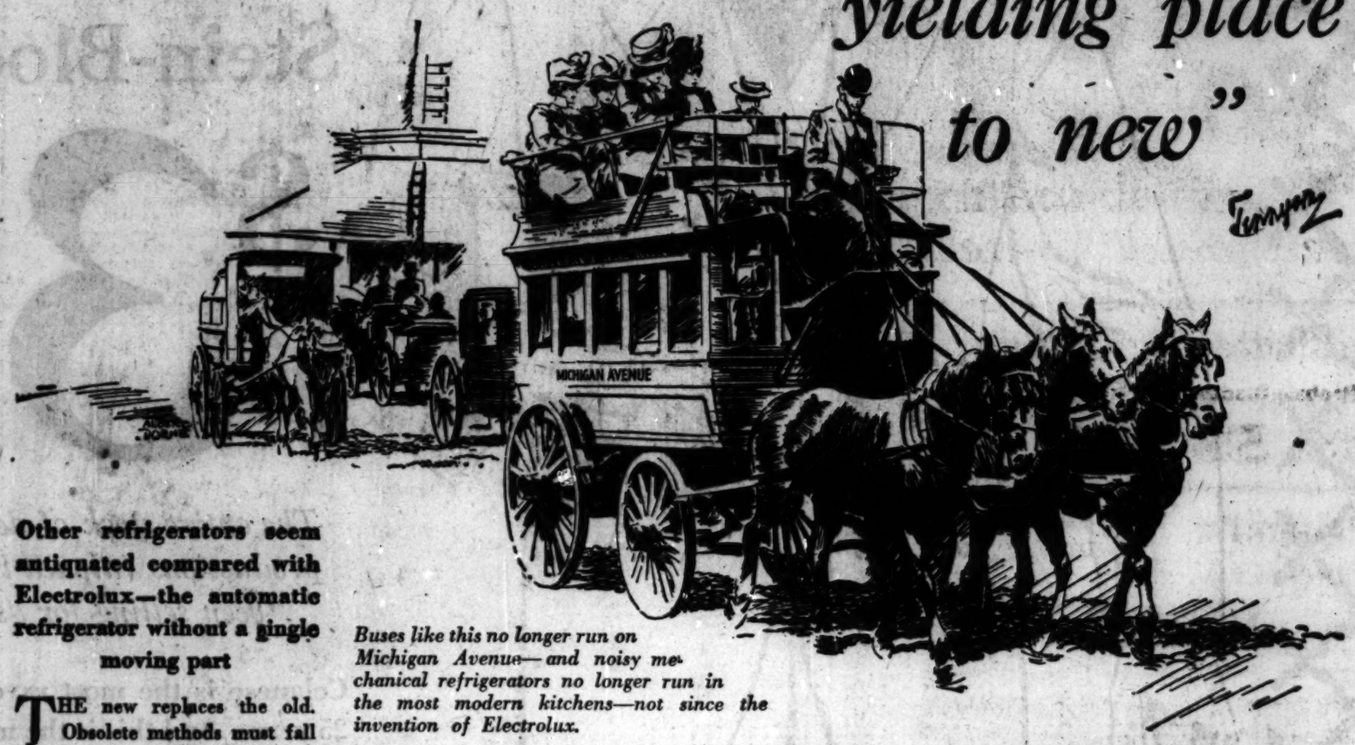
"The Old Order Changeth, yielding place to new"



Buses like this no longer run on Michigan Avenue—and noisy mechanical refrigerators no longer run in the most modern kitchens—not since the invention of Electrolux.

Other refrigerators seem antiquated compared with Electrolux—the automatic refrigerator without a single moving part

THE new replaces the old. Obsolete methods must fall before new and better ways of doing things—in automatic refrigeration as in everything else.

That explains why the tide has set so strongly in favor of Electrolux. For this newcomer among automatic refrigerators has done away with all machinery, all moving parts, entirely and forever.

This newest kind of automatic refrigerator is so wonderfully simple, so unfailing. A tiny gas flame and a tiny flow of water do all the work. They first vaporize the refrigerant, then condense it again. The refrigerant itself is common ammonia, little stronger than the household kind. It is hermetically sealed within a rigid steel unit, the gas flame completely protected by an automatic shut-off. The chilling action doesn't alternately stop and start as in other refrigerators. Instead it goes on continuously, and so the cold is constant, steady—ice cubes freeze quickly, foods keep safely.

There is no vibration, no wear to Electrolux. You never hear a sound out of it, for there is nothing to make sound—no machinery or moving parts.

And it doesn't cost you extra to enjoy all these advantages. It costs you less. Much less. For the operating cost of Electrolux is never more than a few cents a day, total. And that's even less than most people pay for ice. Nor are Electrolux prices any higher than prices of other makes.

COSTS LESS TO OPERATE

Electrolux is the world's most economical refrigerator. It operates for only a few cents a day—less than the cost of any other means of refrigeration.

Installation of Electrolux is a simple matter. Connections for gas and water are through flexible copper tubing, and are quickly made for you by your gas company. And don't forget that if your Electrolux should ever need adjustment, you get the prompt, efficient kind of service for which your gas company is famous.

America's most prominent architects and builders are making this refrigerator their choice. Already it is in more than 150,000 fine private homes and apartments. You ought to see Electrolux at the showroom of your gas company. There are 10 household models, ranging from 3 cu. ft. to 20 cu. ft. capacity. Despite its unique advantages, prices are no higher. We suggest that you see it before buying any other kind. Write us, or phone for complete information at Wabash 6000.

SEEK TO REVISE DRIVERS' LICENSE BILL IN HOUSE

Motor Club Opposes Fee and Examination.

BY HAL FOUST.

The Chicago Motor club, before a house committee at Springfield today, will sponsor amendments to the drivers' license bill passed by the senate last week. The club, according to its president, Charles M. Hayes, will seek to delete the fees for the license and the physical and mental examination requirements. Another proposed amendment provides a financial responsibility clause, as the law has been termed in various eastern states.

"The financial responsibility clause," said Sidney S. Gorham, former president of the Chicago Bar association and head of the club's legislative committee, "is a safety measure. It provides for the suspension of the license of any driver who has failed to pay a final judgment rendered against him growing out of the negligent operation of a motor vehicle.

Must Then File Bond.

"This suspension will continue until the person has filed a bond or an insurance policy with the secretary of state in the sum of $5,000 for each vehicle owned by him. This bond or insurance policy affords security for the payment of damages to any person who, after the date of the filing of the bond, may suffer personal injuries or property damage from the negligent operation of a car in the hands of the person filing the bond.

"This measure will not affect any driver of a motor vehicle until he has at least once demonstrated that he is guilty of negligent driving and secondly that he is not able to respond in damages to the person who has suffered a loss. The financially responsible motorist as well as the careful driver is entitled to this protection from the irresponsible negligent operators."

Oppose Fee for License.

Mr. Hayes discussed other amendments advocated by the club.

"We are opposed to the 75 cents fee for a license and we are opposed to the mental and physical examinations required under the senate bill," he said. "Proponents of the senate bill lay great stress on the examination feature. Interpreting statistics of other states as showing that the examination has reduced accidents.

"This reduction of accidents in other states with drivers' license laws has been due, in our opinion, to the suspension and revocation features, encouraging caution. Accidents have also been reduced in states where the public has become fully awakened to the motor toll and enforced the motor vehicle laws and improved their streets and highways as well as passing drivers' license laws. After a careful study, I'm unable to find where physical and mental examinations have reduced accidents.

"We are also opposed to the revocation and suspension of licenses being administered by the secretary of state. This is a judicial function. The motor club advocates an amendment to the bill that will place the suspension and revocation of licenses in the hands of the various Circuit courts and the Superior and Criminal courts of Cook county."

SORORITY GIRL BURNED DURING INITIATION RITE

Baltimore, Md., May 25.—[Special.]—During a sorority initiation, in which an alcohol flare was used to give a weird illumination of the ceremony, Miss Virginia Edmond, aged 22, of this city, was severely burned on the breast, face, and arms at Round bay on the Chesapeake Saturday. She is in an Annapolis hospital and the physicians say her condition is serious.

Miss Edmond, whose home is on Latona road, this city, went to Round bay to be initiated into the Alpha Delta Beta sorority.

The initiation rites were held in a cottage and, as nightfall came on, a pitcher was filled with salt and alcohol poured into it and lighted. Miss Edmond leaned over, it was said, to look at the flame.

The other girls who were in the room think a sudden draft swept the fire into Miss Edmond's face. None of the other girls were burned.

NO GANGS, POLICE INSIST DESPITE 7 CAPITAL MURDERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—There are no gangs in Washington, officials of the District police department still insisted today. The series of crimes which recently has left seven murders in its wake and put the name of the capital on the front page of the national press is but a co-incidental series of accidents, the police maintain.

They stick to their opinion, however, in the face of headlines in their own papers which blazon the latest killings as "gang murders" and profess to see a sinister "link" between them.

A week ago Saturday, Bert Smith was shot through the thigh in a speakeasy. Next, Talley Day, reputedly a gambler and gunman, was shot to death by Elmer "Bulldog" Sweeney, a liquor runner—also in a speakeasy. Jack Cunningham, a police informer, was put on the spot in approved gangland manner, and later died of a bullet wound in the spine.

Lastly, Irvine Leroy [Jimmy] Zirkle, poolroom owner, died early yesterday from a shot in the abdomen, supposedly fired by Robert Emmett Marts who, police say has confessed.

So, as the Washington papers herald it, "guns blaze in Washington's underworld."

In fact Washington has the jumps.

In the mellow dusk of last evening, a runabout load of students toured up an alley. There were indications of drinking, witnesses say. Shortly thereafter, as the scene has been reconstructed one of the students fired a pistol—or perhaps it was a firecracker—another one screamed.

An aroused neighborhood sent in a riot call.

The police responded—and for the next three hours conducted a futile search by the gleam of flashlights for the traditional empty shells, blood-stains, bullet marks, or signs of a scuffle. A roundup of the hospitals showed no patients suffering from mysterious gunshot wounds.

A checkup of the license number of the roadster showed that it belonged to a student in a New York university. The only crimes between which there may be a link, according to Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of the District police, are the killing of Cunningham and the recent robbery of the Salvadorean legation, in which Don Carlos Leiva, chargé d'affaires, was slugged and seventeen cases of liquor were stolen.

It was said at first that Cunningham had named Policeman Walter Middleton as his slayer in a dying statement. This was later denied. Policeman Middleton, though under investigation for certain hijacking activities, established an alibi for the shooting.

Though admitting a possible connection between the two crimes, Maj. Pratt was insistent in pointing out that this would not indicate gang warfare, but merely represented a dispute between petty underworld characters.

No motive for the latest killing, that of Zirkle, had been uncovered by police investigators today. Marts is said to have admitted the killing, but so far has refused to divulge his reasons. Mrs. Florence Burch, wife of Harry Burch, Marts's companion, is being sought for questioning in the idea that her disappearance may have been at the bottom of the affair.

BANCOKENTUCKY'S HEAD IS ACQUITTED OF EMBEZZLEMENT

Louisville, Ky., May 25.—(AP)—James B. Brown, Louisville banker and newspaper publisher, was acquitted by a jury in Circuit court here late today of embezzlement of $2,000,000 on a note he gave a local broker which then was cashed by Bancokentucky, Brown's company. The jury was out about three and a half hours.

The defense, which claimed Brown's collateral was more than sufficient to cover the note, offered no testimony, but termed the prosecution's charges "flimsy in the extreme and with nothing whatever to support them."

Consider your Adam's Apple!!*

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

The great Lord Tennyson in a beautiful poem refers to a woman's Adam's Apple as "The warm white apple of her throat." Consider your Adam's Apple. Touch it—your Adam's Apple—That is your larynx—your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Protect the delicate tissues within your throat. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants! Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

GEN. MacARTHUR LEADS AIR FLEET PAST BOSTON

Spectacular "Battle" Is Fought Off Bay.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., May 25.—This city today saw the best aerial demonstration the army air corps has staged since the "war" began in Dayton more than a week ago. The thousands who crowded Dorchester bay first saw six hundred winged destroyers slip past in locked formation in twelve minutes and they gazed aloft as pursuit planes swooped down on lumbering bombers and fleeing attack ships.

Then they roared their approval as two daring airmen grew so interested in a five thousand foot duel that the squadron commander had to signal them back to their positions.

Boston had expected to see the fleet directly over the city but was disappointed. Hundreds of thousands who took to their roof tops saw only scattered squadrons because of the threatening rain and a change in route. It was the largest crowd Boston ever turned out for any spectacle and for hours after the aerial parade automobile traffic was wound into a spaghetti jumble.

MacArthur Leads.

Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, highest commander of the army, flew for a time at the head of the line today. Gen. MacArthur came to Boston yesterday to work out a "secret tactical problem." The general's problem was not revealed, but the pilots worked out their individual problems in full view of the throngs—that of getting home safely under lowering clouds. There was not a mishap nor bobble.

Gen. MacArthur's tactical problem had not reached the staff communique stage tonight, but the general had been away from the "war" according to headquarters reports. He was checked at Mitchel field, L. I., at noon and left there for Washington early in the afternoon.

Tonight the air fleet, with the exception of 29 planes of the ninth observation squadron, are staked down at Springfield and Hartford. The observation group under the leadership of Maj. William Ord Ryan set out this morning to drive the "enemy" from the mountains of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. They accomplished their objective, but tonight they are scattered throughout the White and Green mountains.

All Are Safe.

They were all safely down and accounted for at 6 p. m.

Maj. Ryan's scattered squadron will join the fleet tomorrow morning and, if the weather permits, the air armada will move toward New York City to give a repeat performance.

Lincoln Park Police Don New Summer Uniforms

Members of the Lincoln park police, for the first time this year, donned their new summer uniforms yesterday and lined up for inspection by the commander of the force, Capt. James H. Rummie Jr. The uniforms are of a lightweight blue cloth and are cut in military style.

SON WIRES FATHER THAT HE IS DEAD; ASKS BURIAL MONEY

Leslie Hollan, 36 years old, alias D. E. Delavan, 1325 Wilson avenue, was being held at the Town Hall police station last night after he had confessed to police that he had tried to obtain money under false pretenses from his father, J. T. Hollan of San Antonio, Tex.

Police were sent to the Wilson avenue address upon the receipt of a telegram from the father, who asked them to confirm a wire bearing the signature of Delavan stating that Leslie Hollan had died on May 23 and requested $127 for funeral expenses.

Leslie at first told police that he was Delavan, but later admitted his identity. He told the police he had been married since he last saw his father and that his wife had a baby. This information was wired to the father.

$1,000,000 WORK TO BE SPEEDED IN COUNTY FORESTS

Construction work on a $1,000,000 county forest preserve improvement program will be started within the next few weeks, President Emmett Wheelan of the forest preserve commission announced yesterday. An order directing Charles G. Sauers, superintendent of the preserves, to speed work on the new projects, as well as those already underway was made, Wheelan said, in order to comply with the recommendation of the commission's advisory committee headed by Brig. Gen. Abel Davis.

The new projects include the construction of a $250,000 swimming pool at Milwaukee and Devon avenues; an 18 hole golf course at Cumberland avenue and Forest Preserve drive; a swimming pool in Shabbona woods near 159th street and Torrence avenue, and a water main system at the Northwestern golf course.

The total expenditures called for in the first unit of work under the advisory committee's plan is $835,000. In addition to this work the board has ordered the completion of a club house at the Northwestern golf course.

SEE PROSPERITY FOR MIDWEST IN SEAWAY ADVANCE

Rail, Motor Lines Urged to Co-operate.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Not weeks, but years of Jubilee.

That is the prospect for the Mississippi valley states with the passing of the business depression and the economically correct solution of the transportation problems presented by the coming of the waterways and the motor bus, according to W. R. Dawes, president of the Mississippi Valley association, who addressed industrial traffic executives at the Palmer house last night.

Coördination of the railroads, the waterways, and the motor trucks in the best interests of the shippers, in order that industry may develop, is the answer to this situation, rather than increased rail rates and regulative and restrictive measures by congress, Mr. Dawes declared.

Traffic Problems Discussed.

This view was taken also by the other speakers, C. E. Childe of Omaha, chairman of the traffic committee of the association, and E. M. Antrim, assistant business manager of THE TRIBUNE and member of the advisory board of the Inland Waterways corporation, who discussed traffic problems from a more technical standpoint.

"The spectacle of a great city holding a Jubilee in the midst of a general business depression is impressive," said Mr. Dawes. "This demonstration was not simply a gesture, but was an evidence of the old time spirit of the west. It visualized a real purpose to not only benefit commercially but to lead the way in building a new and what we hope is a more permanent prosperity."

Mr. Dawes and the other speakers declared it was far from the intention of the association or the traffic men to injure the railroads, but that the shipping public is entitled to the most economical service that can be found, and that in the long run this will benefit the railroads.

"The time has come," said Mr. Dawes, "for the proponents of the railways, the motors, and the waterways to sit around the same table and soberly, earnestly, and honestly proceed to plan together for such a solution of our transportation problems as will result in building up this great midwestern territory, so that the nation as a whole may celebrate not a week only but years of Jubilee."

Discounts Gloomy Prophecies.

Mr. Childe said that while the railroads were suffering from the depression, it was his conviction that predictions of impending railroad disaster are greatly exaggerated.

Mr. Antrim said that in his judgment any horizontal increase in railroad freight rates at this time would result in less revenues rather than an increase in revenues to these carriers.

"Fundamentally," he said, "I believe the public is entitled to the benefits of natural economies which result from new methods of transportation that can be carried on at a profit. I also believe it is the duty of the federal government to continue the same policy it has pursued since its foundation: that is, to foster and develop, by subsidy and otherwise, all forms of transportation."

NINE CHARGES AGAINST NEW YORK DISTRICT ATTORNEY DISMISSED

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Nine of the charges filed by the City club against District Attorney Thomas C. T. Crain were dismissed by Referee Samuel Seabury at the opening of today's inquiry into the prosecutor's conduct of office. Five "counts" of the club's petition for Mr. Crain's removal were left open for further investigation.

THOS. C. T. CRAIN

Referee Seabury told Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Crain, that he did not consider that these remaining charges had been "refuted" by the testimony so far adduced—by the district attorney himself and others called in his behalf—and volunteered to hear any further evidence the lawyer might have to offer.

The charges dismissed included those relating to the elderly prosecutor's alleged failure to properly prosecute or investigate the Rothstein murder case, the Pathe film studio fire in which seven lives were lost; the probation bureau frauds, the employment agency scandals, the building department investigation, the Crater case [missing Supreme court justice], the teachers' pay racket, the dock leases, and Joseph Wolfman "bogus lawyer" revelations.

In each of these cases Referee Seabury said he was convinced Mr. Crain had done everything an efficient prosecutor could do.

Entire Court Proceeding Takes Only 10 Minutes.

Lawrence, Mass., May 25.—(AP)—Russell B. Noble, 17 year old Haverhill school boy, today was sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor for the hammer slaying of Mrs. Clara E. C. Ellis, wealthy Haverhill widow. He pleaded guilty to a charge of murder in the second degree.

The entire court proceedings took only ten minutes and within a half hour of the time he entered the Superior Court building the youth was on his way back to Lawrence jail.

After the indictment against him had been read, Noble answered in a firm voice, "I plead guilty to second degree murder" and the pronouncement of sentence failed to affect his composure noticeably.

Mrs. Ellis was severly beaten in a bedroom of her home on the night of Feb. 26. She died several days later.

Investigation failed to reveal a clew until the authorities learned that Noble, an honor pupil in high school and teacher in a Bradford church, had attempted to sell a wrist watch owned by the dead woman.

SEES MOVIE, ROBS THEATER.

ITALY TO TRY U. S. CITIZEN IN PLOT TO MURDER DUCE

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

ROME, May 25.—The special tribunal for defense of the state published an indictment today of Michele Schirru, the naturalized American who, last February, wounded three policemen and then attempted suicide following his arrest on a charge of plotting to assassinate Premier Mussolini.

Schirru's trial will begin next Thursday. He is liable to the death penalty if convicted. The indictment states that he is a dangerous anarchist, having been arrested in Pittsfield, Mass., in 1921, and in New York in 1926.

Expect the utmost

in aroma . . . in flavor . . . in richness from every can of Hills Bros Coffee because it is roasted evenly . . . continuously . . .

THE UTMOST IN COFFEE-ROASTING METHODS WAS REACHED WHEN HILLS BROS PERFECTED AND PATENTED THEIR CONTINUOUS PROCESS—CONTROLLED ROASTING

IT IS indeed a thrill to sip slowly from a cup of Hills Bros. Coffee. The flavor that comes to your taste is unlike that of any coffee you ever tried.

Of course the famous blend of Hills Bros. Coffee is partly responsible for its delicious goodness. But Controlled Roasting, Hills Bros.' patented, continuous process of roasting a few pounds at a time, develops this blend to the utmost in flavor—flavor that no bulk-roasting method can equal. Tasting is believing.

When you buy Hills Bros. Coffee it is always fresh. Air, which makes coffee "go stale," is completely removed from the vacuum can in which Hills Bros. Coffee is packed. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh.

Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can.

Is Casey Good For a Drink?

We all remember the old-time story of the conversation between the bartender and his boss. It ran something like this.

"Is Casey good for a drink?"

"Has he had it?"

"He has."

"He is."

Now, this does not happen to be a page on the liquor question, except that it offers its own rather nice commentary between the Casey whose credit was once questioned for a drink and whose credit is no longer questioned for an automobile, a radio, a washing-machine, a vacuum-cleaner, a houseful of furniture, or even the doctor's bill for another baby.

This page deals with far more important matter than Prohibition, although the material that will be presented will probably be seized upon by the pros and cons, each in justification of his own cause.

In this writing we are not concerned with that cause. And please do not concern yourself with it to the exclusion in your mind of the far more important topic of the consumer credit situation in America today.

Is the American wage-earner still good for an automobile, a radio, a washing-machine, a vacuum-cleaner, and so on?

Has he paid for the last one?

Is he good for another one?

And how good?

We have gathered together some of the most startling facts on this subject that have ever been put into print. Their significance is basic and far-reaching. Insomuch as this matter of personal credits came surging in upon American finance and manufacture about as rapidly and as sensationally as the wage-earner market itself, its significance is probably the most important factor in business today.

Here is the first of these startling statements:

All of the big finance companies and credit acceptance corporations which can be grouped under the one head of consumer credit companies closed their 1929 year with the biggest volume of business in their histories. Which means that more people owed them more money for the innumerable things that had been bought on credit than ever before in the history of this country.

This was the condition as of January 1, 1930.

By February of 1931 substantially all of this enormous consumer obligation running into billions of dollars had been paid in full.

Which means that practically all of the automobiles, radios, washing-machines, vacuum-cleaners, electric irons, and everything else that was bought by individuals in 1929, are owned outright today.

Number two: all of the investigations of these gigantic companies show that the ratio between cash buying and credit buying during these past eighteen months has not changed. In other words, the depression has neither increased credit buying nor diminished it. It remains in exact proportion to the total volume of business done, without any material percentage of change. And the repossessions even in automobiles, which account for more than one-half of all installment selling, have increased less than one car per hundred, according to the National Association of Finance Companies.

So the people of America are still buying just what they can afford to pay for. Those who bought on credit before are still buying on credit. Those who always paid cash are still paying cash.

And finally, comes the third important fact, which very nicely verifies the other two.

During the past eighteen months, when over fifteen hundred banks have had to close their doors, not a single one of these important consumer finance companies has either gone out of business or even been in difficulties. Yet their operations are conducted on a far lower ratio of capital to credit than any bank.

These statements have been made to us by three of the largest consumer finance corporations, whose combined volume runs well over a billion dollars. And we have been assured that the same statement could be verified by the others.

And now for the logical and rather dramatic conclusions.

Your American wage-earner has handled between sixty and sixty-eight per cent of this vast personal credit obligation and liquidated it within one year. Probably the worst year we have ever had.

He has quite evidently handled his affairs better than we business heads have handled our affairs, because all of the concerns from which he borrowed are in good shape, while fifteen hundred of the concerns from which we borrowed money have had to close their doors.

Certainly, with eighty-five per cent of our American wage-earners still on the job and with their credit intact, there wouldn't seem to be much question about where our future volume of sales is coming from, nor where our advertising dollar would go farthest in getting it.

Here at True Story Magazine we could have told these credit companies exactly what they told us. Because here is where your American wage-earner concentrates his interest and tells his story.

True Story Magazine has something over two million of these rather exceptionally good "credit risks" and offers the penetration point to millions more.

WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., planned as a model town, turns out to be one, but of the wrong kind. It is the capital of the Union, the home of the federal government, the American exhibit before the diplomatic world, and it is racing against homicide records and displaying the criminal propensities of Main street in a new mining town. Washington is virtually nothing but government. That attracts and absorbs people. Government furnishes the social and economic life, the ambitions, heartburns, jealousies, and motives. Everything is done by and for government.

Other large cities are composites of the various elements of life and their disorders have various causes. The preoccupation of Washington is social rating and promotion. Complexities of economic competition give other cities their conflicts. They have a percentage of floating population with men on the loose. They have industrial strife. They attract so many different types that they are bound to have criminals. Accumulations of the socially unfit are part of the price they pay for their greatness.

Washington has simpler problems. Its people are wards of government in a fashion peculiar to the District of Columbia. They are disfranchised and to that extent relieved of responsibility. A good deal of American government is hypocritical and naturally it comes to its head in the city which is mostly government. Hypocritical morality is not the origin of sound law or the source of respect for law. Nearly all the reformers in America have their headquarters within shouting distance of Capitol hill. Members of congress vote one way and try to live the other.

The capitol city was a mistake from the beginning. It was born in jealousies. The site was selected in a species of bribery. The capitol was made a pawn to obtain to the assumption of national debts and create the credit of the United States. It was fair retribution that the government of the infant republic lived in the mud of an intolerable place for years. The location of the capitol was the only real danger the Union had in the civil war because its only real danger was political and not military.

Washington is supposed to be isolated from evil influences and to be a cloister wherein the legislative and administration mind can operate in pure wisdom. It too frequently proves to be isolated from everything except petty jealousy, bureau autocracy, pretentious morality and circus stunt legislation.

It is the home of the Volstead act, but not even Miami, Fla., has less use for that noble statute. When a seat of government inhabited almost entirely by persons on government business has contempt for its own moral code, which in turn merits contempt, the cause of its lawlessness can be found close to the surface. Washington is becoming the country's best example of how a democracy should not try to govern itself.

POLITICAL MUSCLEMEN.

Sir Oswald Mosley and his wife, Lady Cynthia, have been bumped about some since they broke from the Labor party to found an aristocratic, economic salvation army as the left wing of everything in British politics, and Sir Oswald announces that a gang of tough eggs has been retained and will accompany the radical pair for reprisals as needed. Sir Oswald says that reliance will be placed on the good old English fist for the protection of free speech.

American radicals have not needed gorillas for protection. The American communists have a feud with the police in which the police are becoming wise enough to decline the issue rather than seek it. The common radicals breeze about as they please. When Mr. Norris tries to break the Republican party instead of breaking with it, the most serious consequences are in an issue of statements. Mr. Borah is pelted only with roses, and no one would dream of heaving a half brick at Mr. Brookhart. Nothing violent happens unless it is in the political slums, where there are rare murders. The American electorate does not go in for the black eye and bloody nose. This may not indicate a superior culture, possibly only indifferent constituencies.

A Chicago statesman—was it John F. O'Malley?—once was authorized to organize a Democratic state convention, the Bryan train robber affair, along Sir Oswald's idea of free speech. When he had his pretorian guard on the train he locked it in the coach for his own peace of mind and made the trip to Springfield in the comparative security of the vestibule. The musclemen never knew exactly what the convention, in which they were ushers and sergeants at arms, was all about. They were patient and even wistful. Whenever a delegate arose to speak they would hitch in his direction and look hopefully at the platform for directions. The brevity of the convention speeches was notable, but it was a disappointment to the Neanderthalers. They were large boned men with questing eyes and low foreheads. They were demobilized in Springfield and the end of the episode was regarded with a general and not a factional relief.

PRACTICAL DEFENSE PROPOSALS.

The national defense committee of the Illinois department of the American Legion has presented to the executive committee of that body a resolution calling upon the government to maintain a regular army of 165,000 enlisted men and to provide for the rapid manufacture of munitions in time of national crisis. The resolution proposes that the government arsenals contain in peace times a nucleus of trained workmen who can, in event of war, instruct private manufacturers. It recommends the expansion of the National Guard to 250,000 enlisted men and that of the officers' reserve corps to at least 120,000 and the establishment and maintenance at every qualified educational institution of a reserve training corps. The energetic development of tanks and airplanes is also urged.

This resolution represents the sort of service the American Legion is especially fitted to perform. Theoretical and sentimental excursions into the economics of war and the individual equities lead the Legion astray and will accomplish harm to the country and to the soldiers of the future. It is unfortunate that when pacifist obstruction to sound measures of national defense is so widely organized the Legion has been tempted to devote so much of its discussion to vague issues of social justice and to impractical demands for taking the profit out of war. So far as there is any substance in these controversies, it can be brought about through civilian discussion, and the Legion has only assisted the pacificism which is weakening the morale of the nation by involving itself in them. But the proposals of the national defense committee, if given the vigorous support of the whole Legion as they deserve, are practical contributions, based on practical knowledge of defense conditions, to the maintenance of an adequate national defense. They are much needed as an offset to the persistent and generally successful activities of pacifist organizations to disparage preparedness and to deprive American youth not only of military training but of any sense of duty to defend the nation.

We especially note and commend the proposal to increase the number and training of reserve officers. It was the reserve officer class which contributed the heaviest sacrifice in the late war, and the vast army which the nation was called upon to improvise in a few months could not have been commanded without them. That is an outstanding lesson which it is the special duty of the Legion not to forget or allow the nation to forget.

A FREE PRESS DECISION.

Efforts to restrict the freedom of the press have multiplied significantly in the last few years and defense against the invasions has become a concern of the newspaper fraternity as well as of the respective publications directly involved. A recent decision of the Wisconsin Supreme court is an encouraging contribution to the defense of the chief of our guaranties. The Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company had prayed an injunction against a Milwaukee newspaper which had been carrying on a campaign to bring about a reduction of fares. The annexation of a district to the city had been urged on the grounds that it would result in a single fare rate to the central district. But a double fare was continued and the defendant newspaper had called upon the public to refuse to pay the double fare. This the company charged was incitement to violence.

The lower court refused the injunction and the decision has been affirmed by the Supreme court on the ground that the complaint did not reveal a case of serious disturbance or interference of any consequence with the discharge of the company's public functions; that it did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

The decision in effect seems to follow the "clear and present danger" rule laid down by Justices Holmes and Brandeis in the espionage act cases, and opposes the tendency to permit restraints upon publication on the ground of possible future results. The long fight for liberty of the press began with resistance to prior restraint, which in its first appearance not long after the coming of the printing press took the form of the king's license to publish. It was in this first struggle to free man's right to utter his thought that John Milton wrote his immortal classic of human freedom, the "Areopagitica." In our own day we still have attempts to prevent publication of facts, of charges, of arguments, and the issue is the same as it was when the Stuarts of England were trying to establish the right to say that only books they approved should be put forth.

As long as there are men whose interests may be injured by publicity or by criticism there will be attempts at censorship by force of law. It is the liberty of the press upon which all other liberties depend. This implies responsibility for all direct consequences arising from publication, both moral and legal responsibility. But while our courts are loyal to the principles upon which our government and our free society are founded they will guard jealously the liberty "to know, to utter, and to argue freely according to conscience, above all other liberties."

ISLES OF STRATEGY.

[Boston Herald.]

The Herald's maritime province correspondent discusses the effect on Canadian sentiment of the rumored movement on the part of the United States to purchase the little group of islands known as St. Pierre and Miquelon, that lonely French outpost in the North Atlantic. According to the correspondent, sentiment is divided. Some scout the idea with vehemence. To allow the United States to annex the islands would be to provide a possible enemy with a base from which to overrun not only Canada but her sister dominion, Newfoundland. Others make light of this danger and seem to favor the proposed transfer. There is a suspicion that their willingness to risk the security of the dominions is not unconnected with their sentiments on the subject of prohibition. As the islands at present belong to France it is possible that country might like to have something to say also.

These little places have of late acquired an importance out of proportion to their area or population. The total area is 93 square miles and the total population—mostly sturdy fisher folk—is 3,419. Nevertheless, these islands imported from Canada alone during the last fiscal year goods to the value of $13,004,479. It is a fair estimate that liquor accounted for $10,000,000 of this. That is an impressive outlay for such a small population. Three thousand dollars' worth of hard stuff for every man, woman, and child in the islands is a liberal ration, even at prevailing prices. It speaks volumes for the invigorating effects of an outdoor life.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. R.A.A.

BELIEVE THIS, OR REFUSE TO, AS YOU PLEASE.

Or this might be added if anybody felt inclined to utter the dear old bromide about truth being stranger than fiction. But from Washington, and they ought to know in Washington, comes the announcement that in this great country of ours three billion dollars is now being spent every year on likker. But the 18th amendment to the constitution of these United States says most specifically that no form of likker shall be manufactured or sold in this country. It's been that way for thirteen years.

And yet—bootlegging has gone into the major industry class, ranking with automobiles, steel, and gasoline. It's hard to believe this, especially if you read the constitution, the Volstead law, and the Jones 5 & 10 act first. That's the point of the whole thing. It isn't so strange that people in this country spend three billions of dollars for hard likker; we've got a lot of hard drinkers. Nor is it so weird that the electorate voted and carried through a bone dry law; the electorate of this glorious country is apt to do anything.

The point is that we pass a law that absolutely forbids hard likker in this country; spend millions and millions, and maybe billions, to enforce said law; and then every year we drink three billion dollars' worth. That is why this is a believe it or not story. The two-headed calf now and then excites great wonder at the county fairs, and the Tattooed Lady and Bosco, Who Eats 'Em Alive, as well as Toto, the Living Pin Cushion, are all hard to believe, and people stand in front of them and gaze at them in amazement for hours, but this latest news from Washington is much weirder than any of them.

So many of us must be like the farmer in the ancient story. The farmer had gone to the circus for the first time in his life. When he walked around in the animal tent and came to the camel he stood there transfixed with his eyes popping out of his head. For hours he stood looking at the camel, and finally, when the show was closing down for the night and the show people grabbed the farmer and put him out, he was shaking his head and exclaiming: "You can't fool me; there hain't no sich animal."

But aren't we all?

STARS.

The moon at times leans close to intimate
That she would mingle with our destiny;
Not so the stars! They never give a sign,
But, cold and far, maintain inviolate
Their silence and eternal mystery.
Each star, serene in its appointed shrine,
Maintains a reticence, a solitude
Of majesty that bids no man intrude.

Their glory mocks our clamored births and deaths,
Our loves, our songs, our little sobbing breaths;
They blaze to light the darkness of our earth
But in such wise as though they would conspire
To make us feel bereft of weight and worth
Before the matchless splendor of their fire.

"NEARLY 700 AIRPLANES Darken Skies Over New England."—Chitimes. Always remember, graduates of the schools of journalism, that more than three airplanes overhead at one time "darken the skies." You get a job on a newspaper and forget this when you are called on to write an airplane story and you'll get the bum's rush, and no wonder. A rule is a rule.

AND OUR FAITHFUL CUBS, who might have gone into sixth place yesterday, put up a great battle and retained fourth place. But sometimes we think their zeal to stay in fourth place is not entirely commendable. Of course, there are four places lower than fourth place, but there are three much better.

NO, VALENTINE, BUT WE'LL BE VERY, VERY CROSS AT YOU.

A MAN WHO PLAYED the radio after 11 p. m. was shot by an irate neighbor down in Taylorville, Ill. The man who played the radio is in a hospital. We point this out as a mournful warning to people who turn on the loud speaker at 11 p. m., but we must also point out that the man who shot the radio owner is in jail. This is equally a warning and equally mournful to people who shoot radio owners. Hospital or jail—well, suit yourself!

COMPENSATION.

I have learned wisdom finally,
I take what the fates may bring,
Woodfires for winter evenings,
Green rain when it is spring.

Late tide, and a dream goes drifting,
Why weep when summer's past?
Caviar, opera tickets,
Make up my life at last.

No disenchantment haunts me,
I take the gifts as they come,
A toothache, a letter, a lover. . . .
Life is so simple . . . and dumb.

GLAUCOMA.

THE most important of all eye diseases is glaucoma. It causes more blindness than cataract and far more than gonococcal infections. It is important because it usually gets people in the period when they are active and doing the day's work. Cataract comes near limiting its field to those who have quit or are about ready to do so. And, as a further consideration, chronic glaucoma develops slowly and is curable for a long time in this developing period. If a person in whom chronic glaucoma is developing will seek treatment within the first year after the onset of symptoms he should escape blindness.

The symptoms which may mean early glaucoma are temporary haziness of vision, seeing rainbow rings around lights at night, difficulty in reading, the necessity of a rapid increase in the strength of one's glasses. If a person notices that he has these symptoms the next step is to make a test on himself.

He closes one eye and fixes the vision of the other steadily on a given point. Next, he brings his finger in front of his face, say eighteen inches, and moves it up and down on the nose side of the range of vision. If glaucoma is developing he will find that he is blind on the nose side of his field of vision. This blind area is likely to have the shape of a small cut of pie. He may find that the point of this cut reaches to the center of the vision field.

About this time another "home consumption" may be noticed. It is a pain in the eyeball. If these symptoms are present the next step is to visit an eye doctor for examination for glaucoma. This consists in making three tests. The field of vision is accurately mapped out, the physician does more closely what the patient did for himself in a rough way. The tension of the eyeball is measured with an instrument for that purpose, called a tonometer. The retina is examined with an ophthalmoscope to discover whether there is cupping of the head of the optic nerve. If a diagnosis of glaucoma is made treatment should not be delayed. In some case operation is done. In others, drops are used in the eyes. If a cause can be found it is removed or avoided.

Dr. George S. Derby, who spoke on this subject at the annual meeting of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, thinks we will never make much headway in the control of glaucoma until the people know more about the early signs which should make one suspect the disease. He also thinks physicians should know better what symptoms point the way. This address develops around this conviction: If discovered in the early stages, glaucoma can almost always be controlled and even when it is fairly advanced much can be done to prolong eyesight.

GIVING COD LIVER OIL.

D. R. writes: I have a baby girl 18 months old and she is very bowlegged. I have tried to give her cod liver oil, but cannot get her to take it. Will you suggest a way that I could get her to take it? Is there anything else I can give her? Could I put braces on her legs? Could I rub them with something? Her legs must be very weak because she falls quite a bit.

REPLY.

Have you tried giving it in fruit juice, root beer, soda water?

You can give it to her in pill form. You can give viosterol and irradiated foods.

Rubbing the legs will not have much effect. Having her wear braces may be advisable. Let your doctor decide. Of course, your child has rickets. You let the horse get out of the stable and some distance down the road before you thought of locking the stable door.

TAKING BAKING SODA.

Mrs. G. L. S. writes: Is ordinary baking soda as good as anything for gas on the stomach? Which should I use, warm water or cold with it?

REPLY.

My opinion is that the use of baking soda for that purpose does more harm than good. It disturbs the work of the stomach. It may cause alkalosis. Using it may cause one to postpone finding what trouble lies behind this symptom.

LACK OF TRAINING CAUSE.

L. writes:

1. What can be done about kleptomaniacs who cannot tell the truth and injure others?

2. Also, about mature men who, after living uprightly, become immoral and go to pieces about sixty?

REPLY.

1. Kleptomania is a social rather than a mental disorder. It results from lack of training or improper training. The cure is proper training. The same applies to pathologic liars.

2. The history indicated is sometimes an early sign of paresis. Sometimes it means nothing more than what we fundamentalists call "being full of the devil."

EXECUTORS.

Chicago, May 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Please advise me if the laws of Illinois permit an only son to act as executor in the estate of a parent whose legal residence is now Pennsylvania. The son is a resident of Illinois; the parent at this time is anticipating removing to Illinois permanently. 2. What procedure is necessary to act as an executor in case the son is appointed to that place? 3. Can a will be made along these lines? 4. What would it cost? The estate involved is relatively small. J. G. H.

1. Yes, if both parties lived here at the time of the death.
2. It will be necessary for him to apply to the Probate court for authority.
3. Yes.
4. Depends on the attorney, upon the amount of labor involved, and upon other facts that are not before us.

BOARD UP OLD BUILDING.

Chicago, May 19.—[Friend of the People.]—There is a building near us on North St. Louis avenue which is a fire hazard. The fire department was called there three times in one day. Tramps go in there and throw down matches, I suppose. A. N.

An inspection was made at the premises complained of and the owner has been notified to board up all openings or put building in good and safe condition.

MICHAEL S. BRENNAN,
Acting Commissioner of Buildings.

REGULAR SERVICE PROMISED.

Chicago, May 20.—[Friend of the People.]—Will some one please tell me why the alley between Harding and Springfield avenues from 18th street south to 19th is carefully avoided by the refuse collectors? It is nothing unusual for a car owner to precede his car to the garage door with a broom to remove the surplus glass. S. W.

Report is made that the 23d ward schedule calls for a weekly collection of garbage and ashes in this district and regular service will be given hereafter.

REVOKE FORMER WILLS.

Oak Park, May 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Three years ago I made a will appointing a certain trust company executor and trustee, the company having retained a copy of this will. Now I wish to make a new will, naming another trust company executor and trustee. 1. Is it legally necessary to notify the executor and trustee of the first will of my intentions and that they destroy their copy of said will? 2. I have been told that this is not necessary and that it does not matter if the copy of the will is destroyed or not since the new will automatically voids the first one. Is this true? E. H.

1. No.
2. Your new will should contain express wording that you hereby revoke all former wills by you made. Such wording would be effective. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 26, 1915.

LONDON.—The makeup of the coalition cabinet by which Premier Asquith hopes to smooth out the differences arising from the recent divisions was announced. The new cabinet undoubtedly includes the strongest men in public life and it is hoped that the change will result in a more vigorous prosecution of the war on the part of Great Britain. The cabinet is composed of thirteen Liberals, seven Unionists, and one Laborite. Sir Edward Grey is secretary of state for foreign affairs; Lord Kitchener, secretary of state for war; Andrew Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies; J. Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India; David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, and Arthur J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty. The most prominent figure who retires from public life is Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor. Winston Spencer Churchill is removed as first lord of the admiralty.

WASHINGTON.—Germany in reply to the United States note on the Lusitania case will decline to abandon submarine warfare upon enemy commerce, but will give the specific assurances requested by President Wilson that there shall be no recurrence of the killing of neutral noncombatants in the war zone. This is the substance of semi-official information cabled to Washington from Berlin.

SAN FRANCISCO.—"We've been sending too d——n many notes to Germany—so many that I have lost track of 'em." This was the statement of Uncle Joe Cannon, former speaker of the house, on his return today from the congressional junket to Honolulu.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 26, 1901.

CHICAGO.—In the glare of a mammoth bonfire on Marshall field at the University of Chicago 2,000 howling students celebrated Chicago's victory in securing the Olympian games of 1904, while fully 6,000 spectators crowded over the bleachers and enjoyed the fun.

GAFFNEY, S. C.—United States Senators Benjamin R. Tillman and John L. McLaurin have resigned their offices, to take effect on Sept. 15. The resignations resulted from an acrimonious political debate in this city, the culmination of a bitter factional fight long existing between the two senators. Tillman's declaration that the reelection of McLaurin would be taken as meaning that the people did not indorse him [Tillman] was followed by McLaurin's suggestion that both resign and go before the voters for indorsement. Tillman agreed. Their action leaves the race open for all.

CHICAGO.—With the grand jury, the state board of health, and the city health department closing in on Dowieism, financial difficulties are arising to threaten "Dr." John Alexander Dowie, "healer," prophet, bank president, and general overseer of the Christian Catholic church. Formal notice has been served on the "Zion bank" of which Dowie is head, that after May 30 its business will not be handled through the Chicago clearing house.

CHICAGO.—Brig. Gen. Frederick D. Grant, returning from a two years' active campaign in the Philippines, arrived in Chicago. He was met at the station by Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Potter Palmer, Ald. Honoré Palmer, and Potter Palmer Jr., and driven to the Potter home on Lake Shore drive, where he will remain during his visit here. He is a confirmed optimist as regards the Philippine situation.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 26, 1881.

LONDON, Ont.—Two hundred and thirty-eight bodies have been taken from the river Thames near here, victims of the capsizing of the steamer Victoria, overloaded excursion boat carrying celebrants of Queen Victoria's birthday. More dead are known to be in the river. The accident occurred when the vessel put in to the bank to permit a passenger to land. All the other passengers rushed to the shore side of the boat and it went over in twelve feet of water, and not more than twelve feet from the bank.

NEW YORK.—Beginning with tomorrow's issue the Evening Post passes into the control of Carl Schurz, Horace White, formerly of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and E. S. Godkin of the New York Nation, with Mr. Schurz as directing editor. The stock of Parke Godkin, son-in-law of the late William Cullen Bryant, founder of the paper, was purchased last Tuesday and is understood to represent five-sixths of the total stock.

CHICAGO.—Judge Ebenezer Peck, one of the oldest citizens of Chicago and of Illinois, and prominent as a lawyer and politician, died at his home, 15 Walton place, at the age of 76. He had long been an invalid.

PROHIBITION IN WAVERLY.

Waverly, Ia., May 18.—A few weeks ago a letter appeared in your column commending Gov. Emmerson's veto of the Illinois prohibition repeal as the greatest executive act of the century. This article was written by a gentleman from this town of high repute and he is earnest in his convictions.

This is a town of about 4,000 inhabitants. This writer knows of three or four young men in this town between the ages of 25 and 30, of good families and university graduates, who have been out of employment for six months or more. At the present time they have no opportunity of getting employment here and have not the finances to go elsewhere to seek employment.

At the same time if your former correspondent would go to the proper places [which are not hard to find] he would find, to this writer's knowledge, twenty-seven young men between the ages of 25 and 30 who have nothing beyond an eighth grade education, have no pride of ancestry or hope of posterity, but who from that very fact are able to net a nice income, drive expensive automobiles and have plenty of money derived from hip pocket bootlegging.

Would it not be better to open up the breweries and provide employment for men who have too much pride to bootleg, but are qualified as auditors, credit men or salesmen, and provide them with the necessities of life in preference to giving the other class all of the good breaks? M. E. PATRICK.

ANOTHER COMMISSION.

Chicago, May 19. — As a suggestion, why not establish a United States commerce commission to regulate employment? It could force corporations to a reasonable earning basis in prosperous years, say 5 per cent return to stockholders, the excess earnings to apply to a fund to be drawn on during depression as salaries for employés. Officials would be allowed salaries of maximum amounts as high as $50,000.

Any laying off would be first referred to the U. S. C. C. The commission's agents would judge each case on records submitted, based on accurate accounting of earnings and employment methods of the corporation. If the reserve fund were used up, the corporation could lay off a certain percentage of the employés. To prevent firms from not employing enough men during good business conditions and working those they do have overtime, the commission could minimize overtime employment, forcing the corporation to hire new men. Of course, those firms requiring seasonal employment would be allowed to hire men on that basis. The U. S. C. C. would not iron bind earnings, but would merely regulate them to assure constancy of employment and prevent erratic profits to stockholders or excessive salaries to officials. The results to business in general by constant employment should be obvious. H. H. HATCH.

THE GARY TRAGEDY.

Chicago, May 19. — In your editorial, "The Gary Tragedy," you lambaste the home, church, and school for the letdown in moral standards. You fail even to touch upon the commercialized sources of smut and filth such as moving pictures, the stage, magazines, books, newspapers, speakeasies, dance halls, hedonic clubs, night clubs, cabarets, road houses, gambling joints, and houses of ill fame. The three worthy elements of a child's environment receive the blame for the results achieved by the many unworthy elements. You are arguing that a child's training should enable him always to resist the sensual temptations of the outside environment, which is easily accessible by automobile, that the law allows to be set up and operated by sex perverts and sewer rats. Ask any of the Gary boys where they got their low ideas and attitudes. It was not in any parental conference, school recitation, or church meeting.

WHO WILL PAY?

Chicago, May 19. — The public has been informed that it will take at least $600,000,000 to put Cook county on a cash basis. Who will furnished the cash basis. Who will furnish the $600,000,000? WILLIAM WALTER SCOTT,
Clerk of the Appellate Court.

THE OTHER JUDGE DUNNE.

Chicago, May 19. — Relative to the letter of former Gov. Dunne in THE TRIBUNE of May 12, in which he states that another E. F. Dunne, a judge, practiced law in Chicago in 1861, I would say that he refers to Judge Edmund F. Dunne, ex-district judge of Nevada and a former chief justice of the Supreme court of Arizona. I first saw this Judge Dunne when he visited my parents in Lalx, Ireland, in the late seventies. In 1883 he moved to Florida, where he had founded a colony. He was a papal count, and well known for his ardent advocacy of the views which [as THE TRIBUNE shows] he expressed so radically at a Chicago convention 50 years ago. JAMES W. MOORE.

BUT WOULDN'T INTEREST RATES RISE!

Chicago, May 20.—There is approximately thirty billion dollars' worth of personal property, including mortgages, bonds and nontaxable securities, in Cook county practically exempt from taxation, while, on the other hand, at least 15 per cent of the tax burden falls on real estate, which has depreciated from ten billion to six and one-half billion dollars.

Now all of this real estate is more or less mortgaged. Why should the real estate home owner pay a tax on the property or land owned by the mortgage holder? Can any one answer that question equitably? For illustration: There is a home that cost $18,000. On it is a $4,000 mortgage owned by an insurance company. Why should the mortgage pay a real estate tax on the $4,000 plot of ground owned by a multi-millionaire corporation? The company ought to pay the same rate of tax as the owner of the property, and that should be but one per cent of the market value of the property. As it is, this owner is required to pay approximately two per cent on the $18,000. In other words, he is penalized by paying about eight per cent on his mortgage.

Of course, the property owner is saving his rent of one thousand dollars a year, but so is the mortgage holder. There is absolutely no difference in principle. The situation is exactly the same, only, under the present circumstances, the taxpayer has all the risk, while the capitalist, the personal property owner, takes no risk and pays practically nothing for the support of his government. HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER.

SUMMER RESORTS.

Winnetka, Ill., May 18.—When Wall decided to present Phyllis with a summer cottage I suspected we were in for another series of gibes and sneers at summer resorts. Saturday's edition confirmed my suspicions. Why THE TRIBUNE should permit, if not encourage, the cartoonists who embellish the top and bottom of that particular page to repeatedly ridicule and disparage summer resorts and whoop it up for Florida winter resorts is one of the mysteries of modern journalism. The far away south with its joys of sunny weather and sea bathing is depicted in contrast to the misery of snowbound stay-at-homes, with never a word of the drawbacks down there, while every possible disadvantage, real or imaginary, of the near home summer resorts is played up to the limit, and nothing said in their favor. E. B.

THE WAY TO ECONOMIZE.

Chicago, May 16. — I have the misfortune of being one of the oppressed real estate owners of Chicago. My property, in which I invested my twenty years' savings and which brings me in a net income of two hundred [$200] dollars a year, was taxed $770.71. This assessment I have paid. As the largest part of the taxes are used to pay the employés of the city, why not reduce the taxes by economizing in that direction? M. J. CONEN.

NO MORE ALDERMEN.

Chicago, May 13.—Why increase the number of wards in Chicago to 60? Who is back of this bill now before the house? Ten more aldermen means at least $50,000 additional expense to the city and who will pay the bill? The city council can redistrict our wards according to our present 50 ward plan without increasing the cost of city government. Everybody agrees our taxes are too high now. A TAXPAYER.

SPAIN RECEIVES PROTEST NOTE FROM POPE PIUS

Text Is Kept Secret; Await Foreign Chief.

(Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.)

MADRID, May 25.—A new note of protest to the Spanish republican government has been received from the Vatican, it was learned tonight. It is believed to refer to the religious freedom decree issued last Friday, which Pope Pius XI. considered a violation of the existing concordat.

Minister of the Interior Maura tonight declined to make public the contents of the note, while the papal nuncio likewise remained silent. It was said the matter will be held over for the attention of Foreign Minister Lerroux, who is in Paris and is expected to return to Madrid Wednesday.

Reduces Standing Army.

This is the second note of protest received from the Vatican, the first concerning damages to church property in recent riots. It is also possible the new note takes up the status of Pedro Cardinal Segura, primate of Spain, who fled to Rome during the anti-church disorders.

At a cabinet council tonight Minister Maura announced that the existing seventy-six regiments of the infantry will be reduced to thirty-nine and that the number enlisted in the new army would remain about the same, with a wide reduction in the number of officers. The present number of 22,000, he said, would be reduced to 7,000.

Calls Decree Violation of Pact.

(Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.)

ROME, May 25.—Cardinal Pacelli, papal secretary of state, drafted the note which was sent to the papal nuncio at Madrid for transmission to the Spanish government, formally protesting against the proclamation of religious liberty.

Pope Pius yesterday approved the protest action upon learning the report of Pedro Cardinal Segura, primate of Spain. A detailed account of the burning of churches in the recent anti-church riots was delivered to the pontiff. Since the concordat has not yet been denounced, it is still considered in force, and a proclamation of religious liberty cannot be reconciled with the paragraph stating that the Catholic religion is the official state religion of Spain, the note contends.

Voice of People Urged.

The Vatican, besides, feels it has reason for complaint in that the republican government, as soon as it came into power officially informed the holy see that nothing would be changed in the status of the Catholic church in Spain until parliament has met and taken a final decision on the matter, while afterwards it proclaimed religious liberty without asking the opinion of the Spanish people through their representatives in the courts.

The Vatican is reported to have told Spain that religious liberty is a force that cannot be replaced by a unilateral act without committing a grave breach of international etiquette.

CUBAN CONGRESSMEN REASSEMBLE; TALK OPENLY OF REVOLT

(Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.)

HAVANA, May 25.—A split in the opposition which complicates Cuba's involved political situation came into full view today when congress resumed its session, with a proposed reform of the constitution the principal business before it.

Sentiment at the national palace seemed to be more optimistic toward the prospect of an amicable settlement than at the capitol. Indeed, this afternoon congressmen were openly discussing the possibility of a revolution, repeating the statement which almost has become the catch word of the opposition: "We don't want a revolution, but the people may force it, and if they do, we are ready."

A peaceful solution acceptable to both sides is the goal toward which Ambassador Guggenheim has been directing his efforts for some months. There is no intimation that the ambassador has brought any pressure whatever to bear and he has not even acted as an intermediary. He has confined himself, according to reliable information, to lending his good offices to both sides as a neutral friend of both, frequently consulting with one side and then the other.

CITY LOSES PHONE APPEAL IN U. S. SUPREME COURT

The appeal of the city of Chicago and the Illinois commerce commission for a reduction of telephone rates in Chicago pending a hearing in the federal court on the merits of the city's case against the Illinois Bell Telephone company was dismissed yesterday by the United States Supreme court.

The court held, however, that the case in the federal court should go to trial immediately. The telephone company already had obtained several postponements and Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein, representing the city, claimed that the lower rates ordered by the commerce commission in 1923 should be in effect until the case has been heard.

The federal court in Chicago gave the company a temporary injunction in 1929 restraining the commission from enforcing its order for lower rates. In an appeal to the United States Supreme court Attorney Goldstein obtained a ruling that the case should be opened again for the submission of more evidence. The submission of the additional evidence is expected to begin on Aug. 1.

NEW ZEALAND TO OUST POLITICS FROM RAILWAYS

Roads Broke, Business Men Will Run Them.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WELLINGTON, New Zeland, May 25.—Abandoning a policy as old as the colony, the New Zealand government has introduced in parliament a bill to take politics out of the vast state owned railroad system of $300,000,000 capital expenditure, and which has 3,000 miles of track through the length and breadth of this mountainous country.

Years of recurrent railway deficits and steady work in the extension of an unpaying system have led New Zealand to the conclusion that there is only one way out. Even now, the present government is pushing ahead a railway link in the south island which will cost $15,000,000 and there is little chance of it ever being anything but a dead loss. No government heretofore has been able to resist the temptation of capturing the votes of the people with borrowed money expended on construction works, especially as the money was raised over seas under the guise of "developmental works."

Build to Lure Votes.

The New Zealand voters are highly fickle and about one-third of the members of the house of representatives are counted as casualties at each general election. This being so, the successive governments have found the expenditure of loan money an easy way to retain support throughout the country, even though they may lose individual electorates.

The railways have been losing money for five years past, when motor competition began to hit them hard. This loss of ground by the railways has been helped by the fact that highways have been built side by side with the fixed track and on an elaborate structure of taxation reared to aid in the laying of new roads. New Zealand now prides herself on the fact that she is third in the world in the number of cars possessed per 100 of population. There is a motor to every family and some to spare.

Railways in "Queer Street."

The continued policy of constructing more lines in the hope of some return from them in the distant future has landed the railways in "queer street." Some years ago it became evident that the system could not pay the interest upon the capital sunk in it and meet working expenses as well. So a reserve fund was set up from past profits and the subsequent losses came out of this. That continued until this year, when the fund was exhausted and the government had to devise new methods of taxation in the effort to cover the deficitt.

Instead of a $10,000,000 return from the railways necessary to cover interest charges and establish some reserve for renewals, the government budgeted this year for only $6,000,000 and decided to cover the rest by special taxes. Then it was found that the $6,000,000 would not be forthcoming and the latest returns show that the revenue from the railways will be only a little over $1,500,000. This discovery precipitated the crisis and now the railways are to be removed from political control.

Exploited by Politicians.

All lines have been owned and operated by the state for more than two generations, and the failure of the system is a cause of grief to those who believe that public ownership should solve difficulties.

The only thing that public ownership has accomplished is the building of many lines in unprofitable places for political reasons, and the adoption of a policy that prevented the railroads from making any profit. Any sign of a surplus in railways accounts has always been answered with the cry that the roads were the property of the people and should not be used to exploit them. The result has been that the building up of an adequate reserve fund has been impossible.

The new proposals, which are considered certain to be adopted, are comprehensive. They provide for management of the railways by a board of five business men, who may make purchases, dispose of property no longer needed, but must have consent for any transactions of more than $5,000, and may not build new tracks unless they obtain the consent of parliament. Parliament itself may not add to any lines without the consent of the board, so the check is mutual.

State to Pay Expenses.

The present managerial staff will retain their positions under the board and parliament will continue to vote the money needed for the conduct of the railroad, so there is left in the hands of the legislature a most effective veto in the event of any need to exercise it. The chairman of the new board will hold office for four years and the appointments of other board members will be for three years. No politicians are eligible for appointment.

BODY FOUND IN LAKE.

The body of an unidentified man was found yesterday floating in Lake Michigan near Eighth street. It had been in the water five months. The man was about 45 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, and weighed 170 pounds.

How many words with daggers (†) after them can you find in the advertisements in today's Chicago Tribune?

Certain words in advertisements in today's Chicago Tribune have been identified with this mark (†). When all the words so marked are placed in their proper order they will form a "Good Time Charliegram"—a message of good cheer or sound advice, named after Good Time Charlie Dawson, the mythical person who sent $5,000.00 to Mayor Cermak to help bring back good times.

The Tribune is matching Good Time Charlie's offer! This newspaper will pay $1,000.00 a week for five weeks for the best solutions to "Good Time Charliegrams" submitted in accordance with a few simple rules.

THE SIMPLE RULES:

1. Each day for seven consecutive days, daily and Sunday, various words in display advertisements which appear in the Chicago Tribune will be identified by a dagger (†) after the word. When these words are arranged in the proper manner they will form a "Good Time Charliegram"—a message of good cheer or sound advice of interest during the present period of reconstruction. You are invited to look for these words and find the Good Time Charliegram. No words will be hidden in the Want Ads.

2. The Chicago Tribune will pay $1,000.00 in cash prizes to the persons who send in the most nearly correctly arranged and the neatest complete sets of Good Time Charliegrams in accordance with these rules.

3. The prizes for each week are as follows:

5. Good Time Charliegrams are to be submitted in complete sets only. DO NOT send in each day's solution separately. Hold all Good Time Charliegrams until you have the complete set of seven (7). Then send them to "GOOD TIME CHARLIEGRAMS," the Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Illinois. All entries must be received in the Tribune office before 6 P. M. on Wednesday, June 3, 1931.

CANCER CLINICS ADVOCATED FOR WAR ON DISEASE

Mass Attack Is Urged by Medical Society.

New York, May 25.—(AP)—Organization of special cancer institutes, services, and clinics throughout the United States is advocated in a report made public tonight by the directors of the American Society for the Control of Cancer. General hospitals and universities are asked to cooperate.

This coördinated effort, the report states, offers a hope of making more effective the present attempts "to reduce the frightful mortality from this disease."

The report says cancer took more than 150,000 lives in this country in 1929, being exceeded only by heart disease as a principal cause of death.

Reasons Are Outlined.

"The directors of the American Society for the Control of Cancer advocate the organization of special cancer institutes and cancer hospitals, where funds sufficient for their maintenance can be obtained from private or public sources. Where separate institutions of this nature are not obtainable, they recommend the organization of special cancer services and cancer clinics in existing general hospitals for the following reasons:

"1. The most effective method now available for the early diagnosis and successful treatment of cancer in its many situations consists in entrusting this responsibility to a group of interested members of the hospital staff, including especially representatives of the surgical, medical, and radiotherapy staffs, with a pathologist skilled in tumor pathology, and representatives of special departments such as genito-urinary surgery, gynecology, and nose and throat surgery.

Expense Not Heavy.

"2. Such a service can be organized in almost every large general hospital at a minimum expense.

"3. The group method of study of cancer, as in so many other fields, has already contributed materially to the advance of knowledge and has improved the results of treatment of the disease.

"4. Such a service or clinic has also great educational value, not only to the participants on the staff, but to house officers and medical students, nurses, and social workers, to the general staff of the hospital, and to physicians of the community upon whom the hospital depends for its clinical material.

Treatment May Improve.

"5.—It does not seem too much to hope that the further development of such clinics throughout the country and their coördination through the American College of Surgeons may raise the standards of treatment of cancer and, as a practical result, begin to reduce the frightful mortality from this disease."

Doctor Is Ordered Arrested for $200 Back Alimony

Dr. Henry Amberson, a physician having offices at 4342 Elston avenue, was ordered arrested yesterday by Superior Judge Desort for his failure to pay $200 in back alimony to his former wife, Mrs. Nellie Amberson, 4155 Keystone avenue. Payments of $50 a week were granted to Mrs. Amberson when she won a divorce on grounds of desertion last February. At the divorce hearing Mrs. Amberson testified that the doctor had accompanied Miss Florence Wardell, an eighteen year old high school girl, on a trip to Champaign, Ill.

ACTION EXPECTED SOON ON BILL TO ELECTRIFY ROADS

Rail Officials Call Plan an Impossibility.

The Gaines bill to require all Chicago railroads to electrify their lines and terminals inside the city limits before Jan. 1, 1935, will be acted upon within the next week or ten days by the public utilities committee of the house of representatives at Springfield.

Representative William G. Thon [Rep., Chicago], chairman of the railroad electrification subcommittee, made this announcement yesterday following the last of a series of public hearings on the measure, held by his subcommittee in the county building.

Call It Futile Gesture.

Three railroad spokesmen testified before the subcommittee yesterday in opposition to the bill. The substance of their arguments was that electrification at this time would be a physical and financial impossibility and that any attempt by the legislature to force through such a program in the Gaines bill would be a futile gesture. They pictured the railroads as hard hit by the depression and struggling for existance against the competition of waterways and bus and truck lines.

"This bill is unreasonable, unjust, and unnecessary," declared J. L. Flanigan, spokesman for a committee of legal advisors of the Illinois railroads. "It is simply out of the question to talk about electrification at this time.

"In these days of falling revenue a lot of the railroads are going into the red. Moreover, we face the fact that the federal government has voted $500,000,000 to fix up a waterway to compete with us. It is all wrong for either the federal or state governments to subsidize such a project, which is mostly romance anyway. It would be better to subsidize a railroad."

Puts Cost at $122,000,000.

Samuel H. Cady, general solicitor for the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, estimated that complete electrification would cost his road in Chicago $122,000,000. The annual interest on this sum would be $5,490,000, he said, while the present receipts from suburban traffic are less than $4,000,000 annually. He said that to pay the cost of electrification, the North Western would have to increase its suburban passenger 140 per cent.

Another witness, J. J. Siegfreid, representing the Chicago & Alton, agreed with the other railroad men that electrification at this time would be impractical.

At previous hearings health and smoke abatement officials of the city had laid before the subcommittee evidence of the health menace of smoke and cited the railroads as heavy contributors to the smoke nuisance.

CHICAGO swings to Westinghouse Refrigerator
FOR THESE 5 GOOD REASONS

The Westinghouse Refrigerator alone offers a fan cooled, hermetically sealed mechanism. This insures fast, economical cooling and freezing, even where the refrigerator must be placed in a confined pantry, kitchen assembly, recess or corner—where there is little or no circulation of air. This is a vitally important feature.

CHICAGO knows modern refrigerators. It is really not strange, therefore, that preference, in Chicago, should swing decidedly to the Westinghouse "Completely Balanced" Refrigerator for smart suburban homes and city apartments.

For the Westinghouse Refrigerator, in addition to those features common to all modern electric refrigerators, offers many important developments which no well advised purchaser would do without. For example:

1. The very worthwhile savings of $50 to $150 yearly which the Westinghouse makes possible—as compared to less modern equipment.

2. The only conveniently flat, usable Buffet Top, which conceals a hermetically sealed, Quiet Mechanism.

3. The unique Westinghouse Ice Cube Trays which never freeze tight—which can at all times be removed easily.

4. The Built-in Watchman, an exclusive Westinghouse development, which not only turns the current off, when unusual electrical or mechanical conditions arise, but also automatically turns the current on again.

5. The beautiful furniture lines of the Westinghouse—"the best looking refrigerator you have ever seen."

Before you make any promises, sign any papers, or pay any money, see this great Westinghouse product.

Prices are exceptionally reasonable. Only a small down payment is required. Balance may be divided over 12, 18 or even 24 months if desired.

VANDALIA FARM REBELS SUBSIDE AS ESCAPE FAILS

New Structures Ready to Replace 4 Burned.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Vandalia, Ill., May 25.—[Special.]—The spirit of revolt that ruled the Vandalia state penal farm last night and caused the burning of four convict barracks, after an escape plot had failed, seemed to have been dissipated today, although one man succeeded in getting away today during a transfer of prisoners, to be recaptured later.

He was Floyd Osborn, 18, of Edwardsville.

A cordon of highway police still patrols the wire fence inclosing the "yard," but so little unruliness prevails that a militia company was withdrawn and sent back to Salem, its mobilization point.

Four Barracks Burned.

The total of Illinois' latest prison disturbance stands at four prisoners slightly injured by buckshot, inflicted when they climbed the twelve foot fence early last evening only to be brought down by gun fire; and damage estimated by Supt. C. J. Metzger at $10,000. Four of the nine barracks were reduced to ashes, only the brick chimneys and frames of iron cots remaining on the debris covered concrete floors. The dining hall was also fired, but Metzger and his guards succeeded in saving it from serious damage.

A night and morning of investigation by Col. Frank D. Whipp, state superintendent of prisons, inclines him to the theory that last night's trouble was caused by the desire of the inmates to be transferred to the new dormitories, half a mile from the present farm. These are modeled after those built at Lorton, Va., for the District of Columbia reformatory, and are light, airy, and completely sanitary, conditions which do not exist in the old buildings. The burned shacks were wooden, without plumbing, and hardly habitable.

Transferred to New Buildings.

Whether this display of temper was deliberately planned for the moment it exploded has not yet been determined, but it was opportune, for three of the five new dormitories are now ready for occupancy and 300 of the 607 prisoners were transferred there today. Another week and 200 more will be moved. The remainder, a skeleton group of picked trusties, will continue to occupy the old plant until more dormitories are completed.

During the transfer from the old to the new barracks Osborn slipped from the back of a truck carrying bedding, and was running across a field before guards saw him. Posses immediately started a hunt for him and soon found him.

PANTAGES, 3 OTHERS PLACED ON TRIAL IN GIRL MARKET CASE

ALEX. PANTAGES.

San Diego, Cal., May 25.—[Special.]—Alexander Pantages, multi-millionaire theater chain owner of Los Angeles, lost his fight for separate trial on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 16 year old girl, in Superior court today. Pantages sought to have his trial on charges involving Lydia Nitto [Alice Blake] Hollywood high school girl, separated from the hearings of his co-defendants, including Jesse Shreve, Pantages' real estate partner, and William H. Jobelmann and Olive Clark Day, Hollywood, managers of a "Hollywood girl market."

Four defendants, facing charges of contributing to delinquency, were also held for conspiracy to contribute to delinquency. John G. Mills, another real estate partner of Pantages and Shreve, was bound over jointly with his wealthy colleagues, but recently pleaded guilty, and will be a witness for the state.

Selection of a jury had not been completed when court adjourned tonight.

WARDEN FORBIDS HANDCUFFING AS PRISON PENALTY

Maj. Henry C. Hill, warden of the Joliet and Stateville prisons, yesterday issued an order forbidding the handcuffing of prisoners to cell doors while they are in solitary confinement. The only exception is in the case of prisoners, already under punishment, who are guilty of additional serious infractions of discipline. Even in such cases the officials must consult the warden before handcuffing.

MAJOR HILL.

The warden also ordered that hereafter no man may be kept on a diet of bread and water exclusively for more than five days. After that he must be given a full prison ration. Even the five day stretch of bread and water may not be maintained if physicians find that the lack of regular food is injurious to individuals.

As alternative punishments the warden ordered that unruly prisoners be deprived of the privileges of writing and of receiving visitors.

"I am convinced," he said, "that handcuffing to the bars in most cases does more harm than good."

FRANK JORDAN.

The last of the twelve jurymen who are to try Frank Jordan, alias Carl Carlson, for the murder of Policeman Anthony Ruthy on April 26 were selected late yesterday afternoon, and the opening statements of the attorneys will be made today.

Ruthy was shot down when he and Policeman Patrick Durkin, at the request of private detectives, attempted to arrest Jordan on a bank robbery charge at Michigan avenue and Randolph street. Durkin also received wounds from which he died the following day. It has been indicated that Jordan will be tried for the Durkin murder in the event he escapes the death penalty this time.

The shooting of the policemen occurred in the midst of homeward bound crowds of loop workers.

PLAN TO REOPEN INQUEST ON BOY'S "POISON DEATH"

A surprise inquest for 10 o'clock this morning at the Hudson avenue station was contemplated last night in the death of Thomas Meyers, 17 years old, a suspected poison victim.

Plans for a sudden convening of the coroner's jury investigating the case were discussed, it is understood, after Mrs. Margaret Summers, 40 years old, 632 West North avenue, the boy's aunt, who is in custody, had been grilled for hours.

Mrs. Summers was quizzed last night by Assistant State's Attorneys C. Wayland Brooks and E. A. Ferrari. She denied the suspicions of her relatives that she had poisoned her husband and her nephew.

The fact that she held insurance policies on all the men, paying some of the premiums herself, caused Police Captain Thomas Condon to make the arrest. Inquiry has shown, however, that all the men whose deaths are being investigated were heavy consumers of moonshine.

Dr. Clarence Muehlberger, coroner's chemist, has made an analysis of the vital organs of young Meyers and of Thomas Summers. It is expected his report will be read at the inquest, and it was hinted he found a small amount of foreign substance in the boy's organs.

"I'M going, anyway"

THE modern Miss needs no "time out" for the time of month.

If you've ever taken Bayer Aspirin for a headache, you know how soon the pain subsides. It is just as effective in the relief of those pains peculiar to women!

Don't dedicate certain days of every month to suffering. It's old-fashioned. It's unnecessary. Aspirin will always enable you to carry on in comfort. Take enough to assure your complete comfort. If it is genuine aspirin it cannot possibly hurt you. Bayer Aspirin does not depress the heart. It does not upset the stomach. It does nothing but stop the pain.

Headaches come at inconvenient times. So do colds. But a little Bayer Aspirin will always save the day. A throat so sore you can hardly swallow is made comfortable with one good gargle made from these tablets. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Rheumatism. Pains that once kept people home are forgotten half an hour after taking a few of these remarkable tablets. So are the little nagging aches that bring fatigue and "nerves" by day, or a sleepless night.

Bayer-Tablets Aspirin Genuine

Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets cost so very little after all, that it doesn't pay to experiment with imitations!

They said RUTH CHATTERTON was through!

WHEN Ruth Chatterton chucked her stage career, they said she was through. She went to Hollywood. And couldn't get a job. She'd been a star and producer on Broadway. But the traditions and glories of The Great White Way meant nothing to movie magnates. They shook their heads.

She was down to her last eight dollars—and nowhere to turn. But she was a thoroughbred of the theatre... and grimly fought for her chance. She won!

Today, as everyone knows, she has carved out a new fame, perhaps greater than her old... proved there are more roads than one to the top.

Ruth Chatterton's story... with its heartaches and triumphs... is in the June American Magazine. Read it.

Sway the Buying Power of this great market!

Simply lift your telephone—

At an hour's notice the most powerful force in selling is working for you. It's the force of newspaper advertising.

> No other medium that brings your message to the public can be that flexible.

No other medium can deliver your sales story so quickly—so adequately—so timely.

You can't adequately cover Philadelphia and its A. B. C. suburbs with any other form of advertising.

It's too big. Here are 843,000 families—over 3,709,000 people—all residing within A. B. C. Philadelphia and suburban area.

Here, in a compact territory, are more people than live in Los Angeles, Boston, Baltimore, and New Orleans combined; in fact more people than live in anyone of 39 of the 48 states.

This concentration of population is due principally to the fact that more people reside in the A. B. C. suburbs of Philadelphia than live in the suburbs of any other city with the sole exception of New York.

It indicates buying power that means tonnage and saturation, not smattered, scattered sales.

Measure America's merchandising map with the most exacting yardstick. You won't find a brighter spot than this—a market offering a combination of all the units that make for effective, economical selling.

> You can't do a job here with one newspaper because no one newspaper has sufficient circulation.

But you can sway this tremendous buying power—can completely dominate this market—can obtain 100% coverage—through the Curtis-Martin group of Philadelphia newspapers—Morning, Evening, and Sunday Public Ledger, and Morning and Sunday Inquirer. These great newspapers not only blanket the city and suburbs but give the advertiser a substantial plus of readers outside the A. B. C. area who are influenced by, and respond to, Philadelphia advertising. And the cost is so low as to make possible and profitable the concerted effort this market warrants.

RUSSIA TELLS FINLAND TO MIND OWN BUSINESS

Rejects Protest Note as an "Interference."

MOSCOW, May 25.—(AP)—Assistant Foreign Commissar N. N. Krestinsky today handed a note to the Finnish chargé d'affaires in Moscow saying the soviet government "formally rejects" the Finnish note of May 19 alleging ill treatment of Finnish minorities in Russia.

Says Note Backs Rebels.

The note says: "The Finnish government's note of May 19 objectively supports the counter revolutionary struggles of a negligible handful of kulaks [rich peasants] in the Leningrad region against adoption by the whole population of more advanced forms of agriculture and is an interference with the internal affairs of the U. S. S. R."

It says the declaration referred to in the Finnish note of the chairman of the soviet delegation to the conference which resulted in the soviet-Finnish treaty of Oct. 14, 1920, regarding treatment of the Finnish minority in Russia, was purely an explanatory statement, furnished at the request of Finland, and gave that government no right to interfere in the internal affairs of Russia.

REPLY TO SOVIET PROTEST.

On May 19 the Helsingfors government replied to a protest from Moscow against alleged anti-soviet propaganda in Finland and accused the soviet government of violating the pledges regarding treatment of Finnish minorities in Russia.

The note declared that in spite of the provisions of the treaty of Dorpat, Finnish inhabitants across the soviet border had been deported after losing their rights of self-determination.

The note added that Russia would remove the causes of the present disquietude and agitation if she was really anxious to improve her relations with Finland.

SHANGHAI, May 25.—Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, president of China, in an address at Nanking today, declared that the present Canton movement is taking the direction of a direct rebellion against the central government, and hence "Nanking has no alternative than to treat the Canton situation as open rebellion, necessitating the central government to take immediate steps to protect the government and the people's party."

Gen. Chiang stated that there are possibilities of open hostilities within three weeks. He has ordered six divisions into Kiangsi and Hunan provinces with the purpose of invading Kiangsi and Kwangtung provinces.

The drive on the Canton rebels is under the command of War Minister Ho Ying-chin, whose headquarters are at Changsha, capital of the Hunan province.

The Canton military force has established newspaper censorship, prohibiting news of troop movements.

WEST VIRGINIA ORDNANCE PLANT WILL BE CLOSED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 25.—[Special.]—Disposal of the naval ordnance plant at South Charleston, W. Va., has been decided upon by the navy department as a part of its economy program, it became known today. A number of other naval shore properties also will be scrapped or sold, but so far as could be learned today none of them is of any considerable size.

The South Charleston plant was built to produce armor, but has been on an inoperative basis for some time. It cost upward of $25,000,000, a sum that has been charged up against the cost of the great war, and its annual maintenance cost involves an expenditure of $148,000.

The question of how many of the navy's larger surplus shore properties are disposed of will depend largely upon the White House, as all these properties have strong political support.

Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley disclosed today that numerous protests have been received in connection with the army's plans for disposal of fifty-three surplus stations, forts and harbor defenses. Mr. Hurley will make an inspection trip of army posts in June.

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD THURSDAY FOR DR. WOLCOTT

Funeral services for the Rev. Peter Clarke Wolcott will be held at 9:30 o'clock Thursday in the Trinity Episcopal church, Highland Park, of which he was rector for thirty-three years. Bishop George Craig Stewart will officiate. The Rev. Dr. Wolcott, who was 75 years old, died on Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lyman Prior, in Jacksonville, Fla. He had retired from the active ministry five years ago.

Dr. Wolcott's memoirs relate that he was an observer of raids on Memphis, Tenn., during the civil war, and at the close of the war many prominent Confederates, among them Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, withdrew from membership in Calvary church in Memphis and formed a new church. This was done because the Wolcott family, who were Unionists, had been affiliated with Calvary parish.

After the civil war, Dr. Wolcott was a teacher among the Sioux Indians.

"I well remember hearing the news of Custer's defeat at Little Big Horn," Dr. Wolcott wrote in his memoirs. "It was transmitted by those mysterious means by which Indians convey messages over great distances by smoke and heliograph and drum signals. It was known to our camp 24 hours before it came by telegraph."

Dr. Wolcott is survived by his daughter and two sons, Denver and Leonard.

Beals Writes Kindly Study of Mexicans

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"MEXICAN MAZE" by Carleton Beals (Lippincott) is the most sympathetic picture of our troublesome southern neighbor that I have ever read. And it has a certain definite power and impressiveness in its own right, in the way that it is written. If at times it gets a little flowery in its descriptions the material which the author is dealing with would explain his embroidered style.

CARLETON BEALS.

As Mr. Beals says: "There is something savage, untamed, perhaps untamable at the source of Mexican life. The very marrow boils. . . . The sense of form, color and rhythm is innate in the Mexican being; and if the expression seem to us at times garish, the vitality grips one the more intensely." Those very words might be quoted about "Mexican Maze." "If the expression seem to us at times garish, the vitality grips one the more intensely——" the book has grip one intensely. Mr. Beals really knows and understands Mexico.

It pictures it for us from every angle. He describes the native life in tableau against its background of natural beauty. He discusses the social and artistic manifestations of life there. He intersperses with his observations—all of them the result of an obvious passionate interest and will to understand—just enough of the history of the country to explain its reputation and the psychology of its people. "Mexican Maze" is in no sense a history of Mexico, and yet when you have finished the book you have a fundamental understanding of the generations and generations which have gone to make up the hodge-podge country.

Mr. Beals will sum up years of history in a paragraph, like this: "Though the Madero revolution began by worshiping the red nosed, club footed idol, 'Political Democracy,' the militarists, the politicians, the laborites, the peasants, the Indians—all were mutilated this along with a hundred other lesser foreign gods. Political democracy found no real popular echo; the social, economic, educational and collective bases were nonexistent. They perhaps cannot be created until the warring racial, cultural, and industrial forces of the era find some equilibrium. Madero went down. The dream of political democracy went smash. After Madero came Huerta, the bloodthirsty drunken troglodyte; Villa, the half savage bandit idealist; Carranza, the stately obstinate Caesar; Zapata, idealistic, crude, despotic; Obregon, the plump card sharper of ambitions. After Madero came a cyclonic upsurging of ambitious personalities, primitive cruelties, luxurious, social frenzy—and Mexico hit the hadir of indecency and disorder, an epoch replete, to bursting with bloodshed, fantasy, plunder, lust, an epoch so terribly monstrous that it could have but one answer: The old, crude military tradition reasserted itself with a bang."

Not only does that paragraph tell the history of Mexico for an epoch so that you aren't liable to forget it, but it is characteristic of the author's passionate style of writing. Flamelike it is.

He is bitter about the way oil lands are stolen from unsuspecting natives. He tells in two vivid pages the story of one bitter case.

Mr. Beals says that the "mode of thought and conduct and of living is aptly described as the 'vacilada' . . . which is characterized by irresponsibility, recklessness, whimsicality, irrationality, passion, daring, Caesarian nobility. . . . the vacilada is a combination of the ridiculous and the sublime, of vulgarity and purity, of beauty and ugliness, of spirituality and sensuality, disconcertingly tripping over each other, showering the world with a passing glory, like the spray of a geyser flame." Almost impossible as it would seem to be, Mr. Beals does make that incomprehensible race comprehensible to his readers. The Mexican, he says, wears life like a flower behind the ear, to be tossed to the seductive siren, Adventure, the stately dame known as Pride, to winged Victory, or the debonair goddess, Courage."

The author is concerned with the present Mexico rather than with any possible future state. But he does, before he ends the book, discuss the possibilities which present themselves. They are first, he says, "military and political conquest, either as a prelude or an epilogue to economic absorption. At present no such war seems imminent; but always it remains a possibility—intervention, partial annexation (of the oil regions); imposition of a president through a military supervised plebiscite. The immediacy of any such president sustaining himself would necessitate permanent intervention. Military government would result . . . ultimate gradual absorption into our own federal system."

The results of such events would be disastrous to both the United States and Mexico, he predicts. "Economic penetration, coupled with steady diplomatic pressure, would probably prove less disastrous for both. The contentment, peace and happines of Mexico and the United States depend by and large," he says, "upon Mexico maintaining its political independence and as rapidly as possible achieving its economic independence. It is to our interest that Mexico . . . enjoys independent life, happiness, and prosperity."

The book is copiously illustrated by Diego Rivera, the outstanding artist of contemporary Mexico. It is the June choice of the Book League of America.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Not even good acting can put this back number across.

The story has whiskers; the lines have a musty flavor; the action drags—and there's not a surprise in the carload. "Never the Twain Shall Meet" just—ain't!

The story concerns a wild heathen femme from a South Sea isle, cast in New York by circumstance as the ward of a rich young American. In her hula fashion she vamps Dan into a state of asininity. Mastered by his infatuation for Tamea, he follows her back to her home. Here he, as the saying is, "goes native," and, in due course of time becomes acutely miserable.

His rescue by his fair, faithful, one time fiancée occurs in time for a happy ending.

"Never the Twain Shall Meet," a Peter B. Kyne story, was adapted to the screen in 1925 by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer with Anita Stewart and Bert Lytell in the leading rôles. Then, as in the present version, the cast made a greater impression than the vehicle.

Leslie Howard — splendid actor!— does all that could be expected of him as Dan. That he lacked interest in the rôle is apparent—but it is not a rôle to inspire interest. Conchita Montenegro [Tamea] is clever enough but has little if any personal appeal. Karen Morley is coolly pleasing and other players qualify.

I hope you like this movie better than I did.

See you tomorrow.

Lutherans Again in Lead in Church Membership Gains

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

For another year Lutheran churches show the greatest growth in membership among Protestant communions of Chicago. This was revealed yesterday morning in a report by Walter R. Mee, executive secretary of the Chicago Church federation, before the united ministers' meeting at the Central Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Mee explained that there are three major divisions represented in the Lutheran church of Chicago—known as synods—which, in administration, may be compared to three separate denominations. The three Lutheran synods are the Missouri, the United, and the Augustana. The figures collected by the church federation represent the growth of all synods and reach a total of 13,565 new members gained in the last year. Two hundred and seven Lutheran churches of all synods reported.

Ranking second to the Lutherans are the 210 Methodist Episcopal churches, with a net increase of 7,140 during the year. Presbyterians are third, with an increase of 5,608 new members in that denomination's 120 churches. Episcopalians stand fourth, with an increase of 3,611 in 114 parishes. The Congregational churches are fifth, with 2,970 new members in 88 churches.

A total of 55,591 is the number of new members gained during the last year in 1,300 Protestant churches, Mr. Mee reported. Nearly half that total represents accessions by confession or reaffirmation of faith. The other half are new members of Chicago churches who presented their letters from congregations outside the city.

Doris Kenyon Tells Her Role as Singer in Visit to Chicago

Doris Kenyon may be known principally for her work on the silver screen, but she confided yesterday that she is on her way to Berlin and Salzburg to sing at the Mozart festival.

Miss Kenyon is the widow of Milton Sills, the motion picture actor. She was accompanied by her small son, Kenyon Sills, who had a brief visit with his grandmother, Mrs. William H. Sills, 1223 East 50th street, before leaving with his mother for the east on the Twentieth Century of the New York Central.

Miss Kenyon hasn't forsaken motion pictures, she declared. She has just finished "Co-Respondent," with William Powell, and before that helped George Arliss make "Alexander Hamilton."

Hadley Calls on Veterans to Serve U. S. During Peace

Charles W. Hadley, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission, delivered a Memorial day address yesterday before the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion. "Let us remember, as we glorify the brave men of other days," he said, "that other battles are to be fought, other bands to be severed, other chains to be loosed, and other problems to be solved."

Following closely on the golden jubilee celebration of the American Red Cross last Thursday came the arrival yesterday of the international head of the Red Cross, Dr. Max Huber of Zurich, Switzerland, who will be the guest of the Chicago chapter today and tomorrow.

Dr. Huber was optimistic over the future of the Red Cross and praised America's part in molding its peace time relief policy. Dr. Huber is a member of the international court of justice at The Hague and was its president from 1925 to 1927.

"By great strides the work of the Red Cross has gained in vitality and usefulness," he said. "I am convinced that the national Red Cross in the United States has played a most important part in the evolution of the Red Cross. Although it was organized for the nursing of soldiers, it has become as vital in peace times as in war."

The Red Cross chief, who arrived in the Capitol limited, was met by James B. Forgan Jr., chairman of the Chicago chapter; James T. Nicholson, manager, and Dr. Ernst Buehler of the Swiss consulate, and at noon a luncheon was given for him at the University club by the executive committee of the Chicago chapter. Today he will address the council on foreign relations and visit the University of Chicago.

Another distinguished visitor in Chicago yesterday was Sir Arthur Salter, representative of the British empire at the league of nations, and until recently director of the economic and financial sections of the league. Sir Arthur, in an address before the Chicago council on foreign relations, expressed hope that the time will come when the patriotism of nations, usually expressed by armed force, will find an outlet in combating unemployment.

Army Chaplains Hit Pacifism as Menace to Integrity of U. S.

A resolution adopted yesterday by the Chaplains' association of the Sixth Corps area condemned pacifism as "communistic and atheistic."

"Many religious leaders and educators adopt an ultra-pacifist attitude and thereby foster destructive communism together with its ally, atheism," declared the resolution which was adopted in a meeting at the Sherman hotel. "The Chaplains' association realizes that the integrity of our country depends upon the loyalty of its citizens and believes that the best way of preserving this loyalty is an adequate development of the national defense act of 1920."

JOINT SONG RECITAL PLEASES WRITER AS LATE SPRING EVENT

Among the late blooming spring musical events comes the joint song recital at Kimball hall last night by Maria Matyas, mezzo-soprano, and Rudolph Magnus, baritone, whose high range almost entitles him to be called a tenor. Miss Matyas is exceptionally gifted in quality, power, and flexibility of voice, although a somewhat enigmatic theory of how to pronounce words in song renders her about equally intelligible in English, Italian, and French. She is, however, as graphic as any one could desire when it comes to interpreting a melodic phrase, or, for that matter, a complete song.

Mr. Magnus, on the contrary, has evidently made a profound study of how language, and particularly the English language, should be projected so as to be completely understood by an audience. Both artists had some interesting and none too frequently heard specimens of song literature in their sections of the program. Miss Matyas introduced a work by the first American composer, Francis Hopkinson, which was almost Handelian in character. Mr. Magnus discovered a fine work by Dr. Arne, an excerpt from his setting of Milton's "Comus." In fact a great part of the entire program of both was both unfamiliar and well chosen. E. M.

Two Schools Greet Girl Orator Upon Return to Chicago

A young miss of 16 years whose talent for oratory placed her second in the national oratorical contest in Washington, D. C., on Saturday, came home a conquering heroine yesterday. She is Ever Louise Conner, 2314 East 70th street, a sophomore at the Aquinas Dominican High school, Clyde avenue and 72d street.

Miss Conner was surprised when she stepped off a Baltimore and Ohio train to find a delegation of sixty fellow students, three faculty members, and Fathers J. P. O'Donnell and Jerome Dehnert of St. Philip Neri church there to greet her, as well as a bouquet of roses from the student body which was presented by Margaret McNeill, president of the sophomore class. But she hardly expected the ovation to expand to a turnout of two schools in her honor.

Upon reaching the high school Miss Conner was congratulated by the Very Rev. Msgr. William J. Kinsella, pastor of St. Philip Neri, and the Rev. D. Francis Ryan of the same church. The whole student body of St. Philip Neri grammar school, where Miss Conner was a former pupil, and her classmates of Aquinas Dominican were waiting in the auditorium to hear a sample of her oratory, which was given in a half hour's address.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

A COMEDY on the idea of God began the last chapter of the Theater Guild's season at the Illinois last night. This organization, which has undertaken the heroic task of leading the American drama out of the wilderness, invites playgoers, after their prolonged indulgence in the affairs of the world and the flesh, to pause for a while and meditate upon the existence of divinity. When the tendencies of the contemporary stage are taken into account, this is a stroke of decided originality.

The play, called "He," comes from the French of Alfred Savoir, and is a light, leisurely affair, in no wise dismayed or emotionally overwhelmed with its impressive theme. It has the easy, casual flick of Parisian wit. Its theology is gracefully disguised with the mild epigrams of a pleasant after dinner chat. It never argues; it never loses its temper or its manners; it merely discusses, with the culture and courtesy of a cardinal, the idea of God.

The Theater Guild seeks to stage unusual plays, and M. Savoir's curious, unpretentious "He" certainly comes under that classification. From the purely dramatic point of view, it is a picturesque trifle; its action is thin, its pace is quiet, its story is not rich with incident. A critic insistent upon activity and emotional drive in the drama may easily set it down as one of the Guild's lapses into comparative insignificance. It is, nevertheless, a play of acute intelligence, fine spirit, and well tempered irony.

A group of free thinkers has assembled in an Alpine hotel to pass resolutions abolishing God. After they have completed that business to their satisfaction they become aware of the presence of a soft spoken stranger, who has attended their meetings and entered a dissenting vote. He is ordering a Manhattan cocktail at the hotel bar when they ask him for his name. He calmly assures them that his name is God and, although he smiles when he says it, they observe that he isn't joking.

The influence of this character, through his sublime faith that he is everything his name implies, spreads quietly among the group of atheists and the hotel staff. He is declared to be mad, of course, and given a course of curative treatment in the shower baths; but one by one they eventually feel the need of him and beseech his aid. He firmly refuses to interfere with the course of Nature and Destiny; he will not exhibit miracles for their amusement or their salvation. Nevertheless the miracles [little, unimportant ones] come to pass.

He himself becomes somewhat humanized by his contacts with these people, a princess whom he wishes to rescue from a life of sensuality transforms him, for a while, into a man. This episode brings him to the utterance which is the crux of M. Savoir's idea—a line to the effect that it does not matter whether he is or isn't God, but that the idea of God, which had not changed with him, is the important thing.

Finally, a searching party from an insane asylum comes for this mysterious young man. That, of course, is the realistic end of the story. But He, although admitting that he was an escaped inmate, baffles realism by vanishing into thin air. He leaves the others gasping over the suspicion that he was really God, after all. . . . As a matter of fact, He merely walks off the stage, down a flight of stairs over the orchestra pit, and up the theater aisle. For the other characters, however, this represents a supernatural vanishment.

"He" is acted with suave skill by a cast typical of the Theater Guild's first line of players. Tom Powers appears as the central character without forcing the note of spiritual quality; Claude Rains is crisply effective as a hotel servant with a streak of Napoleon in his psychology; and Violet Kemble Cooper is a patrician figure as the love-entranced princess.

New Fur Coats Are No Longer Just Fur Coats

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Fifty girls wrapped in the softest of mink and ermine, the slinkiest of Russian broadtail, the irreproachable Persian lamb, the dashing leopard and many other fashionable furs moved languidly down a raised runway last night as spotlights pointed out the virtues of the coats to 1,500 pairs of expert eyes.

It was the debut of the next fall and winter's fashions in furs, made before retailers from throughout the west, under the auspices of the Associated Fur Industries of Chicago. From 50 Chicago and New York houses came the 250 coats displayed. The show followed a banquet in the ballroom of the Palmer house.

With prices lower than they have been in 20 years, from 30 to 40 per cent lower than those of two years ago, according to Louis E. Himmel, president of the association, the parade of the new fashions was attended in high spirits.

Whereas in years gone by a fur coat may have been merely a fur coat, a fur coat next year will be an expression of a woman's taste and even, the experts say, of her studied personality, as much as the hat she wears, the sort of perfume she uses, the shade of lipstick she affects, or the vocabulary she uses.

There was the black Persian lamb coat with a quaint flounce just below the elbow on the sleeves, and tightly fitting undersleeves of natural gray Persian lamb, worn with a little muff, and a collar of the gray which hugged the throat. It gave the blond young woman who wore it a demure look, with its fitted waistline, just above the natural waistline, and the softly flaring long skirt.

Before long, however, the same young woman appeared in a Russian broadtail coat, its glistening blackness accentuating her pallor. Instead of being demure, she was now sophisticated, or she might well have fitted a rôle of a tragic heroine. The scarf collar fell away from her throat, the soft feline pelts clung to her hips and gracefully fell in folds at the hemline. It was not more than 5 inches from the floor.

A straightforward miss—who might have been a clinging vine in a soft squirrel, for instance—swung along in a new three-quarters length coat of eggshell Lapin, with Ascot scarf, notched revers, and a smart leather belt. This length is prescribed for travel or for town wear, which, it seems, is different from city wear. It goes with roadsters of bright hue or football games.

As illustrative of next year's rule, which is that collars may be anything just so they're different, was the Hudson seal coat with horseshoe collar of Russian fitch. So was the narrow scarf collar tied in a bow on another seal, and the brown beaver collar on the tailored, tightly fitting silver muskrat.

Elaborate manipulation of pelts into patterns was seen. A white ermine coat with a high standing collar and bellshaped sleeves created a circular effect with the pelts in the back. Incidentally, it was longer in back than front, which is quite the thing in dress coats.

A squirrel coat was given a touch of sauciness by a bodice effect. The new spring color scheme of brown and gray was embodied in several coats—a soft mink coat being made the more alluring by a gray fox collar and deep cuffs of the fox.

A Jap mink with a bolero back gave a small, red haired girl added grace. What most of the new coats are not is cumbersome. An Eton back, with the pelts arranged to form curving lines, and with the fullness of the flare just above the hemline, gave further feminine charm to a mink coat.

A caracul coat with black marten tie collar proved how full of coquetry a fur coat can be. A black American broadtail trimmed with white ermine called forth all the dignity that a model can summon as she walks across a stage as her courtiers, the buyers, watch her in a cloud of cigar smoke.

THE CLICK OF THE GATE

By Alice Campbell

SYNOPSIS.

Clare, fifteen year old daughter of Iris de Bertincourt, disappears mysteriously. She and her mother lived in a remote section of Paris. Clare attended a school play one evening and was brought home by friends. Her mother heard the car stop in front of the house and Clare's friends bidding her good night, but when she opened the door Clare had vanished.

Iris has been separated for years from her husband, Marcel de Bertincourt, a man of great charm, but no moral sense. They are cousins and the possible heirs of their tyrannical Aunt Victoire, the Comtesse de Castelmauron.

Iris planned to divorce her husband and marry Maj. Alan Charnwood. Charnwood, about to depart for Africa, has postponed his trip to help Iris.

Iris moves to her aunt's home. When she arrives she learns that her husband is already domiciled there. He seems to have changed in character, and has taken charge of the search for Clare. He has been seeing Clare, unknown to her mother, for some time past, and knows more of the child's life and her friends than Iris.

Alan is refused admittance at the home of the comtesse. Iris sees him secretly and tells him that on account of her aunt's financial assistance she cannot offend her. They plan to meet at Helen Roderick's, the American woman for whom Iris has been working. Alan meets Marcel at Helen's and learns that they are friends, unknown to Iris. He recalls having seen Marcel at Le Touquet, gambling heavily, and hobnobbing with a coarse bleaking couple. Alan runs across an old friend, Tommy Rostetter, a journalist, and asks his help. They drop into a café, where Alan sees the woman who was one of De Bertincourt's companions in Le Touquet. They go to Tommy's apartment. Tommy shows Alan an apartment opposite, formerly Marcel's but now occupied by Suzanne Marly, an actress. As he is leaving, Alan sees Marcel entering Miss Marly's home. Helen tells Alan that she had dinner with Marcel the night Clare disappeared. Alan receives a wire giving him an extra fortnight's leave in Paris.

Iris receives a letter stating that Clare is being held for ransom.

INSTALLMENT XXXII.

A PROMISE EXTRACTED.

There was a second page, containing a map, but Iris did not so much as glance at it. Already she was out of bed, halfway to the door, when, starting up with a dazed face, Marcel put out a hand to stop her.

"Wait! Where are you going?"

"To Tante Victoire, at once! There's not a moment to lose! Come!"

"But—but what exactly does it say? And here—what is this?"

He had picked up a small parcel which had fallen out of the envelope. It contained a lock of golden-brown hair tied with red cotton, and a little silver medal, engraved with Clare's name. Tears sprang to Iris' eyes. She clutched the disk mutely, pressing the lock to her lips.

"They are hers—hers! O, it is true! Quick, give me the letter back!"

He had taken it from her and spread it on the table to examine its contents for himself. She could see his whole body trembling, the veins standing out on his forehead. She grew annoyed.

He plucked at his collar. "I feel absurdly faint," he muttered. "The shock of this has knocked me to bits——"

She pulled at the bell-cord. "There, Ursule will bring you some brandy," she said, and seizing the printed sheets she flew to her aunt's room, scorning the weakness of the man she left behind. What, collapse at a time like this?

"How! What's this? Ransom! So that is the story!"

Clare was alive. That fact alone, for all the terror lurking under the surface, was enough to put new life into her.

"Tante Victoire! There's news of Clare!"

The upright figure in the heavily curtained bed fell back against the mountainous pillows, struggling for breath.

The little withered Ursule bent to raise the prone body. Iris felt a spasm of fear lest her too sudden announcement had precipitated an attack, but after a few gasps the astonishing old woman recovered, and pushed the maid roughly aside.

"What have you there? Let me see," she commanded.

Iris thrust the pages into her hands, while with lightning haste Ursule produced spectacles and false teeth and laid a square of black lace on her mistress' disordered hair.

"How! What's this? Ransom! So that is the story!"

The small eyes read the letter through without skipping a syllable. Iris watching, was upable to discern either surprise or dismay. It might have been a legal contract her aunt was studying, bent on detecting flaws.

Marcel came into the room. Without turning her head, Iris felt his presence, heard the intake of his breath. Presently he moved to the bedside and, kneeling down, took the old woman's hand in his with a gesture childlike and confiding. Although there was no outward sign one could sense a sudden softening beneath the comtesse's adamant exterior.

The reading came to an end. The comtesse said in a calculating tone, "How does one know this is not the work of an impostor?"

"Impostor——?" faltered de Bertincourt, stiffening slightly.

"See, Tante Victoire!"—and Iris put the medal and lock of hair into her aunt's hand.

"Yes, there is no doubt that these belong to Clare." For the first time there was a faint tremor of the lips. "But," with renewed firmness, "they do not prove her to be alive."

Iris stifled a cry as the logic of this objection reached her bewildered brain. It was true, both tokens could have been removed from the child's dead body.

"Mind, one must look this square in the face. Trickery or not, it is a bold scheme to extract a large sum of money, and we have no guarantee that the authors will or can keep to their bargain. It wants careful consideration." She closed her eyes and with a gesture enjoined silence.

The two De Bertincourts, without looking at each other, waited in a state of tension, each trying to fathom the thoughts behind the impenetrable mask. In this old tyrant's hands rested several fates. If she chose to withhold her aid, by what conceivable means could three million francs be raised? For a hideous moment Iris feared a refusal. At last the little eyes unclosed and studied the two white faces. There was a noticeable shrewdness in their scrutiny.

"I will pay this ransom," said the comtesse slowly. "Whoever these criminals are, they have us in their power so that we are compelled to obey them. If they can be brought to justice, so much the better. We will do our utmost to punish them. But we will not speak of that now. What I must do at once is to consult my bankers and have the money in readiness."

A sigh escaped De Bertincourt's lips. Iris was too absorbed in her own sensations of relief to hear it. Clare was to be rescued! At the same time she felt a wild instinct to safeguard her own independence.

"Tante Victoire, enormous as this sum is, Marcel and I wish to discharge the debt, which I know we can do in time. If you will consent to put it into legal form——"

"Legal form?" repeated the comtesse with flashing eyes. "Never! I make no move. A gift—a free gift, to my two children." She paused to let her words sink in. "Nor do I ask thanks. It rests with you to repay me, if you so desire, in the only way which can bring me any happiness for my declining years. I believe you both understand my meaning."

Again stillness reigned in the vast room. The wrinkled visage, shadowed by the maroon bed curtains, looked like a plaster cast, only the eyes alive, darting glances avid and at the same time pleading. Iris was unable to speak, and when she looked at her husband it was to see him, ashen-faced, moistening his dry lips with an expression of nervous dread. She fancied he would have liked to run from the loathsome duty about to be imposed on him.

It was he who spoke first, the tell-tale muscle in his cheek twitching.

"We are in your hands, Tante Victoire. Tell us what it is you wish?"

The inevitable words fell slowly from her lips. "I desire that you, my dear nephew, and Marie shall come together and live as husband and wife to the end of your lives. That is all. When your child returns she must find no division in her home. Her parents must be united to welcome her."

"I cannot decide this alone," Marcel said in a husky voice. "I long ago forfeited any right to ask Iris to return to me. It is entirely for her to say whether or not she can consider such an arrangement."

So it was to be left to her!

"You hear, Marie?" urged the old woman. "What are you going to say?"

The brink was reached. Just as she had known she would do, Iris shut her eyes and took the plunge. Her voice sounded far away, as though it belonged to some one else.

"Very well. I will do as you wish."

"You give your consent?" Suddenly dominating, the comtesse pulled herself up amongst the pillows. Tears, for the first time in Iris' recollection, oozed from her puckered lids. She touched the bowed head in solemn blessing. "God be praised for this—it is His doing. Let the knowledge of that dwell in both your hearts and bind you together."

Marcel was weeping. The moisture hung thick on his uncurving lashes. Iris alone remained untouched by the emotional crisis, and when her husband's lips brushed her hand lightly she tried not to draw away.

"And now," exclaimed the comtesse, full of her new energy, "leave me to dress. I am going to interview my bankers."

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Chance to Aid Ex-Service Man.

"An ex-service man who has recently been discharged from the hospital is planning to make a living by opening a store. He needs equipment, which he cannot buy. Perhaps your readers can help him. A few tables or counters and scales of the size and type used in a grocery store are what he needs most. P. D."

The merchant who replaces his equipment from time to time may be able to give this ex-service man the start he needs. Any pieces you no longer need would be greatly appreciated.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Amused the Passengers.

The most embarrassing moment I've ever had occurred the other morning. After being out late the night before I was quite sleepy and fell asleep on the elevated. Suddenly, about two stations before where I got off, I awoke with a jerk, glanced out and, not recognizing the surroundings, jumped up, thinking I was on the street car and would get off at the corner. Just then we passed a small station where the train didn't stop and I realized that I still had quite a way to go. I sat down again with every one's eyes upon me. L. R.

Intelligent Care Is Health Insurance for Mother-to-Be

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Whether you think "another bundle of joy is coming," as one mother wrote me—or whether you are ecstatic at the thought of your first baby—or just quietly happy at the prospect of having a small son or daughter—or a practical woman who wants to be efficient above all things—there are two aims you will surely have.

You will want your baby to be healthy and you will want to be healthy yourself after your baby is born. You will want these things because it's sensible to want them. You will want them because they are debts you owe your baby and must pay—he must be healthy and he must have a healthy mother.

You will want them because they are your duty to your husband. A sick baby or a sick wife is a great burden for a man to carry. And last but not least, you want health for yourself and your baby because you cannot have the fullest joy of being a mother without them both.

The road to this double health is found by taking suitable care of yourself during pregnancy. This may seem to many of you a foolish statement for me to make—because you may say "What modern woman doesn't know that?" But you would be surprised to learn how many young women do not know it, and it is vital knowledge for them to possess. Hence this article.

Some of the girls who write me are utterly ignorant of the whole subject of prospective motherhood. Others who write say that they want to know the proper things to do, but that their mothers ridicule the idea of going to a doctor at this time. "I never did," they say.

Still others write that their mothers-in law are old fashioned or bring ideas from the faraway land of their birth and oppose the important and intelligent procedure known as pre-natal care. They also dangle superstitions before the mind of the mother-to-be, like that of "marking" the baby.

If you're going to have a baby, disregard opposition, ridicule, superstitions and benighted notions. These are due to ignorance, no matter how intelligent the person may seem in other ways. When you are sure you are going to have a baby, search out the means of taking proper care of yourself and making adequate preparations for its coming, regardless of what any one may say.

Information on this subject will b sent on receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If there's one thing that will set another women to "doin' likewise," it's when an old friend bobs up with a brand new silhouette from which pounds and pounds have been removed. There's comfort in the knowledge that Gracey or Anne weighs more than you and looks it. But let Gracey or Anne blow around, some day, with the story of having neatly disposed of some ten, twelve, or fifteen pounds, and looking the new girlish part, and your smug content gives way to envy or an eager up-and-doing likewise. The latter being, of course, the preferred reaction.

M. was telling me of her experience along this line. She had a long time friend whose overripe upholstering was ever a solace in M.'s hours of unease over her own fat encumbrance. M. had hours of uneasiness. Along comes friend Annabel, one recent day, looking like the college mate she was, some ten years back. Now M. is keeping appointments regularly with the reducing salon she signed up with the day after Annabel's appearance.

"I could stand everything," M. confided, "but the fact that Annabel could wear a blouse and skirt again, just as she did in the old days and when she tugged at that loose skirt belt and showed room to spare there—well, that was the finish of me as a fat lady."

Knowing the women involved, inquiry developed that Annabel had done her figure remolding on an easy payment plan. She phoned her doctor one day after a terrifying spell with a public weighing machine. Seventeen pounds over was what she read on the slip that popped out of the machine as Annabel popped on to it. The doctor said, "You're one of those starch weighted people. Cut out starches for awhile. You've been lunching on sandwiches, eating sandwiches in between meals, and consuming too much bread at meals. So you've got enough starch stored up to carry you along for a month. Eat everything but starch foods. And report in six weeks."

Annabel reported thirteen pounds gone in the six weeks. The starch ban meant beside no bread—no biscuits, no pies, pastry, or potatoes. Now, this diet is recommended only for women who are really overweight. Anna was seventeen pounds plus. And she had been consuming many starchy foodstufs. But it certainly "did take her in and down," all by following the doctor's orders.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

How to make red raspberries attractive to the wholesale and retail trade is told by R. S. Marsh, horticultural extension specialist of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, after a study of present producing and marketing methods.

A clean pint box of white tulip wood with a false bottom is one of the most attractive packages for the berries. Using fruit of the best quality and possibly wrapping with transparent wrapping tissues appeal to the discriminating housewife, in Mr. Marsh's opinion.

"Transparent wrapping paper not only adds to the attractiveness of the fruit but also suggests cleanliness when the package is displayed on open-air and sidewalk retail fruit stands which now are so numerous," says Mr. Marsh.

"Some of the first shipments of red raspberries from southern Illinois in past years have sold for $9 and $10 for a 24 pint crate. The crop is expected to bring within 20 per cent of normal prices this year. Of course, the price falls as the supply increases and when the season is nearly over most sales are being made at $4 and $4.50 a crate. A few growers have reported that the crop of Latham red raspberries, the second year after planting, returned a gross of about $1 for every plant set out the preceding year. As the plants sell for about $30 to $35 a thousand, this is a high return on the original investment."

The extension specialist advises Illinois berry producers that the Latham and the Chief are recommended for the state on the basis of high yields, disease resistance and season of bearing. The Chief matures a crop about 10 days earlier than the Latham, thus extending the marketing season when a grower combines the two varieties.

Race Opening Draws Many Society Fans

BY THALIA

THE opening of Washington Park yesterday was like old home week for society racing fans, attracting most of that fashionable aggregation of turf followers who'll be seen in regular attendance at Chicago tracks throughout the summer. The weather was perfect—a bit cool in the clubhouse, but so pleasant and warm in the sunny stretches around the track that nearly everybody deserted the boxes for a chair along the rail.

The hundred or so guests of the Raymond Peabodys and Howard Gillespie who went out on the Peabody special arrived early so as to have plenty of time for a buffet luncheon in the private dining room and for placing their bets before the first race. Mrs. Peabody, between trips to the betting and cashiers' windows [she was soon cashing a $10 ticket after the second race] spent most of the afternoon at the rail.

With her were Mrs. Clifford Rodman, in a black wool coat with a black plaid scarf collar and elbow length cuffs and a pert black sailor hat; Mrs. Leslie Wheeler in navy blue and white, and Miss Harriet McLaughlin in a black tailored ensemble and wide brimmed straw hat. Mrs. Peabody wore a blue and white plaid coat and a blue turban with a nose veil.

"Fishers" Are Among Guests.

Mrs. Clive Runnells, who is back from California for a short stay before returning for the summer, was another guest of the Peabodys. She wore a navy black turban and a gray coat collared in fox. Those other recently returned travelers, the James Hall Thornes, who are to tarry in Chicago for just a few weeks before going to the west coast, were in Mr. Gillespie's party. Mrs. Thorne wore a good looking black and white dress and coat and a shiny black straw variation of the sailor hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker had a lucky box party, including Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Cramer, the latter in a tan coat and fussy white turban, and Arthur Meeker Jr. Other clubhouse guests included Mrs. Vincent Bade, the J. Newton Perrys, the John S. Mays, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Builder, Mrs. John A. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Langhorne, Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben MacVeagh, the latter in a brown ensemble; Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Taylor, Miss Jane Schuttler, in a green silk knitted dress and tan coat and hat; Miss Anne Schuttler, in black and white; Mrs. Philip L. Beal, Mr. and Mrs. James Hutchins, Mr. Frank Hibbard, and Mrs. Bernard Ingen.

Florence Hoffman and E. D. Plamondon to Wed.

Mrs. H. T. Hoffman of Minneapolis announces the engagement of her daughter, Florence, to George L. Plamondon, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Plamondon of 2300 Lincoln Park West. Miss Hoffman received her education in Minneapolis, and Mr. Plamondon is a graduate of Georgetown university. He is a member of the Chicago Athletic club and is in business with his father. The wedding, which is to be a small family affair, is to take place at the Holden-Stratford on June 8. Mr. Plamondon and his bride are to go to Europe for their wedding trip.

Don't be gushy or emphatic these days if you would speak with the social inflection to your conversation. Whereas a while back, you might have ecstatically, "Wonderful!" "Adorable!" "Gorgeous!" or some other verbal extravagance about anything from a new baby to an old house, now you refer to parties, art, music, or what have you as "amusing." The use of "terribly" with almost any adjective gives the proper tone, too, but the emphasis must be administered with gravity and reserve.

Tact in particular must be "amusing." To achieve this quality, one should be given in some unusual way, some sort of unusual entertainment should be provided, something unusual done. The party Sidney Heap is giving tonight lives up, in anticipation, to all three qualifications. It's to be a dinner at the old Woman's Athletic club in the Harvester building, and the guests have been bidden to wear their bathing suits—a sort of Silver Lido affair.

The private inspection of the John G. Shedd aquarium and the buffet supper Mrs. Shedd, Mrs. Kersey Coates Reed, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe are giving is to be this evening at 9:30 o'clock.

Chicago Girls Will Receive Diplomas.

Chicago girls to receive diplomas from Smith college at the commencement exercises on June 15 include Lillian Dudley, daughter of Raymond C. Dudleys; Elizabeth Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Perkins; Frances Elizabeth Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Blair; Katherine Daniels, daughter of Mrs. Chauncey Blair, and Anne Penfroses, daughter of the Henry Penfroses. Elizabeth Perkins graduates with a phenomenally fine scholastic record, having been elected to Phi Beta Kappa in her junior year and having won numerous scholarship and substantial recognitions. Katherine Daniels has been on all sorts of athletic teams during her college career and has had her hand in most of the campus activities. She is a member of Studio club and the Idler society, membership in which depends upon good academic standing and activity in at least one of the arts.

Did you know—that Mrs. D. Mark Laughlin went east with Mrs. George B. McLaughlin, who was one of the delegates to the meeting of the Garden Club of America, and that they visited Mrs. Franklin Remington at Bronxville, N. Y. . . . that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor are back from Toronto, where they went for the running of the King's Plate, one of the most exclusive and important events of the Canadian racing season at Woodbine. . . . that Mrs. Malcolm N. Fay of New York gave a luncheon at the Casino in New York last Thursday for Mrs. Joseph B. Long and Mrs. Palmer Durbin. . . . that the Robert Hollisters Jr. are to return next week from a European trip?

Miss Alicia Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patterson, 209 Lake Shore drive, flew into Chicago last evening to spend a few days before continuing her journey to New York. She landed last Wednesday in San Francisco, having completed a six months' big game and fishing expedition into the interiors of Australia and Indo-China.

Dr. Fred Tonney Asks 'Adequate' Laboratory for Health Department

Dr. Fred O. Tonney, director of the Chicago health department laboratories, last night old members of the Society of Internal Medicine that Chicago should established a public health research laboratory commensurate with the needs of the metropolitan area.

"This is the major public health problem underlying the immediate problems that are before us," said Dr. Tonney. "The time is ripe for the establishment of a research laboratory, housed in a specially designed building, situation in a central location, and planned not only for immediate needs but for the emergencies of the future."

Dr. Tonney also listed 37 papers which were written by himself and members of the research staff of the health department since 1910 on researches conducted in the laboratory located in the city hall. But for every problem successfully completed, he said, a number of others could not receive adequate attention because of the lack of the needed facilities and staff.

Spring Exhibit at Johnson's Is Good Show

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

Chester Johnson in his galleries on the second floor of the Fine Arts building has arranged for his spring exhibit an extraordinarily good show.

In the hall great murals by Bernard Boutet De Monvel greet you with more than customary clap on the shoulder. He has contrived lifesize plaster figures against a background of green cactus leaves. It is rather as though you were walking into a hall of statuary which by some odd chance had lost its third dimension and had become flat. These are excellent copies in white paint of what any formal museum would think necessary in its replica department.

A magnificent flower still life by Odilon Redon breathes hope from the hall window. Water colors by various American artists are in the entry and the little room. John Marin has a tantalising and fascinating arrangement in green and blue which intrigues you under the formal title of "The Fir Tree and the Sea."

Pop Hartz has some gorgeous, fiery, vehement water colors of Mexican life. Martha Walter has a spinning, colorful glimpse of Spain, as perhaps Spain will not be again. Charles Sheeler brings an austere, academic, remote feeling into play with his "An American Classic Landscape," and another picture of like ilk.

The oil paintings in the two main galleries are, however, the marrow of the exhibit. Auguste Renoir is represented by six canvases, "Femme au Chapeau," most charming. Pissarro offers "La Couseuse," a delicate and exquisite interior. Degas, away from his ballet, is here shown as a portrait painter with a clever, subtle painting, "Femme Assise dans un Fauteuil."

A magnificent self-portrait by Forian is a noteworthy addition to the galaxy of good painting. Vincent Van Gogh is a bit stiff in "Women in a Landscape." Berthe Morisot is utterly delightful in her rendering of a summer garden rich in flowers.

The exhibit will continue through June and is the last the gallery will offer until next fall. Mr. Johnson leaves for Europe at its close.

Few Suitors Measure Up to Ideal Created by Romantic Girls

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Can you tell me why it is that the men I wish least to have for beaus trail me and offer me marriage, whereas the man I could love I just don't seem able to hold, after a short time? I go out with the latter a few times and never hear from them again.

"SISTER KATE."

If I could answer that I'd probably be in a position to solve some of the other great problems of the world. Why it is that the one you love favors some one else and the one who loves you you can't love is one of those things that Solomon, with all his wisdom, could not settle for us. The best we can do is to play around with the idea of the why of it.

Not all girls or men have to confront the predicament. But many do. Many don't get a peek-in with the one he or she knows would be the dream one. Maybe it's just that dream element in the thing that is confusing.

Take your own case, "Kate." You may have a very definite conception of what your "man" is to be like. He must be so tall, so broadshouldered, so strong, so ambitious, so clever, and so on. Any one who comes along showing only an average percentage of the requirements just does not register. He's under a handicap, right from the start.

You may want him to play the heavy lover rôle according to certain fiction or movie plot direction. If he's just a regular person you're disappointed because he doesn't smother you with praise and the thousand and one little attentions and big that your idea of romance demands.

Romance, you know, does pass a lot of people by because they are not willing to compromise with homely, everyday facts and with people as they are met in the ordinary run of life. That, however, doesn't necessarily explain why the one you love may not be able to reciprocate. It's just one of those things that cannot be explained except by the chemical laws of attraction. And even that is a vague way of determining an answer to the age old problem of why some one loves some one and that some one isn't you.

Hostess Ensemble Ideal for Week-ends

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—At this season the Paris couturiers are concentrating a lot on week-end wardrobes, figuring out new ways to pack the largest possible quantity of chic into the smallest possible suitcase. And amid all the sartorial bustle of imaginary packing they have not forgotten the week-end hostess, either.

If the hostess is staying at her country house (or even if she's not she will probably leave some of her clothes there), the problem of packing is not of prime consideration. It's the question of time that is most important to the perfect, omniscient hostess who's everywhere at once watching over the comfort and well-being of her guests.

The Ardanse hostess ensemble, sketched today, is ideal for such. With its coat on it looks charming serving tea and cocktails on the veranda or in the garden. The creator must reckon with Madame Nature, you know, when designing even hostess gowns for the country! And without the coat it turns into a perfectly good summer evening frock.

This ensemble is all white marquisette trimmed with incrustations of cobwebby white lace. The knee length coat with its surplice closing has a fitted upper part of the lace and a full circular skirt part of marquisette. The huge "sewing bag puffs" on the sleeves are of the lace stiffened with horsehair.

Tastes Better

Health Risk in Handkerchiefs

Disposable KLEENEX TISSUES are safe, cost less, too

USE a handkerchief you can destroy! That is the latest word in modern hygiene. Most infection enters the body through the nose and mouth. No soiled handkerchief should ever touch your face. It's filled with germs—should be destroyed.

The American people understand hygiene. Kleenex, therefore, has taken hold like wildfire. You use it in place of handkerchiefs. Then destroy.

Costs less than laundering

This may sound expensive, but it isn't. Kleenex actually costs less than commercial laundering of handkerchiefs, let alone the cost of the handkerchief itself.

Kleenex is more comfortable as well as safer. The tissues are incredibly soft and gentle. Actually clothlike, so absorbent there's no chance for irritation.

Children prefer Kleenex. And it's better for them. They should use nothing else. Keep boxes always handy in various rooms in the house. Office workers find a package in the desk convenient.

Useful in many ways

Kleenex comes in 25-cent, 50-cent and $1.00 packages. At drug, dry goods and department stores.

Bacteriological Tests Show:

1. That handkerchiefs used by persons having colds may contain as many as 4,170,000 bacteria per handkerchief.

2. That organisms representative of those associated with colds, when impregnated upon linen and rinsed in boiling water and soap water, were not killed nor appreciably inhibited from growing.

Food Talk.

"My lemon cream pie filling seems to be of the right consistency when it first thickens, but after it has finished cooking and should be ready to be poured into the pastry shell it is thin and watery. I am using a recipe that was published in your column several months ago," write Mrs. A. L. and Mrs. M. B.

The fact that the filling becomes sufficiently thick at the beginning of the cooking period proves that an adequate quantity of flour and egg yolks have been used in the first place.

When a filling suddenly becomes thin and watery it indicates that some of the starch has been changed into sugar. The lemon juice in the filling hydrolyses the starch and the resulting dextrin produces a thin, watery mixture. In other words, starch in the presence of an acid is slowly converted into a sugar when it is subjected to an almost boiling temperature for too long a time. If the filling were cooked a shorter period this would not happen. Of course, the filling must be cooked until the raw starch taste disappears to produce the best flavor. If the housewife prefers to cook the filling in the top of a double boiler longer than 15 minutes, she should not add the lemon juice until after the egg, sugar and starch mixture has cooked thoroughly. Sometimes a similar thinning of the filling occurs in chocolate pie. Some chocolates contain more acid than others and this acid is sufficient to hydrolise the starch.

When a filling does become thin because the starch has hydrolised there is nothing to do but to add more egg or flour or both. But this must be done with care or the filling will be lumpy. The best way to add the flour is to mix it with half its quantity of sugar, then cool a little of the hot filling and add to the flour slowly, stirring vigorously to produce a smooth paste. Then add three or four tablespoons of the hot filling and again beat until smooth. Pour this thin flour paste into the hot filling, beating constantly. Return to the fire and cook about 10 or 15 minutes, stirring occasionally, keeping the pan covered in between stirrings. The amount of flour that will be needed will depend upon the thinness of the mixture, but I would never use more than half the original quantity.

LEMON CREAM PIE.

¾ cup sugar.	1-3 cup lemon juice.

Mix the flour and sugar thoroughly and put them into the top of a double boiler. Beat the whole egg and the three egg yolks well and add these to the flour and sugar and mix until smooth. Add the lemon rind and juice to the egg sugar mixture in the double boiler. Add the milk, which has been thoroughly heated, but not boiled, and stir well to prevent lumping. Cook this mixture over the boiling water for 15 minutes, stirring constantly, then cover the double boiler. Beat the one egg white until stiff, add about one tablespoon of the hot mixture from the double boiler and beat until well mixed. Add 4 or 5 more tablespoons of the hot mixture and combine in the same manner. Pour this egg white mixture into the hot filling, stirring the latter vigorously during the addition. Cook the filling for about two minutes. Remove from the fire, beat until smooth, and pour into the pie crust. Prepare the meringue of the two egg whites and spread on the pie. Brown in a slow oven [300 F.]. Do not cut pie until cold.

1,910,922 VETS BORROW TOTAL OF 730 MILLION

Washington, D. C., May 25.—A total of 730 million dollars has been paid out under the new bonus loan law during the last few months, it was learned at the veterans' bureau today. Thus far 1,910,922 former soldiers have taken advantage of the provisions of the law which permit veterans to borrow up to 50 per cent of the value of their adjusted compensation insurance policies.

The new loans bring the total borrowed on veterans' insurance certificates up above the billion dollar mark, as previous loans of more than 800 millions had been arranged at lower interest rates. Washington, D. C., leads the country in the amount of money paid out with a total of 141 millions. New York City came second with $72,000,000.

As more than 40,000 loans have not been acted on and applications are still arriving, veterans' bureau officials expect the total loans under the new act will amount to close to a billion dollars.

WRONG BOTTLE OF ACID BURNS EDISON'S HANDS

Fort Myers, Fla., May 25.—(AP)—Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, had the fingers of both hands bandaged today as the result of acid burns suffered last week.

The acid was said to have eaten deep into the skin, which is peeling off.

TANNERY WINS WASHINGTON PARK INAUGURAL STAKE

FINISHES FIVE LENGTHS AHEAD OF DON LEON

Tannery, a big chestnut horse, who was kicked and slammed around unmercifully after he had shot an admiring public in all the 3 year old specials last year, won last some of his lost prestige as the Washington Park racing season opened yesterday.

With Guy Raymond Helgie in the silks, Tannery took the track at the head of the stretch in the $5,000 added Washington Park handicap and ran at fast down toward the finish line that he all but lost his rivals as the opening day stake reached a climax and a decision.

Tannery won by five lengths from Racketeer, Don Leon, His beat the odd horse, Stock Market, by six lengths. The others were just so many horses out trying to beat what proved to be a super horse in this field. Tannery ran the six furlongs over a dull track in 1:13.

The Washington Park opening had some 1,500 on hand to welcome the horses back to metropolitan Chicago. The day was clear but cold. The track, after overnight showers, was dull and no exceptionally fast times were run.

Racketeer Smothers Field.

The quarter and two seconds after the curtain went up every Chicagoan in the crowd was cheering. For Princess Camilla, sporting the yellow and green jacket of Joe Leiter of Chicago, got off as fast in the opening dash of 5 furlongs that the 3 year old fillies which trailed her home were for the most part wobbling as the race ended.

There came another Chicago victory later in the afternoon when Ben Jamison's Racketeer smothered his field in the mile and a furlong fifth race. Racketeer was a long shot.

Twelve went to the post in the Washington Park handicap. Right from the beginning of the speculation for Don Leon, which had tied a track record at Churchill Downs last week, made the favorite. There didn't seem to be much support for any of the others.

At the start came Don Leon flattened his backers. Jockey James, also got off at the post, sent the 3 year old to the front, and by the time he reached the lower bend he was comfortably in the lead by two lengths. Brown Violin, Stock Market and Tannery were dangerously close and they waited only until the field headed into the stretch to begin closing in on him.

Don Leon Swerves Out.

As James straightened Don Leon out for the run home the colt swerved away from the rail. At the same time Brown Violin was hugging the rail with Tannery. As Don Leon continued to slip out near the center of the track Tannery drove through on the inside. He was running like a horse afraid of his own shadow. It is doubtful if he ever found such speed as he picked up in that.

Tannery went right along and kept closing like a streak of lightning. He was down two lengths in front. Then he sprinted to a four lengths lead. Don Leon was no match for him. Tannery went on into a five length lead and held it until the finish. Stock Market couldn't come strong enough to nail Don Leon out of second money. Brown Violin, a field horse, was fourth. Brown Violin didn't seem to be the Brown Violin of other years. He wound up a seventh place.

STUDENTS BEAT FACULTY NINE IN AVENGING GAME

Members of the faculty of the commerce administration school of the University of Chicago found pleasant sport recently in belittling the commerce school's indoor baseball team for its defeats in intramural contests.

A challenge from the students resulted. It was accepted, and two nines, one composed of students, and the other of faculty members, met yesterday at 59th street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Dean William H. Spencer pitched for the faculty team. The Rev. Charles W. Gilkey, dean of the university chapel, and Arthur H. Kent, assistant professor of law, failed to appear in their announced rôles of umpires, so Emory T. Filbey, assistant to President Hutchins, handled the job. The students, battling for vindication, hammered their dean, Pitcher Spencer, from the box in a few innings.

5 MORE DRIVERS QUALIFY CARS IN 500 MILE RACE

Indianapolis, Ind., May 25.—(AP)—The field of starters in the annual 500 mile automobile race to be run here next Saturday was increased to twenty-four when five drivers qualified their mounts today.

COURT BLOCKS CARNERA'S BOUT WITH SHARKEY

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—The ballyhoo concerning the heavyweight championship fights which are scheduled this summer assumed a new phase today. Sitting in the federal court, Judge John C. Knox granted an injunction restraining Primo Carnera from meeting Jack Sharkey or any of the other leading contenders until the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Illinois obtains some decision in its suit to enforce its contract with Carnera.

Immediately upon being informed of this Jimmy Johnston who had hoped to stage the bout at Ebbets Field June 10, announced that he would appeal to a higher court in an effort to have the injunction set aside.

William Carey, head of the Madison Square Garden, was pleased at the news of the injunction. "We were sustained on every point," he said.

It's Fine Ballyhoo.

It was alleged that Carnera had signed a contract on Jan. 13, agreeing to meet the winner of the Schmeling-Sharkey bout or any other fighter selected by the Madison Square Garden of Illinois on or before Sept. 30, 1931. Later, it is said, the agreement was entered into whereby Carnera promised to fight Sharkey for Promoter Johnston at Ebbets field on June 10.

Since the Schmeling-Stribling affair is scheduled in Cleveland on July 3, the Garden representatives asserted that the drawing power of this bout would be considerably lessened if Carnera should meet Sharkey before that date.

Garden to Post Bonds.

In handing down his decision Judge Knox directed that the Garden should post two bonds, totaling $60,000, to protect Carnera. One bond of $25,000 is to guarantee the performance of the contract. The other, of $35,000, is to protect Carnera against any damages that he may sustain because of the injunction.

Baseball Player Claims $10,350 for Arm Injury

Beloit, Wis., May 25.—[Special.]—Alleged injury to his pitching arm is a major item for which Harry Madden, baseball player, claims $10,350 damages in a suit filed in Municipal court here today against Clem Farnum of the Consumers Coal company, Janesville. Madden claims he was injured when hit by a coal truck in Janesville.

A Willing Slave to Golf Defends His Vice in a Few Hundred Words of Fiery Prose

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 25.—Confirming my recent exposé of golf, I have received a letter from a particularly patriotic slave of this vice, written from the Monterey Peninsula Country club at Del Monte, Cal., defending the golf habit and unconsciously revealing the extent to which golf is allowed to interfere with the administration of justice there.

The same unfortunate wrote to me last year in somewhat the same strain, but he is plainly more violent this year and is beginning to manifest a persecution complex. He thinks people are trying to have him put away, which might not be a bad idea, at that.

Revives Last Year's Happenings.

Says he this time:

"I find you once again calumniating golf and ridiculing all those who play it, and recall that last year I was compelled to protest a similar attempt on your part to bring this noble game into disrepute. You retaliated in your unsportsmanlike manner by forwarding a copy of my letter to the mayor of Monterey and requesting that steps be taken to lock me up in some public institution.

"The mayor, however, being a friend of mine, informed me of this plot and assured me that he would take no steps to carry out your design."

Here the victim begins to discuss his loved ones, a familiar symptom of advanced cases, saying: "Three of the loveliest women I know play golf and remain still lovely and unsullied. When I return from a round on the links I live over again every shot, so sincerely, so poignantly, that my wife can fathom from the expression of my face whether I am thinking at the particular moment of a long putt that found the hole or a pulled mashie shot that found a trap.

"I have known her to reconstruct a complete round of mine after observing the sequence of my facial expressions during an evening. In fact, she now asks me not to describe my rounds orally, as she takes more pleasure in reconstructing them from my moods and expressions. She is able, in fact, to accomplish this and read a magazine at the same time. Her ability here must be discounted, however, by the fact that she has had the opportunity of developing it over a period of ten or twelve years."

It will not be necessary to comment on the gentle tact and ingenuity of the lady in thus obviating the boredom of hundreds of blow-by-blow postmortems by a husband so far gone in the evil that he cannot remember whether he has been married ten years or twelve. Perhaps the lady will give her system to a world of other wives similarly afflicted who may wish to read magazines, too.

About Descendant of Jefferson.

"I have in my office a man claiming to be a lineal descendant of Thomas Jefferson, an entry in 'Who's Who,' who refuses to play golf," the letter continues. "His fatuous argument is that Jefferson did not play golf, hence became a great man. During a long time I have watched this man's decay. Morally, he has sunk so low that he will take the weekly opportunity offered by his employer for exercise and then repair to his home, where he lies down on a couch and goes to sleep until the bell is rung for dinner.

"He varies that program only to observe the fermentation of a barrel of something in his cellar. His girth increases and the riding club has asked him not to ride its horses any more, a she has foundered two and mashed another. Yet this monster detests golf and I have known him to rush onto a golf course and stamp a ball into the ground before the owner had come over the hill so that he might delight in the player's agonized attempts to extricate his ball. When he read your vaporings against golf he said he wished he were a millionaire if only to be able to pay you the income from the million to conduct a propaganda against golf.

Mayor's a Golfer, Too.

"Let me say it matters not a whit whether you inform the mayor of Monterey or the world at large of my efforts to defeat your purposes. The mayor, who is also the chief of police, is himself a golfer and has been known to keep a jury closeted five days while he fought his gallant way through the sixth flight of a tournament. If he emerges with a modest cup it matters little to him if the jury emerges somewhat the worse for wear."

If the mayor of Monterey is one himself there is no point in writing to him. But I gather that Del Monte is a community entirely composed of golf victims. They stay where their vice is, and so the danger to the rest of the country is negligible.

Golf's an Ancient Game, but Youth Dominates It Now

BY HOWARD BARRY.

It may seem almost sacrilegious to disturb the bones of a theory which is already dead, but the Chicago District Golf association has done this unwittingly. Its recently issued honor roll heaps further discredit upon the discarded belief that the ancient game of golf is for ancients only.

Of course, it has been a long time since anyone seriously contended that this is a diversion to which old men turn when life holds no more promise, but it is probable that most people with a casual interest in the pastime have not realized that the old fellows have slipped as far as the association's bulletin indicates.

This honor roll contains the names of ten players, who, in the opinion of the C. D. G. A., are standouts among local golfers, and it is noteworthy that the laurels of a game within the physical capabilities of John D. Rockefeller, a 91 year old man, are almost monopolized by comparative striplings.

The only honor players well advanced in their thirties are Chick Evans and Robert Gardner, and it is significant that they arrived at the top when still youngsters and are now coasting along, demonstrating at numerous tournaments that their strokes are mechanically as perfect as ever.

The youngsters are crowding in apace now. The other eight on the honor roll are Charlie Becka, Ira Couch, George Dawson, Rudy Knepper, Johnny Lehman, Dick Martin, Gus Novotny and Jack Westland.

Johnny Lehman perfected his game while attending Purdue and won the Big Ten championship. College competition has also been the training field for Dick Martin, present holder of the conference title. He is a student at the University of Illinois.

Charlie Becka, regarded as one of the most promising of all Chicago's young players, has grown up in the atmosphere of the game. When just a little shaver he was working as a caddy at Calumet, and he absorbed golf so freely that he won runnerup honors in the Chicago district senior tournament last summer.

McLarnin Fights Petrolle in Return Bout Tomorrow

New York, May 25.—[Special.]—Two of the toughest punchers among the little men will clash in Madison Square Garden on Wednesday night. It will be the return match of ten rounds between Billy Petrolle and Jimmy McLarnin.

SOX DO WELL FOR 7 INNINGS; THEN INDIANS WIN, 7-6

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., May 25.—The White Sox tried to look like champions again today, but they couldn't stretch the effort beyond seven innings. During that time they conducted themselves so stylishly that they appeared to be well on the road to victory, but in the eighth things happened. The infield went to seed, Tommy Thomas folded up, and the Indians put over a five run rally which was sufficient to give them the verdict by 7 to 6.

To prove that the belated five run blast that routed Thomas wasn't sufficient to dishearten them, the Sox bounced back in the ninth with a thrilling plot that almost sent the Indians staggering to the ropes. Three runs behind, they launched an attack that brought Wes Ferrell to the rescue of Willis Hudlin and when the relief man stopped the fun the Sox were still without the tying and winning tallies which were on the bases.

Manager Bush Ousted.

They also were without the services of Manager Bush. He was ousted just before the end because he spoke harshly to Umpire McGowan.

Blue fanned in the first inning before the Sox started to make arrangements for two runs. Watwood doubled off the wall in right center, Reynolds bounced a two bagger along the first base line and Watwood scored. The firing continued with Fonseca's single through short, Reynolds going home. Then the assault folded up when the ageing Fothergill grounded to short for a double play.

Morgan Hits Homer.

The first revolt against Thomas in the sixth opened with a single by Porter, but luckily for Tommy a double play occurred before the cannonading became serious. Then Averill singled to right and Morgan hoisted a homer over the high right field wall. The disturbance threatened to continue, when Vosmik doubled against the barrier, but Cissell put an end to the inning by pouncing on Kamm's hard hopper and throwing him out.

Bush's tourists eased the tenseness of the situation for a moment by collecting a run, when Hudlin tempted them with a pass in the eighth. The ticket went to Watwood to open the inning. He hiked down to second on Reynold's bunt, after which Fonseca filed to center. Then Fothergill

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs decided that one night was long enough for the Pittsburgh Pirates to occupy their berth in the first division of the National league, so yesterday they kicked the visitors out of fourth place and took it over themselves. The score of the final of the series was Chicago 9, Pittsburgh 6 and enabled the Cubs to again enjoy the dignity of being a .500 ball club.

Les Sweetland went all the way to ring up his third victory, and he's yet to suffer a defeat. Les also scored the first run and drove in two others.

Despite the fact the Cubs committed five errors the game was replete with field gems in the infield, Hornsby, Jurges, and Grimm each putting on brilliant efforts.

Big Day for Hornsby.

In addition to thrilling the customers with a bare hand stop back of second to avert a mess of trouble, Hornsby also had a perfect day at bat with two doubles and three walks. He scored two runs.

Johnny Moore knocked a homer, Charley Grimm had a triple and a single, and Stephenson had a single and a double, each of the hits driving home his boss with a run.

The Cubs left last night for Cincinnati, where today they will play a double header as the first part of a four game series before moving on to Pittsburgh. The Cub management announced before the departure that applications will be received today for 20,000 free tickets to the ladies' day festivities on June 8 and also that the sale for the Brooklyn and Giants series now is on.

Sweetland, aided by a double play, succeeded in keeping six batters helpless in the first two innings, but in the third the enemy broke through for two runs. The outburst started with a pass to Phillips, who stopped at second on Sankey's single to left. Kremer was called out on strikes, but L. Waner doubled to left center, scoring Phillips and Sankey and went on to third when Hartnett failed to stop English's relay throw. Grantham

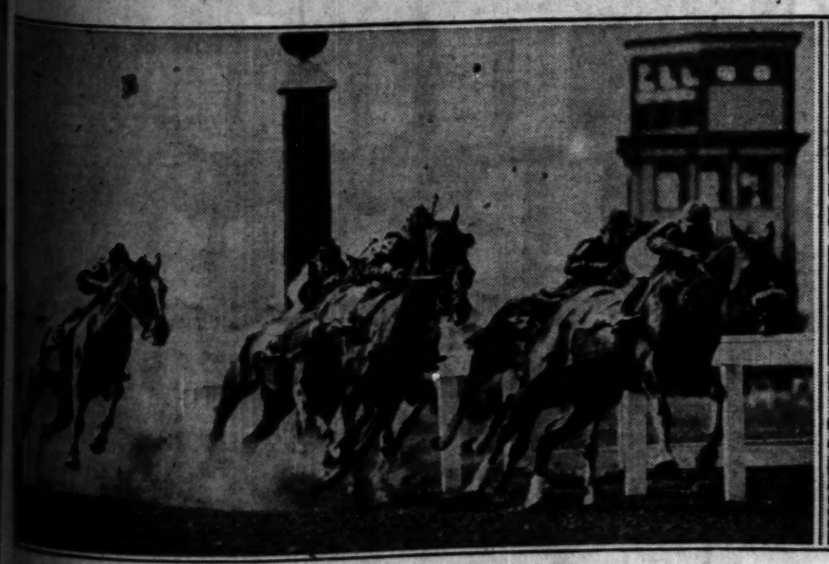
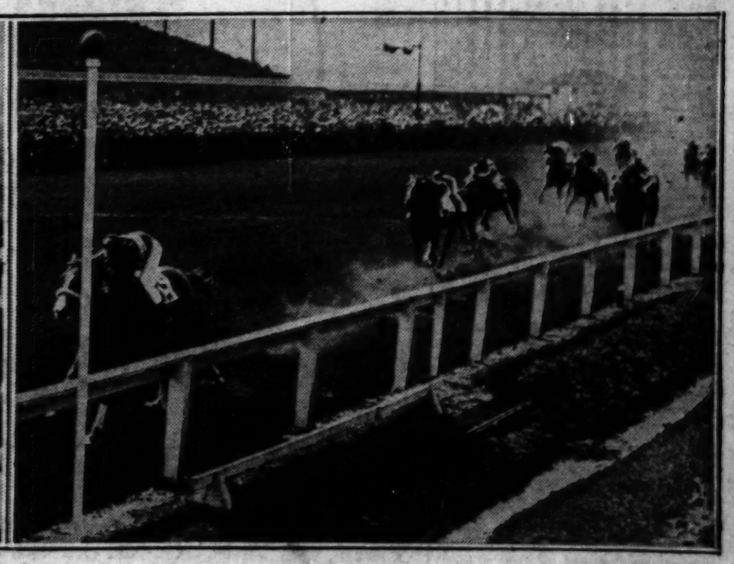
THOROUGHBRED HOOFS THUNDER AGAIN AT WASHINGTON PARK



The field in the fifth race, a mile and a furlong, swings into the bend at the first quarter pole. Racketeer is already in the lead, which he held to the finish, beating Alyssum by four lengths. When Racketeer declared the victor a loud cheer arose from the Chicagoans in the stand, for the Chicago owned horse returned the fancy figure of $26.50 for a $2 win ticket.

Section of the grand stand showing a portion of the 8,500 who witnessed the opening day of racing at the Homewood track. The weather was clear, but the cool temperature held the crowd below expectations. The Old Guard was in evidence, however, watching its choices perform over a strip dulled by showers.



The finish of the Washington Park handicap, feature race of the program. Tannery, the winner, races under the wire five lengths ahead of Don Leon, the favorite, who in turn leads Stock Market by one length. Tannery, condemned in the past as a quitter, rewarded his backers at $18.06 to win, $8.26 to place, and $4.68 to show.

LAWLESS WINS AFTER TAKING 9 COUNT IN FIFTH

Jones' Purse Withheld; Miller Victor.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Bucky Lawless, aggressive Iris welterweight from Auburn, N. Y., was cracked on the point of the jaw in the fifth round of his bout last night at the Stadium with Gorilla Jones, but came back after a nine count and won the ten round decision.

Except for the fifth round, the bout was a monotonous succession of clinches and more or less ineffectual slaps to the body and face by Lawless. Believing that Jones did not put forth his best efforts members of the state boxing commission ordered the purse of the Akron, O., colored fighter withheld.

Jones declared that he had injured his right hand, but a cursory examination in the ring before the decision was announced did not reveal an injury. An X-ray will be made at the boxing commission office today. Many in the crowd of 6,837 voiced disapproval throughout the ten rounds.

Miller Pounds Delmont.

Ray Miller pummeled his fellow Chicagoan, Danny Delmont, from the first round to the tenth to win the other half of the double windup. Delmont possessed an irritating habit of shifting into neutral in a clinch and hanging on. At times he whacked lightly at Miller's head, a practice he continued despite the hooting of the ringside.

Tiny Diebolt of Cleveland, alleged tough man of the navy, lasted less than a minute with Charley Retslaff, Duluth heavyweight. In that time Diebolt did not strike a blow and when he tangled himself in the ropes, panic stricken, Referee Purdy ordered Retslaff to his corner and stopped the bout.

Ramey Looks Impressive.

Wesley Ramey, Grand Rapids, Mich., lightweight, beat Johnny Jadick of Philadelphia. Their eight round argument was the high spot of the evening. Ramey had a defense for Jadick's attack in every one of the eight rounds and in addition he flipped a talented left hand to Johnny's face and hooked it to the body.

Hymie Wiseman, featherweight from Des Moines, Ia., weakened toward the end of his six rounds with Midget Mike O'Dowd of Columbus, O., and received a draw. Wiseman fought himself out, pounding O'Dowd in the first three rounds and the old timer chased him around the ring in the fifth and sixth.

Stadium officials announced the receipts as $11,159.50. This probably means that the Stadium will not match Lawless and Jimmy McLarnin next month.

Macks Breeze Along; Make It 17th in Row

Philadelphia, Pa., May 25.—[Special.]—The Athletics won both games of a double header today before 30,000. The scores were 4 to 2 and 16 to 4.

The A's have won seventeen straight games and are within two games of the 1906 American league record of the White Sox. The big league record is 26 straight, made by the New York Giants in 1916.

The second game was the direct opposite of the first, for after the first inning, when the A's drove Roy Sherid to cover and scored nine runs, the contest was settled. Al Simmons' double in the fourth ran his consecutive hitting string to 33 games, and Earl Combs' single in the Yankee eighth ran his string to 23 games. Scores:

GOLF STROKES · RIGHT & WRONG

by Jock Hutchison

RIGHT.

In every golf stroke it is important to preserve the slight body stoop right up to the moment of impact. In this illustration, just before the ball is struck, I am leaning forward slightly as I was when making the address. This position makes it quite likely that I will hit the ball squarely, slightly below the center.

WRONG.

The beginner has instinctively straightened up in the course of the downswing and as a result will either miss the ball entirely, as in this photo, or will top it badly. Many golfers who have a habit of topping their strokes can trace their trouble to failure to maintain the slight body stoop right up to the instant of hitting.

DEERFIELD PREP GOLFERS TAKE LEAGUE TITLE

The Deerfield High school golf team, composed of Robert Carey, Warren Geary, Robert Salelli, and his brother, Oswald, won the Suburban league championship yesterday in the annual meet at the Bob o' Link course with a score of 340.

New Trier's squad finished second with 366. Proviso was third with 377, and Morton fourth with 382. Grunt of Proviso turned in the best individual performance, scoring 81.

MILDRED HACKL WINS WOMEN'S GOLF AT COGHILL

Miss Mildred Hackl, present champion at Midlothian and former western junior titleholder, added new laurels to her golfing record when she won the Women's Athletic association golf championship of the University of Chicago yesterday. She defeated Miss Jean Searcy, three time holder of the title, over No. 1 course at Coghill. Her score was 45—49—94 to 42—56—104 for Miss Searcy.

KEEP YOUR HAIR WITH VITALIS

AND KEEP IT GOOD-LOOKING

It's small wonder if your hair looks dry and straggly. The place where it grows, your scalp, is probably the laziest part of your body!... Wake up that listless scalp. Start the sluggish blood to circulating. Give your scalp a good thorough massage, with Vitalis, before and after each shampoo, and between shampoos, twice a week... Vitalis is a pure vegetable oil preparation. Rubbed regularly into the scalp, it keeps your hair safe. It gives a healthy gloss to the hair—but none of that patent-leather look. And keeps it exactly in place.

Muskie, Pike Anglers Open North Season

BY BOB BECKER.

Wisconsin North Woods, May 25.—The muskie and pike fishermen attacked yesterday on a wide front in this state and last night hundreds of happy anglers were encamped in the lake country up here as they waited for another day of sport and battle. Some of the boys who were throwing lures around yesterday were so eager to get going that they moved into their favorite fishing grounds on Sunday night, set up their tents and camping equipment, and stayed right on the shore of the lake so as to get the jump on the fighting 'lunge and big northern and wall eyed pike at sunrise on the morning of the 25th.

We have just concluded a drive of several hundred miles through a part of the fishing country up here and never again this year will the woods be as gayly decked with flowers as they are now, because nature apparently has decreed this blossom week in the fishing country.

Blanket of Blossoms.

In some stretches of the cutover areas the second growth appears to be blanketed with a fresh snow, so thick and white are the blossoms on the young wild cherry trees. When these flowering wild fruit trees grow among the dark green spruces or balsams you have a picture that can even lure the fishermen from thoughts of the big ones that ought to hit a lure.

Rhinelander to Monico, Monico over the "roller coaster" road to Three Lakes, Eagle River, route 70 to Sayner country and then back to Argonne, Crandon, Laona, Waubeno, the Wolf river, Langlade, Antigo, and Elcho. This was our route through a part of Wisconsin's famous lake country as the fishermen were beginning to form their lines on the fishing front.

Resort Owners Are Busy.

Buzzing along over the well maintained highways where road crews were grooming the gravel, we saw freshly painted green boats riding at anchor in front of the fishing camps and hard working innkeepers and resort owners unloading food supplies so as to have plenty of hot groceries on hand yesterday for the hard working muskie fishermen.

Some of the fishermen who are up here have combined trout fishing with the muskie season opening. In the Sayner country we located a party from Ohio that had been snagging big brook trout in a flowage behind a beaver dam.

Establish Miniature Nursery.

Anglers in search of these species have come north to get the cheering news that millions of muskie and pike fry have been planted in the lakes of Wisconsin. One group of ambitious resort owners up here have gone even farther in this restocking program. They have established a miniature fish nursery with 3,000 tiny muskies in it. This fall the six or seven inch 'lunge will be planted in the lakes as they will be well able to take care of themselves.

Lane Regains Lead; Defeats Senn Nine, 4-0

Lane Technical High school, 1930 champion of the City league, took the lead in the north section by defeating Schurz at Logan Square park yesterday. An early lead of three runs in the first inning gave the defending titleholders a 4 to 0 victory.

Hari held the losers to only three hits and struck out ten batters. Singles by Bergman and Catcher W. Laskowski started the rally in the opening inning. Schurz triumphed over Lane in a first round game, 4 to 3.

THORNTON WINS, 10-6.

Thornton regained first place in the South Suburban league by trouncing University High, 10 to 6, at the latter's park, Forbes. Thornton center fielder, hit a home run with the bases filled in the third inning, when the victors scored seven runs. Score:

Bunching three hits for two runs in the sixth inning, Evanston triumphed over Morton, suburban league leader, 4 to 2, at Evanston. The victors scored when Freeman and Frank doubled and Deck followed with a single. Score:

Evanston	100	102	*—4	4	2

Varsity goes MAN Style

Campus walks and academic archways now frame a portrait of the collegian smoking the long, graceful Robt. Burns Panatela. Novel and pleasing, it teaches the young man that after all the cigar is the man's way to enjoy tobacco—the gentleman's choice for generations.

Of course it is the modernistic cigar, fitting for young faces. Young chaps are quick to see it possesses fashion without flash—smartness without swagger—poise without pose. Fully as important, its clear Havana Filler registers its flavory mildness. At last a cigar a young fellow can smoke without fear.

Try the smoking that is part of today with the sport roadster and airplane. Smoke the neat Robt. Burns Panatela, and rate yourself among moderns with MAN STYLE in smoking.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR ENTRIES IN BOAT MARATHON

Tomorrow's Last Day for Mailing Blanks.

Tomorrow is the last day entries will be accepted for the outboard marathon from Milwaukee to Chicago Monday and the power boat regatta Sunday afternoon North of Navy Pier. Both events are sponsored by THE TRIBUNE. Entries postmarked tomorrow will be accepted if received Tuesday.

The chairmen of committees and others directing the organization of the Sunday and Sunday races will hold their final meeting this afternoon at Wilson Tower. Final details will be checked, for the general plan of the regatta and the outboard marathon has remained unchanged since the inception of the meet. The instruction sheet for the outboard drivers in the distance race will be adopted. These instructions and a map of the course along the north shore will be given to each entry at the drivers' meeting Friday night in Milwaukee.

Drivers to Wear Life Belts.

The number of outboards which will finish the 90 mile event Saturday depends on racing luck and the water. If Lake Michigan is extremely rough Sunday, many of the hydroplanes always capsize in every race, but such water will increase the percentage, since each driver is required to wear a life belt, there is no danger. To avoid boats, the coast guards and police vessels and airplanes will cover the 90 mile stretch. This is the route for the map. It would seem that a map would be unnecessary to those along the lake shore from Milwaukee to Chicago., It would be unnecessary if the racers followed the shore line. However, until Wilmette, most of the boats will be at least six miles off shore, running a straight course after hitting out into the lake at Milwaukee. In other years drivers have gone as far as ten miles out into the lake.

If a number of boats upset, and are scattered in a wide area, the task of rescue is more difficult. THE TRIBUNE has chartered a boat which will be the last to leave the course Sunday after the marathon has been entered. This boat, with Dave Zimmerman in charge, is responsible for the final checkup on the safety of all contestants.

Duplicate Awards.

While the hydroplanes will have difficulty if the water is rough, the other classes of the outboards, the displacement of boats, will not be affected to the same extent. These entries will run in anything short of a storm. The awards, offered by THE TRIBUNE, are duplicated for each division of the outboard Marathon. The winning hydroplane and displacement, will receive a silver cup, and also a gold medal set with a diamond. The first four finishers in each division will receive a silver cup.

Bronowicz Drills for Londos Bout

With his match against Jimmy London only four days away, Frank Bronowicz, Polish heavyweight wrestler, yesterday took another strenuous workout session at Kid Howard's gymnasium. Bronowicz and Londos clash at the Coliseum Friday night in the main event of a six match heavyweight card arranged by Promoter Doc Kunz. They are scheduled to go two out of three falls to a finish.

Others on the card also are going through their conditioning paces. The wrestling brings together Kola Kwariani, Russian, and Jim McMillen, former University of Illinois athletes. Two top, Jim Londos and Bronowicz, never have met.

Other Chicago favorites are recruited for duty in the four preliminary matches. Ray Steele from Hollywood, Cal., meets Milo Steinborn, German mat star.

Thomas', last act, which saw the Indians move into the lead in the home eighth, began with Jeffries letting Porter's roller seep through his hands. Bennett sent a fly to right and in starting after it Reynolds pulled a charleyhorse in his right leg. He went away for repairs. The ball fell foul by a matter of inches, so Burnett went back for another swing and this time bounced a three base drive off the wall, Porter scoring. A single by Averill sent Burnett in with the tying run.

Thomas shook off the above jolts and fanned Morgan, but luck immediately deserted him. Vosmik grounded to Cissell close to second and a double play appeared to be a cinch, but, as Bill was about to grab the ball, it took a high hop for a single. Kamm then took a hand in the job of bumping his old mates. He singled to center and Averill scored. Thomas was told to move out to make room for McKain. Detore looped one of McKain's offerings into short right for a fluke double, Vosmik scoring and Kamm halting at third. Kamm counted the fifth run of the rally when Hudlin scratched a hit to Cissell.

Sox Try Hard in Ninth.

Hudlin slipped a pass to Tate to start the ninth and this brought on the disturbance that wasn't quelled until the Sox almost had the game back in their possession. The pass was followed by McKain's double and by the removal of Hudlin. The first thing Ferrell did was to walk Blue, filling the sacks with none out. On Watwood's grounder to Morgan, Tate scored. McKain counted on Eichrodt's wicked liner which Porter stabbed.

Luck then gave Ferrell a break. Fonseca whistled one straight back at the big pitcher and its flight into center was halted when it caromed off his leg. It was a single but Blue could go only as far as third. While Simons was at bat Boss Bush got all steamed up over an alleged balk by Ferrell and was banished. Bush wanted McGowan to ask Connelly about the matter but McGowan refused to seek advice, and when Bush wanted to know why not, he was ordered to scoot down the steps to the clubhouse. Then, after Fonseca had stolen second, Simons flied out to end the matinee.

Faber will be used in the opener against the Tigers at Comiskey park tomorrow.

Epithet May Seek American Derby Honors

Epithet, the only 2 year old that beat Jamestown last season, is very likely to start in the American Derby, for he is due at Washington Park within the next few days.

This winner of the hopeful last August has been purchased from the Gifford A. Cochran estate by the Mason & Hanger Warm stable of Lexington. Messrs. Mason and Hanger, who maintain a farm near Lexington, are New Yorkers of the contracting trade. They startled the turf world a couple of years ago by paying $100,000 for Victorian. "Suckers," somebody remarked. A short time later Victorian carried Messrs. Hanger's and Mason's

MARKET LACKS BUYING PROPS, TICKER REVEALS

Chicago Stocks Depressed in All Sections.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The absence of an effective sustaining influence in the form of professional or investment buying was told by the figures ticked out yesterday over the Chicago exchange tape. The moderate volume of selling from professional sources was sufficient to depress prices in all sections of the list, with the utilities bearing the brunt of the selling and yielding more than other groups of stocks.

Insull Utility showed the most conspicuous weakness. Pressed by the professional floor operators the stock gave nearly 3 points and at the close was quoted at 28, which represents a new low price for the year. The selling by the stock bore all the earmarks of professional maneuvering and was not believed to represent any important outside liquidation.

Outside Selling.

Middle West Utilities was even more active than Insull Utility and established a new low price of 16½. Selling from outside, reputedly New York, caused the issue to weaken and the additional shorting by traders here contributed to the decline.

In other stocks the net losses were nominal. The motor issues weakened apparently in part as a reflection of the reported slowing up in the automobile industry. Recessions were narrow, however. Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line was easier following the issuance of its audited balance sheet as of March 31. The information contained in the report was previously made known and the statement included no elaboration of the income account.

What influence the Supreme court decision in the Langmuir tube patent case will have on the radio industry and radio stocks aroused discussion yesterday when news of the verdict was received.

Sees Vindication.

B. J. Grigsby, president of the Grigsby-Grunow company, sees the court opinion as a vindication of the stand taken by his company.

Mr. Grigsby declared that the decision is a "further demonstration that no company or group can control the tube industry, which is the very heart and soul of the radio industry."

Crow Elkhart Motor.

Please advise me regarding Crow Elkhart Motor company stock which was sold about 1919 or 1920.—J. T. H.

Crow Elkhart Motor company was incorporated in 1916. It had outstanding $76,000 of 8 per cent mortgage notes and $7,000,000 capital stock [par $10]. Its factory had a capacity of thirty cars per day. The Crow Elkhart automobile, in the lower priced class, was favorably regarded. The stock was originally offered by W. M. Sheridan of Chicago.

In 1917 prospects did not appear encouraging. The public was impatient to see a statement of earnings of the company before investing more capital.

On Oct. 11, 1918, the company filed a petition of voluntary bankruptcy and in 1922 a receiver was appointed. Lack of capital was partly responsible for this action.

Central Power and Light.

Are Central Power and Light company first mortgage 5s, due Aug. 1, 1936, a sound investment?—M. T. J.

They are regarded as reasonably sound.

INVEST. TRUSTS SEEK TO CHANGE ILLINOIS LAW

Would Liberalize Sales in State.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The question of state regulation of investment trusts in Illinois has come to a head following recent regulations made by the New York Stock exchange. Representatives of eight investment trusts doing business in Illinois met in Chicago yesterday and laid plans to support a bill sponsored by T. J. Sullivan and scheduled to come before the Illinois house of representatives tomorrow.

The proposed measure is likely to encounter considerable debate, although it was voted out of committee last week with a favorable recommendation. The bill provides that shares of fixed trusts shall be qualified for sale in Illinois on notification and that shares of semi-fixed investment trusts shall be qualified by filing full information with the secretary of state. There also is provision that investment trust shares to be qualified by notification must hold in their portfolio only stocks that are now accepted under the Illinois securities law as "Class A" securities.

Arguments Pro and Con.

Proponents of the bill assert that its provisions are in the interest of the investing public and confer on the secretary of state full power to stop the sale of any investment trust securities that do not measure up to sound standards. They also assert that the amount of service charge that can be included in the price of securities is limited and that such limitations afford definite legal status to investment trust financial practice.

On the other hand, critics of the bill assert that it will result in the secretary of state and Illinois securities commission having limited control over fixed shares and their sale. They assert that the state authorities would have put to the burden of proving fraud in order to stop the sale of such securities. They charge further that any broker or dealer could qualify trust shares by notifying the commission, which therefore might not be dealing with the sponsor or the real party at interest.

Under the proposed bill, managers of investment trusts would be able to impose a service charge up to 10 per cent, but critics of the bill charge that this charge does not include all fees, which might increase the whole service charge to 14 or 15 per cent.

WHITNEY EXPLAINS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 25.—A statement issued to dispel the idea that the New York Stock exchange objected to fixed or restricted management investment trusts as such was issued today by Richard Whitney, president of the exchange.

Amendments made recently to temporary rules of the exchange regulating association of its members with trusts were misinterpreted, he said.

"The object of the recent amendment," his statement explained, "was to meet a practical situation involving a new element by enabling any member to associate himself, for the time being, with any investment trust of the fixed or restricted management type under conditions to which it is believed the great majority of investment trusts that intend to apply for such association will readily be able to conform.

Provides Examination.

"The announcement was made in order to dispute the idea that the stock exchange has made objection to fixed or restricted management type investment trusts as such, and to provide adequate time to enable an orderly examination to be made of applications submitted, without discrimination between applicants in the meanwhile.

"While, of course, eventual approval cannot be guaranteed until applications have been examined, there is reason to believe that a large proportion of those investment trusts which are able to write the letter to their distributors outlined in the amended statement will be able to qualify.

"Any past criticisms of practices appearing to the exchange to be unsound or improper should not be interpreted to indicate an opinion that fixed trusts generally pursue such practices."

The North American Trust Shares today filed application with the exchange under the requirements issued. George B. Cortelyou Jr., president of Distributors Group, Inc., sponsors of North American Trust Shares, declared that he believed this action could be taken as an answer to rumors that some of the foremost trusts were antagonistic to the exchange's ruling.

Inland Waterways Corp. Operations Are Discussed

BY SCRUTATOR.

Maj. Gen. T. Q. Ashburn, chairman of the Inland Waterways corporation, precipitated a stormy debate when he published his report for 1930 showing a net profit of $46,767.

Several writers to this column have expressed the opinion that this figure is misleading—that if the corporation had made allowance for taxes and a reasonable return on the investment it would have shown a considerable loss.

It has been urged that such an allowance would be just, inasmuch as the government in making this experiment is to determine whether or not barges can be profitably operated as a private enterprise on the Mississippi and Warrior rivers and its intention is ultimately to turn the barge lines over to private operators.

Matter of Taxation.

There is much that can be said on either side of this argument. As far as taxes are concerned, Gen. Ashburn could probably answer that best by paying them. He could domicile his boats at any port that would charge him a nominal rate, just as many boats on the great lakes are domiciled at Duluth. Waterfront property is valuable, but river cities under the present arrangement are largely providing their own port facilities. The Inland Waterways corporation has very little real estate except some valuable property owned by a subsidiary at Birmingport, on which taxes are already being paid.

Taxes, even if paid, would not be as large in relation to revenues as those paid by the railroads, because less taxable property is required to transport goods by water. The railroads themselves demonstrated this when they owned boat lines on the great lakes.

Extension of Operations.

How much should be allowed for interest on invested capital? Obviously, if one seeks to demonstrate that Inland Waterways corporation could be successfully operated by a private company some deduction must be made. On the other hand, if the concern were privately owned it would not be operating on the upper Mississippi river where stream improvements have not yet progressed far enough to make it possible to load barges to a profitable depth.

Political pressure necessitated the premature extension of operations into the upper Mississippi. A privately owned company would have confined its efforts to the lower river, where barges could operate at a profit.

Some of the Inland Waterways corporation's $23,000,000 of invested capital represents losses incurred in early years of experimentation. Being a public owned enterprise it cannot resort to receivership to wash out such losses. A part represents boats and equipment that it had to take over from the government at good prices.

Experiment Uncompleted.

Critics are right in saying that the profit would be in reality a loss if the corporation had made the deductions that a private concern would have had to make. In fairness they should also consider that if it were privately owned it would be operated with closer attention to economy and its capitalization would not be $23,000,000 but a much lower figure. It would buy the equipment most suited to its needs and it would run its boats where the water was of sufficient depth.

The experiment cannot fairly be said to have been completed until the barge lines have shown what they can do when river improvements are finished.

Last year, for example, the Ford lock between St. Paul and Minneapolis was out of commission and freight coming by water to Minneapolis had to be unloaded at St. Paul and carried by rail to its destination. The railroad charges from St. Paul to Minneapolis ate up about a third of the amount received for transportation from St. Louis to Minneapolis.

NIPISSING MINES OMITS DIVIDEND FOR FIRST TIME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 25.—For the first time since organization of the company in 1906 directors of Nipissing Mines today omitted the quarterly dividend of 7½ cents a share due at this time. E. P. Earl, president, said that mining operations are unprofitable because of the continued low price of silver.

Hercules Motor company declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents a share on the common stock, placing the issue on an 80 cent annual basis, compared with $1.20 a share paid previously.

American, British and Continental corporation declared a quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on its first preferred stock, reducing the annual basis from $6 to $3.

Kansas, Oklahoma and Gulf Railway declared a semi-annual dividend of $1.50 on the 6 per cent series C stock. Previously $3 had been paid semi-annually. The Kansas, Oklahoma and Gulf is an independent railway.

FOREIGN NATIONS INVITE DEPOSITS OF AMERICAN FUNDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, May 25.—Banks in foreign countries, such as England, Germany, and Italy, are seizing the occasion of reduced rates on deposits in the United States and lowered returns upon short term loans to invite American banks and moneyed institutions to open time deposits in their respective countries and millions of dollars have been so transferred, a survey of some of the important banks doing a foreign exchange business reveals.

Some small volume of such deposits is placed abroad through foreign exchange bankers, who receive a commission of around 1-16 of 1 per cent per annum for their services. But the bulk of such remittances is made by direct arrangement. Foreign banks notify their American correspondents and the latter corral the money.

At the present time, inquiry reveals, London banks of unquestioned soundness are offering as high as 2¼ per cent for short time deposits, comparing with the maximum rate of about 1½ per cent obtainable in this center. Of course there is the cost of remitting abroad and bringing home the funds later, which amounts to a net return of slightly under 2 per cent. This exchange cost is an item in all such transactions.

Germany, which is living largely upon borrowed capital, is offering the best rates for funds, offering 5½ per cent on deposits up to three months. This return is reduced to around 4 per cent by the cost of transfers to and fro. Italy is paying around 3 per cent for short term deposits.

Interest rates in France are so low that, deducting the costs of exchange remittances, there is no profit for American funds placed on temporary deposit in French banks. The same condition holds true in Holland, which, like France, is an exporter of capital. Holland has been sending capital abroad for some 200 years.

SALES OF DRUGS SHOW MODERATE GAINS TO DATE

Sales of drugs and related supplies by manufacturers have shown moderate relative improvements so far this year. In part, this gain is attributable to increased sickness in the initial months of 1931, says the Standard Statistics company of New York in a current bulletin which follows in part:

"For the full year, we estimate a total sales volume of drugs and related products about equal to that recorded in 1930. With the price structure in this industry only slightly affected by the prevailing trade depression, earnings for the current year should not diverge widely from the 1930 levels. At most, it is unlikely that average profits will diminish by more than 10 per cent.

"No relaxation of competition within the industry has occurred. In the antiseptic field, competitive lines have been more sharply drawn as a result of the introduction of new branded products by several established companies. This development has resulted in considerable uncertainty in the outlook for the antiseptic division of the drug trade. Confusing tendencies in the cosmetics field are indicated by a general rearrangement of the respective trade positions held by various concerns. Prospects for specific corporations, therefore, must be determined in the main by a consideration of individual rather than group developments."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, May 24.—American investments in China amount to approximately $200,000,000, according to a survey just completed by Prof. Carl F. Remer of Michigan university.

Prof. Remer has been engaged on the survey for practically three years, the past year being in China, his purpose being to determine the extent and trend of foreign investments in the Chinese republic. America ranks in third place as an investor of money in China, being exceeded by both Great Britain and Japan, each of which nations has investments amounting to about one billion gold dollars. Based on these figures, Prof. Remer estimates that the total investment of foreign capital in China, including American, British, Japanese, Russian, French and other European interests approximates about three billions in U. S. currency.

Center Around Shanghai.

Most of the investments of American citizens are centered in the Yangtsze valley with headquarters in Shanghai. As for the British, their investments also center in the Yangtsze valley and in south China, but the Japanese have two-thirds of their money invested in southern Manchuria, centering in the South Manchuria railway and subsidiary enterprises. Russian investments made by the late Czarist government are exclusively in northern Manchuria and are concerned chiefly with the now soviet controlled Chinese Eastern railway.

While much is heard about China's defaults on foreign loans, Prof. Remer's report discloses the fact that only one-third of foreign investments in China are represented in loans to the Chinese government, the remaining two-thirds being represented in the investments of business concerns which are mainly interested in the sale of foreign products or services to the Chinese people. Prof. Remer's report was also concerned with the matter of remittances by Chinese residing abroad to their own country, this sum averaging from $70,000,000 to $100,000,000 annually.

Of this amount Chinese residing in the United States are credited with approximately $20,000,000 which they send back to China every year. Since most Chinese who reside abroad hail from the southern provinces of Kwangtung and Fukien, they send their money back for investment in their home districts.

In both these provinces there are innumerable villages and towns which are completely owned and supported by syndicates of Chinese residing in the United States, the Philippine islands, Siam, Straits Settlements, Australia, Dutch East Indies and elsewhere. The money which Chinese residing abroad send back to their home country performs an interesting function in enabling China to effect a "balanced budget" from the standpoint of her foreign trade, according to Prof. Remer, who stated in his report that China's purchases of foreign goods greatly exceeds her sales of Chinese goods in the world's markets.

The sending of large sums back to China by overseas Chinese residents constitutes an "invisible credit item" somewhat resembling the expenditure of American money in Europe by American tourists. While occidental methods of business involve the investment of American and other foreign capital in China, the Chinese methods of business involve the investment of Chinese families abroad who send their savings and business profits back to China.

Prof. Remer's survey of financial conditions in China was made under the auspices of the social science research council of New York, in which connection he had the assistance of similar organizations in other countries.

New York, May 25.—The stock market went from bad to worse today. Selling converged once more on the market leaders, carrying them and the rest after them down to fresh depths. United States Steel sank to 94¼, its lowest yet and finished only fractionally better, with a net loss of more than 4 points. American Can gave up another 4 points or so, American Telephone did likewise and such issues as General Electric, Eastman Kodak, Columbia Carbon, and American Tobacco dropped anywhere from 2 to 5 points.

Large losses still were suffered by faster movers of the list. Auburn Auto, performing as is its wont, took a tumble of 12¼ points and Peoples Gas dropped 11.

Railroad shares had a bad day generally and the utilities were a sorry looking lot. Copper shares made a brave effort to hold the fort in spite of continued bearish talk of profitless prices on the red metal and an overplus of stocks and the oils fared a lot better than they have on many Estimated receipts at Chicago tomorrow: Cattle, 5,000; hogs, 17,000; sheep, 8,000.

Live stock markets were erratic yesterday at the new low price levels established in some classes during the last week. Cattle receipts proved excessive in view of the stagnant condition of the dressed beef trade lately.

Hog receipts were short for this time of the year, but prices reacted sharply after a slightly higher opening. Best lambs held steady, while others were subjected to some of the hardest sorting of the year at sharply lower prices.

Following a steady to 10c higher opening in the hog market today, most buyers withdrew from the trade until prices settled back to a barely steady basis. Buying was done more cautiously in midsession and later when prices were worked down about 10c more, occasional sales uncovering losses of 15c and more near the close. About 5,000 were estimated left at the close.

The extreme top was up 10c at $6.80, while the general average remained unchanged at $6.30. Hog receipts are running small for this time of the year. The Chicago total at 41,000 compared with 53,940 a year ago and with 46,771 two years ago. Only four Monday totals this year have been smaller. The total at the 31 markets showed a 29 per cent decrease, compared with a year ago and a 34 per cent decrease compared with two years ago.

Today's Hogs Bid $6.60.

Hogs averaging 170@210 lbs for today's delivery were bid $6.60 on the "to arrive" market yesterday, but no offers were made to sell at this figure. Hogs averaging 210@260 lbs carried bids of $6.50 and 260@310 lb averages were bid $6.00.

Trading in future months was practically at a standstill, with bids and offers far apart. June light weights were bid $6.25 for the first half of the month. Light weights for September were offered at $8.00 for the last half. September mediums were offered at $7.75 for the last half and bid $7.25 for the first half. Heavy for September were offered at $7.90 and bid $7.25.

The demoralized condition of the cattle trade was not improved any by the burdensome supply of 18,000 head which the country unloaded yesterday, in spite of the advice of the trade to hold back until some of the surplus of beef can be worked off. Fresh receipts were augmented by some cattle carried over from last week's market.

Fat steers from Iowa and Illinois predominated yesterday, although shipments of long fed cattle came from as far as Nebraska, South Dakota, and Wyoming. Very few steers were eligible to the $8.00 mark, while bulk of sales held at $6.50@7.25, the plainest grades going at $5.50 and below. Cows and heifers suffered another setback. Calves were steady to lower.

Buck Lambs Rejected.

For the first time this season and earlier than ever before packers are rejecting all buck lambs from the supply of springers. They sell at $1.00 discount in price. Best strong weight spring lambs are selling at $10.00@10.25, with buck lambs at $9.00@9.25, while culls go at $7.50 and below, according to quality.

Packers are making a determined effort to reduce the cost of inferior quality lambs, which have dropped sharply in price on the wholesale market lately. Sorting is the hardest of the year. Prime medium weight wool lambs reached $9.25, while 99 lb shorn stock sold at $8.35. Packers held the advantage yesterday in spite of the fact that receipts at 10,000 were smallest for Monday since last August.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION FILED IN EAST AGAINST AM. BOND & MORTGAGE

Portland, Me., May 25.—(AP)—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against the American Bond and Mortgage company, whose original holdings were said to have totaled $80,000,000, were filed in Federal court here today in a petition claiming alleged liabilities of $5,000,000. The concern has head offices in Chicago.

The petitioners, which included the Royal Indemnity company, claimed the latter concern agreed to guarantee payment of principal and bond interest up to $540,000 on deposit of securities having a value of not less than five per cent of that figure. The petition declared the value of the securities had dropped from $27,000 to $4,000 and the mortgage company had declined to make further deposit.

The petition claimed that preferential payments to New York officers of the company materially reduced assets and individual petitioners charged the concern failed to redeem bond interest coupons or principal.

Mortgages on hotels and business blocks in many cities failed to yield the company expected returns, the petition stated, because of widespread decline in real estate values.

An equity action, filed in August, 1930, in the Maine Supreme court, sought a receivership. The proceedings were postponed two weeks ago by illness of the petitioner's counsel. The company was reorganized after the equity bill was filed.

The United States department of justice on April 23 announced it had received a "flood of complaints" from stockholders and that it would conduct an investigation.

Chicago Bondholders Buy Omaha Bldg. at Auction

Omaha, Neb., May 25.—(AP)—A representative of Harry G. Zimmerman of Chicago, who in turn represented a bond holders committee, today bought the 17 story Medical Arts building here under foreclosure, for $850,000 at a public auction. Edgar M. Moraman Jr., Omaha attorney for Zimmerman, said that 98 per cent of the $2,000,000 bonds outstanding on the building were represented by the latter. The foreclosure suit on the building was brought several months ago by Phillip Kent of Chicago, as trustee for the bond holders, against the Dodge Building corporation, composed chiefly of Chicago men.

Begin Hearing on North Shore Road Securities

Hearings on a petition of the government to restrain the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee Electric railway from issuing, in the future, securities without the consent of the interstate commerce commission, began yesterday before Federal Judge Woodward. The government, represented by Elmer B. Collins, special assistant attorney general, contends that the road is an interstate carrier. The company claims that it is an interurban carrier and does not come under the jurisdiction of the interstate commission. The hearings will require several days.

COURT REJECTS G. E. RADIO TUBE PATENT CLAIM

Washington, D. C., May 25.—(AP)—The judgment of the Circuit Court of Appeals, sustaining the patent granted Dr. Irving Langmuir in 1925 on vacuum tubes used in radio and other speech-reproduction processes, was reversed today by the Supreme court. The patent is owned by the General Electric company. It was attacked by the De Forest Radio company, which contended that unless the Langmuir patents were set aside General Electric would have a virtual monopoly of the radio tube now in common use.

It pointed out that the present day tube was used also for other purposes than radio transmission.

The suit was filed in Delaware by the General Electric company in 1929 and its patent was held invalid by Federal Judge Morris. His decision was sustained on the first appeal, but on rehearing the Third Circuit Court of Appeals reversed Judge Morris and held the patent obtained by Langmuir in 1925 valid.

GRAIN MARKETS SLIP DOWNWARD, REACH NEW LOWS

Stock Market Decline Is Depressing Factor.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The grain markets again slipped gradually downward yesterday, with July wheat, all deliveries of corn except the May, and September and December oats selling at a new low for the season. Weakness in the stock market and more favorable weather conditions in the southwest were the main depressing influences. Lack of aggressive support as much as anything was regarded by some operators as responsible for the steady downward movement in grains.

An outstanding feature in the trade for some time past has been the lack of investment buying despite the record or near record low prices, and December corn at the inside yesterday touched 46¾c, or within 2c of the inside figure on the post-war readjustment in 1921.

The wheat trade was without the guidance of the foreign markets throughout the day, owing to holidays in Liverpool, Winnipeg and Buenos Aires, and while there was a fair rally after an early break, the finish was easy, with net losses of ⅛@⅛c, with September going to a discount of ¾c under the July at the last. The latter closed at 53⅝c to 53½c, while December was 61¼c. Old May gained ⅛c at 83¼c, while new May was 1¼c lower at 85c, buying of old against sales of new narrowing the spread.

Harvest Nears in Texas.

July wheat at the inside touched 81c, with scattered commission houses on the selling side early, and the trade is commencing to look forward to the movement of new grain, as harvesting is expected to start in Texas this week. No damage of consequence has been claimed in that state so far or in Oklahoma, but R. O. Cromwell, the Lamson Bros. & Co. observer who returned yesterday from Kansas, expressed the belief that frost may have lowered the prospect in the latter state 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bu. However, the trade feel that there is still more than ample grain for all requirements, and continued dry weather in the American and spring wheat areas was ignored. The forecast suggested showers overnight.

Nothing was heard regarding export demand for North American wheat during the day, but interest is now being taken in new crop hard winters at the gulf, with buyers reported around 2c under Chicago September, while sellers are trying to secure ¼c under July. On the basis of a 14c export rate on wheat from Kansas City to New Orleans this would suggest a price of around 42c at the former market without adding handling, or other charges.

A decrease of 275,000 bu was shown in the domestic visible supply of wheat, making the total 191,408,000 bu, against 118,435,000 bu a year ago. Local receipts of 327 cars represented in large part a movement of grain for delivery on May contracts.

Persistent commission house and local selling was on in corn, and while the market rallied at one time in sympathy with wheat the lowest figures of the day and season were made toward the last, except on the May, and the finish was at net loss of ⅝@¾c, with May, 54½c; July, 54⅛c to 54⅝c; September, 52⅝c to 52¾c, and December, 46¾c to 46¾c. There was selling of May against purchases of July by longs, but the pit element claimed there was no selling by a leading professional.

Expect Liberal Receipts.

Cash corn handlers expect liberal receipts the balance of the week, the grain coming forward for delivery on May contracts, and from Wednesday on country run corn can be delivered in car lots on the new May. Country offerings to arrive were small and shipping demand slow. A decrease of 1,624,000 bu in the visible supply brought the total down to 13,749,000 bu, against 11,762,000 bu last year.

The oats market was on the downgrade in sympathy with other grains, with some liquidation in evidence in the May. Commission houses were on both sides of the deferred deliveries, with the finish at net losses of ¼@⅝c, May being 27¼c; July and September, 26½c, and December, 29c.

There was no pressure on rye and the close was ¼c lower to ¼c higher with May, 37c; July, 37⅝c, and September, 28½c, the latter showing the strength. Export demand was not in evidence.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

With Winnipeg and European markets generally closed yesterday there was little interest in North American cash grain for export and only odd lots of wheat were reported as having been sold. Buyers of new hard winter at the gulf were bidding around 2c under Chicago September.

Chicago handlers sold 39,000 bu corn and 50,000 bu oats to the domestic trade with 75,000 bu oats to go to store. Deliveries on May contracts aggregated 5,000 bu wheat, 104,000 bu corn, 20,000 bu oats, and 21,000 bu rye.

There is a crush of wheat to the local market for delivery on May contracts, receipts being the largest in some weeks, but the offerings of country run grain were not large and the spot basis showed little change. No. 1 red and hard was 1¼@1½c over May with No. 1 northern 1@1¼c over, while No. 2 red and hard was 1@1¼c over and No. 2 northern, May price to ½c over.

Basis on cash corn was steady to ¼c higher, although the shipping demand was again slow. No. 2 mixed was May price to ¼c under; yellow, ¼@¾c over, and white, ½@1c over, while No. 3 mixed was ¾@1c under; yellow, May price to 1c under, and white, May price to ½c under.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Lowering of grain prices daily is bring increased support and trade is constantly are looking for further recessions. The impression prevails that a record winter wheat harvest in the southwest will result in prospects of lower prices, unless something happens within the next 10 days to threaten the good prospects in that section of the west and uncertainty in the spring wheat west, those who believe prices are low enough, are taking on a little wheat on breaks, but they do not show much the disposition being to limit losses.

Harvesting of wheat in east Texas and southern Oklahoma is expected to start about June 1, as indicated by reports to the Santa Fe railway. Most of Texas will harvest a little later on good yields are expected. Most of Kansas is mainly in the Arkansas river valley, and while killing frosts and early vegetables, had no appreciable effect on wheat. The same and vegetables will be replanted.

LARD MARKET EASIER

Shorts, hedgers, and liquidation were heavy sellers of lard yesterday, and closed also selling credited to eastern houses who have been large buyers of late. Business centered mainly in September, and its losses were 2½c, except on October, which was unchanged. Bellies were neglected with only nominal prices. Liverpool was closed. Export clearances of lard for the week are 9,711,000 lbs, compared with 2,383,000 lbs last year. Of bacon they were 1,111,000 lbs, compared with 4,111,000 lbs a year ago. MANITOBA WHEAT POOL CONSIDERS PROPOSAL FOR USE OF FUTURES

WINNIPEG, Man., May 25.—(AP)—A proposal regarded as involving use of the futures market by the Manitoba wheat pool is being submitted to the pool's members. Up to now the western Canadian pools have denied the futures market is necessary in marketing Canadian wheat.

The proposal is one of two plans occupying the attention of dominion wheat farmers, who face a crisis because of depression in the world market. The second is the premier pool conditional request for a wheat board for all Canada.

The first proposal calls for a drastic change in the cooperatives' plan of disposal of wheat, which, if approved, will go into effect June 1. To stabilize pool finances and give the farmer a larger payment for his wheat, the pool proposes to change its method of pay ment so that he will receive the entire wheat price immediately upon delivery. Under the present system part payment is made upon delivery, and the rest is paid when the grain is actually sold by the pool.

In the altered contract, which would be substituted should the proposal be approved, all members would agree to deliver their wheat to the Manitoba Pool Elevators, Ltd., subsidiary of the pool. This is regarded as particularly significant because it presages use by the pool of the futures market.

Since the pools were organized in the west eight years ago, they have been adamant in their refusal to recognize the futures market as essential to the marketing of Canadian wheat. By "hedging," or selling grain for future delivery against what ever grain is delivered under the open market system, the pool would be able, it is contended, to obtain larger bank advances, thereby enabling more substantial payments to pool members.

RAILROAD NOTES

The proposal to increase the joint freight rate on interstate traffic, in effect, moving between industries in the Chicago switching district on the Chicago and North Western, on our lines, and the Pennsylvania and Arlington on the other, from 2.5 cents to 1 cents per 100 pounds, has been held to be justified by the interstate commerce commission.

A program for equipping six more of the railroad's passenger cars with new style, individual, "bucket type" seats, is announced by Charles H. Jones, general manager of the Chicago, South Shore and South Bend railroad.

other days of unpleasant memory when the market was going to pot.

News was not of a character calculated to weigh very heavily on the market and it seemed that prices fell, as they have in so many similar sessions here of late, more from a lack of nearby demand than anything in the way of concerted short selling. Undoubtedly there was some selling for the bear account and probably, too, some still overburdened strong boxes were further lightened during the course of the day. Perhaps the trading fraternity did not find much encouragement in the remarks of the head of the treasury department relative to the outlook for increased taxes.

Steel Shares Weaken.

Steel shares and issues of corporations allied with this industry were obviously still suffering from the outspoken discussion of conditions by the head of the United States Steel corporation and others heard at the steel institute meeting. Bethlehem sagged more than a point in the wake of the group leader, Vanadium dropped nearly 4 and Byers more than 3 on further heavy selling.

Brisk selling developed in General Motors. The premier of the automobile group continued to offer a fair measure of resistance to pressure, but it was forced to yield gradually to within striking distance of its low levels for the bear market. Other motor shares were relatively quiet, though leaning to heaviness.

The selling in the automobile group, it should have been noted, coincided with reports in circulation to the effect that the pace for retail sales had slackened considerably of late. Such a development might be viewed as a purely seasonal occurrence, but presumably the bearish interpretation placed on these reports was due to the fact that until now it had been expected that motor industry would reach its peak later than usual this year.

Several of the chemical shares sold to new lows, Allied Chemical losing more than 4 points on the day's business, and the current dislike for the amusement group was registered in declines of a point or so in Fox and Radio Keith and about twice this in Loew's.

Eye Utility Selling.

The growing weakness of the utility group came in for considerable attention in view of the absence of any news to explain the selling of these shares. It would seem, however, that the persistent liquidation in progress in American Telephone, Western Union and one or two of the power stocks, like American Water Works, has been disturbing the confidence of investors in the ability of the group to maintain itself if the decline of the general market continues. The utilities have been among the last of market groups to give way on the decline and it may be that many holders reckon that their time has at last come and that they cannot be expected to hold up without any support on either side.

Chicago Board of Trade Stocks

Hint at Merger.

The narrowness of the gap between prices on Standard Oil company of New Jersey and Standard of California is held by many to reflect the market's belief that a merger of the two on a share for share exchange basis is a probability—providing the government fails to prevent the Standard of New York and Vacuum Oil combination.

Neglected by Bears.

American Light and Traction is selling on a higher yield basis than it has for some time. Although the stock has been neglected by the professional bear element which has been hammering away at a large number of the utility issues in the last two weeks, it has suffered from scattered selling by long term holders.

Goodyear Tire.

Extensive liquidation of Goodyear Tire a short time ago, when certain changes in direction of Continental Shares and disposal of brokerage business of Otis & Co. were announced, led to much speculation over the future of Goodyear. It had been supposed that Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland some day would try to merge the leading tire companies. It is asserted on good authority that Mr. Eaton's holdings of Goodyear have not been disposed of and that much of the Goodyear stock recently sold went into banking hands friendly to him.

OMITS PAYMENT.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—Bleachable cottonseed oil was weak today, closing 36 to 50 points net lower, with all deliveries at new low levels for the season and the lowest in several years. The weakness of cotton, where new season's lows were established, better cotton weather conditions, weakness of Wall street, grains and lard, all contributed toward liquidation of accounts. Support was poor and largely from shorts. There were rumors of tallow sales at 3½c, or ½c net lower. Refiners sold Sept. crude nominal; bleachable spot and May closed 6.29c; July 6.50c, Sept. 6.45c, Dec. 6.10c. Prime summer yellow contracts were neglected with closing prices as follows: Spot, 6.25c; May, 6.00c; July, 6.35@6.38c; Sept., 6.25c, and Dec., 6.10c.

COFFEE.

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—COFFEE futures were generally quiet but steady here today, with light offerings being absorbed by Brazilian buying. The holiday in European markets restricted business. No. 7 contracts closed 2 lower to 1 higher. Sales, 4,000. Santos closed unchanged to 2 lower. Sales, 2,000. Closing quotations: Santos contracts, July, 8.85c; Sept., 8.90c; Dec., 8.94c; March, 8.97c; May, 9.01c. No. 7 prices follow:

	Prev.	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	close.
July	8.85	8.85	8.93	8.83	8.85
Sept.	6.00	6.01	6.06	5.98	5.98@	5.99
Dec.	6.06	6.08	6.06	6.06	6.06	6.09

Spot coffee quiet. Rio 7s, 6c; Santos 4s, 9@9½c. Brazilian port receipts, 40,000; Jundiahy, 19,000 bags.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, May 25.—(AP)—Continued declines in raw cotton created a softer market for cotton yarn and goods today. Easier levels were reported on contracts of goods of print cloth yarns, and some other cloths were subject to concession. Fine cotton goods markets were quiet. Easier prices obtained on rayons and also acetate process gray goods. Mock crepes sold better. Rayon yarns were quiet and silk merchandise slow. In burlap markets spots demands continued current, with some interest shown also in futuris shipment.

ZINC DEMAND QUIET.

Demand for zinc is quieter, with prime western zinc at 3.30 cents a pound, East St. Louis. The amount available at that price is small, however, as most large producers are unwilling to sell under 3.35 cents.

Why pay more than Household's low rate?

The nationally advertised Household Finance Plan offers cash loans of $50 to $1000 to husbands and wives at reasonable rates.

Loans above $100 and up to $300 are made at a rate approximately one-third less than the rate permitted by the Small Loan Law.
